BOND ELECTION DELAY ADVISED

May Date Recommended by Dominguez

Would Give Electors Chance to Register

Water Financing Vote Will Cost $120,000

In the event of a special election for water bonds being ordered this spring, City Clerk Dominguez, who will have charge of the voting, will ask City Council to appropriate $120,000 to cover the cost. The budget does not include such a sum for conducting elections, as this is the off-year for city elections, and Mr. Dominguez did not anticipate a special call.

DELAY ADVISED

While the Board of Water and Power Commissioners has proposed April 8 as the date, Mr. Dominguez has suggested that it be postponed until the first Tuesday in May. This will enable additional voters to take part in the election. Mr. Dominguez explained that the 1928-29 registration dies March 31. The 1930-31 registration is now going forward. If the election were to be called for April 8, the registration books will close March 1, thus cutting off many prospective voters. By postponing the matter a month, many additional voters will be able to register.

Three years ago the amendment to the city charter, proposed and sponsored by Mr. Dominguez, which had as its purpose the reduction in costs of elections, became effective. Since that time the amendment has saved the taxpayers approximately $140,000. During the coming two years Mr. Dominguez expects the savings accruing from the amendment will mean another $12[illegible]000. Of this sum $40,000 will be saved in the proposed special election and $80,000 in the regular 1931 elections.

CLERK COMMENDED

Due to the unprecedented growth of the city, the Board of Supervisors has increased the number of city precincts to 1850, thus demanding additional election boards, polling places, election supplies, stock, postage, delivery and labor.

On many occasions Mr. Dominguez has been commended highly for his unflagging industry in behalf of the people and his consistent policy of rigid economy in the expenditure of public funds.

GLAB CASE REOPENING INDICATED

Friend of Murdered Man's Widow Under Arrest in Auto-Death Charge

Capt. William J. Bright of the Sheriff's homicide squad, and Capt. Ray Cato of the police department homicide detail, will confer today with a member of the District Attorney's office over the question of reopening the Glab murder case. John R. Glab, wealthy retired druggist, was mysteriously shot on the front lawn of his Ventura Blvd. home, June 18, 1928.

The question of digging up the records of the case arose when W. R. McIntyre, former Los Angeles policeman, who was friendly with Mrs. Hazel Glab at the time of her husband's murder, was arrested on an automobile manslaughter charge Saturday. At the time of the murder McIntyre was drawn into the case and questioned, but the police and District Attorney gained little from him.

McIntyre's arrest Saturday followed Capt. Bright's investigation of the death of Mrs. Margaret T[illegible], who was killed by a hit-and-run driver on January 1, last, at Atlantic and Hubbard avenues. It was learned later that the machine belonged to McIntyre. With him at the time of the accident, Capt. Bright asserts, was Miss [illegible] Burroughs, a stenographer. The girl and F. C. Simmons with whom McIntyre lived at 514 Delaware Road, were booked on suspicion of manslaughter charges, also. Capt. Bright and Cato with the Assistant District Attorney will question both McIntyre and the girl for any new light they may throw on the Glab death mystery.

HERRON RESIGNATION TENDERED TO WERNER

Mark Herron, first assistant to City Attorney Werner, yesterday filed his resignation with his chief, effective March 1, next. In resigning he points out that when he accepted appointment as Mr. Werner's first assistant July 1, 1929, he planned to remain in the City Attorney's office for a year. The press of business in the legal partnership of Burke, Camarillo & Herron, which he left temporarily when appointed by Werner, requires that he return to the private practice of law. In resigning Mr. Herron expresses keen regret. Mr. Werner, declaring that he accepts the resignation with reluctance, extended his thanks to Herron for spending the past seven months in helping him reorganize the City Attorney's office.

RIVER PEACE DOUBTED

Arizona Fears Impasse

Commission Says Imperial Valley Demands Render Accord Impossible

Ambitions of Boulder Bill Cited to Back Charge of Unreasonableness

PHOENIX, Feb. 3. (AP)—Charles [illegible] Ward, chairman of the Arizona Colorado River Commission, and John Mason Ross, commission secretary, in an interview here tonight, said: "Imperial Valley has felt justified in enlarging its water demand to a point where a peaceable solution of this problem seems quite impossible."

John Mason Ross, commission secretary, joined with Ward in expressing what they indicated to be the feeling of the Arizona delegation in general as regards the negotiations at Reno, and the possibility of further negotiations here.

STATEMENT ISSUED

Answering a statement of Mark Rose, a director of the Imperial Valley Irrigation District, that a minimum of 4,400,000 acre-feet of Colorado River water will be demanded for the agricultural interest of Southern California, Ward and Ross, in a joint statement, declared:

"That assumes that Arizona should give California substantially all of the water of the river that is available for division in the lower basin, primarily because the Imperial Valley can appropriate and use it more quickly and at less cost than Arizona.

"If the United States government should offer to assist Arizona with an appropriation of $40,000,000 of federal moneys without interest, there is no doubt that Arizona could use the waters of the river."

The Arizona commissioners said these waters could be more readily and more cheaply put to use in Arizona on lands along the river than in Southern California. They pointed out that Arizona's use of the waters would provide a remedy to the river "to help [illegible] the Mexican burden, [illegible] every drop of water that is diverted into the Imperial Valley, which Mr. Rose proposes the valley should have, will be gone [illegible], since there is no return [illegible]."

CHIEF BENEFICIARY

"Imperial Valley will be the principal beneficiary of the Boulder Dam project if it is completed," the commissioners continued, "as it will get flood control protection without cost, and will pay nothing for storage or delivery of water from the reservoir to Imperial and Coachella valleys, a concession made to no one else in the basin.

"The waters of the river will be

Mexican Quota Bill Flayed

Garner Warns of Menace to Agricultural Interests of Southwest

Proposes Seasonal Permit Clause to Meet Crop Labor Needs

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Enactment of the proposed quota restriction on Mexican immigration without making provision to meet the serious labor shortage which would be visited on southwestern agriculture "would be a grave mistake on the part of Congress," Representative Garner of Texas, Democratic leader in the House, said in a statement today.

"I had hoped," he said, "that the Immigration Committee would make a thorough investigation of conditions in the Southwest before reporting a bill, and then make such amendments as would adequately meet the needs of the agricultural interests of that section of the country."

Representative Garner represents a district which runs for more than 600 miles along the Mexican border and having been born and reared at Uvalde, on the international line, believes he can qualify as an accredited witness on the

PORTES GIL IN CABINET

Ortiz Rubio Aids Announced

Retiring President and Gen. Almazan Lead Notable List

Special Trains Carry Vast Throng to Inaugural Tomorrow

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 3. (AP)—The official Cabinet list of President-elect Ortiz Rubio was made public tonight.

Its chief features are the presence of Provisional President Portes Gil at the Ministry of the Interior, and the advent of the brilliant young Federal general, Juan Andreu Almazan to Cabinet rank as Secretary for Communications and Public Works.

Two other members of the Portes Gil Cabinet, Secretary of War Amaro, and Secretary of the Treasury Montes De Oca, keep their posts. Acting Foreign Secretary Estrada is raised to the rank of full Secretary.

RIVAL GETS POST

Manuel Perez Trevino, president of the National Revolutionary Party and campaign manager for Ortiz Rubio, is Secretary of Agriculture, and Luis Leon, secretary-general of the party and Secretary of Agriculture under former President Calles, is Secretary for Industry, Commerce and Labor.

Aaron Saenz, Governor of Nuevo Leon, who was defeated by Ortiz Rubio for the party nomination, is Secretary of Education.

Jose Manuel Puig Cassauranc continues in office as Chief of the Federal District.

INAUGURAL TOMORROW

Lieut.-Col. E. Hernandez Chazaro, who accompanied President-elect Ortiz Rubio on his recent trip through the United States, will be private secretary to the President. Gen. Agustin More, former commander of the Mexico City garrison, will be chief of the Presidential military staff.

Jose Aguilar y Maya will be Attorney-General and Dr. Rafael Silva, chief of the Public Health Service.

Senor Portes Gil will bid farewell to the Diplomatic Corps tomorrow, and President-elect Ortiz Rubio will meet the corps on Thursday, the day after his inauguration.

Arrival here of four special trains tomorrow will swell to some 5000 the number of American visitors to the inauguration of Senor Ortiz Rubio as President Wednesday.

A San Diego Chamber of Commerce group will arrive in the morning and three other specials in the afternoon.

Several hundred from the southwestern States came in last night on a special rounted through El Paso, Tucson, Albuquerque, Phoenix, Salt Lake City and Santa Fe. Gov. Dillon of New Mexico and Mrs. Dillon were in this party.

CONTRACT SIGNED FOR WORLD HOP

John Henry Mears Will Make Flight This Summer With Balchen as Pilot

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3. (AP)—John Henry Mears, record round-the-world traveler and New York theatrical producer, tonight signed a contract here with Herbert Fahy of the Detroit Aircraft Corporation to make another world flight next summer.

The flight, Mears said, will be wholly by plane and will cover 19,400 miles. It will be from New York to Harbor Grace, N. F.; Island of Olympia, Ireland; Moscow, Komigar, Siberia; Novsabiask, Siberia; Chita, Siberia; Vladivostok, Tokio, Petropavlovsko, Kamchatka, Seward, Alaska; Seattle, Wash., and non-stop back to New York.

He will have with him as a pilot Bernt Balchen, who piloted Rear-Admiral Richard Byrd over the South Pole. The plane will be a Lockheed-Vega equipped with a 425-horsepower Wasp motor.

Mears completed his last round-the-world flight with the late Capt. C. B. D. Collyer in 1928, flying 11,500 miles in twenty-three days and fifteen hours. In 1913 he circled the globe in thirty-five days, twenty-one hours and thirty-five minutes.

SUSPENSE RULES ANTARCTIC

Byrd's Men Wait Word of Relief Ship's Progress; Time Drags as Ice Pack Bars Entry

BY RUSSELL OWEN

[Copyright, 1930, by The Los Angeles Times, New York Times and St. Louis Post-Dispatch. All rights for publication reserved throughout the world.]

LITTLE AMERICA (Antarctica) Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The New York has been ordered by Admiral Byrd to cruise up and down the edge of the pack ice to look for a possible lead that will permit it to come south. So that everything will be in readiness if she does get through men are packing up ready to leave. We will know in a week or ten days whether it is the whim of the Antarctic to open that ridge barrier she has thrown across her portals this year, or whether it is to remain closed.

Today is gray and silent. An invisible light, an internal luminosity, shines in the shroud of white above us. A few flakes of snow drift down from the unseen clouds. There is no horizon except to the north, where the sky lowers on the edge of the barrier, black over the open sea. In this mood it is a sullen land.

PUPPIES CAN PLAY

The puppies play about on the snow, knocking each other over, tugging at a piece of seal meat, growling the while. They squeak and bark with a quavering note like that of a boy whose voice is changing. They come up tail wagging and ears cocked, looking mischievous. They yap and tug at one's boots as if to invite one to play. This is a good enough place for them so long as the seal meat lasts, although the other day when the wind was blowing and the snow drifting they were dismayed.

It was their first severe storm and the wind rumpled their coats and tufted them with snow, until they looked like tiny bedraggled woolly sheep, with their black eyes peering out disconsolately from the encircling rim of snow-matted hair. Then they sought shelter in our vestibule, coming down through the house tunnels, huddling in corners, backing away when anyone approached, and yelping as if begging not to be put out in the blustery world.

Wonder what they would do if they were put down in a green meadow with sweet-smelling grass and weeds to roll on, with queer

SHIP RADIOS SEA CRISIS NOW PAST

Steamer Willfaro Rushes to Aid of Lumber Schooner Which Loses Deck Cargo

SEATTLE, Feb. 3. (AP)—Shortly after flashing an SOS call for assistance, the steam schooner John C. Kirkpatrick, with a crew of twenty-nine men, which was north of Gray's Harbor on its way to San Francisco, later tonight reported that it is "in no immediate danger."

The ship messaged that its pumps were keeping it afloat after part of its deck cargo had been lost. The harbor radio station here interpreted the message as indicating the ship had struck a sudden squall.

The steamer Willfaro is speeding to the ship's assistance. The John C. Kirkpatrick gave its location as latitude 47.25, longitude 124.45, and the Willfaro as latitude 46.29, longitude 124.45.

The John C. Kirkpatrick, owned by Andrew F. Mahoney and registered in San Francisco, left Everett, Wash., yesterday with 1,500,000 feet of lumber. The ship, formerly named the Robert C. Sudden and Hadruimete, was built at Oakland in 1917.

JAPAN'S ROYAL COUPLE WED

Ancient Ceremonial Before Sacred Shrine Crowns Nuptials for Prince Takamatsu

TOKIO, Feb. 4. (Tuesday.) (AP)—To the spirit of the sun goddess, Amaterasu, divine ancestors of the 124 emperors of Japan; to the eighty myriads of the gods of Shinto and all the ancestors of the imperial house the marriage was announced this morning of Prince Takamatsu, second younger brother of Emperor Hirohito, and Princess Kikuko Tokugawa.

According to a ritual handed down from the dawn of the race, the principal wedding ceremony was performed in the imperial palace before the Kashikodokoro, "the place of awe," the sanctuary in which is enshrined the sacred mirror, symbol of the sun goddess.

Only princes and princesses of the blood, representatives of the Emperor and Empress, relatives of the bride and court ritualists looked on. Bowing before the sanctuary the Prince and his bride quaffed the sacred cups of sakeh (rice wine) in token of their pledges of union.

The wedding joins the oldest reigning house in the world and the once all-powerful House of Tokugawa, whose Shoguns, established at Yedo, now Tokio, in 1603, actually ruled the empire during two and a half centuries of peaceful aloofness from the world while the emperors lived in cloistered seclusion at Kyoto.

The little 18-year-old girl who became Princess Takamatsu today is the grand-daughter of the fourteenth and last of this dynasty, Keiki, who handed back the power to the imperial house in 1868.

Prince and Princess Takamatsu will be the first Japanese imperial couple to journey abroad for their honeymoon. In April they are to sail for England by way of the Suez Canal and in June will make a visit of state at the British court, to return that of Prince Henry, Duke of Gloucester, to Japan last May, when the third son of King George V journeyed to Tokio to invest the Emperor with the Order of the Garter. Thereafter they will travel in Europe and return home across the United States, probably early next year.

Early this morning the debonair Prince Takamatsu, 25-year-old naval officer, sportsman, motorist and art connoisseur, drove in state from

FORD TO BUY SUBMARINE OF ILL-FATE

Thirty-three Men Died in S-51 Following Collision Off Block Island

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive) The ill-fated S-51, salvaged submarine which has rested in the Brooklyn navy yard for nearly three years, will be added to Henry Ford's museum collection of Americana, horse cars, old violins, colonial mansions and so on.

This was learned today when Capt. Paul Dungan, industrial manager of the Brooklyn governmental reservation, appealed to Washington for $14,000 and permission to scrap the ship so that a lay off of labor could be avoided. He told authorities that the old iron and steel in the battered hulk would net at least $9000 sold as junk, but was informed that the government will not scrap the ship.

It then developed that the Navy Department is planning to sell the S-51, which was sunk off Block Island on Sept. 25, 1925, in a collision with the City of Rome. Thirty-three men of the submersible's crew perished and in raising the hull almost a year later unique engineering feats were evolved. The S-51 finally was raised by means of huge air-filled drums, and with their aid towed to the navy yard.

Nonunionists' Hotel Bombed

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 3. (AP)—A bomb hurled through the plate-glass window of a pharmacy in the Commodore Hotel today did several thousand dollars' damage to the hotel and near-by buildings in the South Side apartment section.

CHIEF JUSTICE TAFT QUITS; HUGHES WILL GET POST

Hoover Phones Former Secretary of State in New York and Receives His Acceptance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—William Howard Taft resigned today as Chief Justice of the United States and President Hoover promptly nominated Charles Evans Hughes to succeed him.

Despite his failing health, the sudden voluntary ending of the public career of Mr. Taft with its span of forty years came as a public surprise, but little more so than did the selection of the former Secretary of State as his successor.

The resignation of the only man to be both President and Chief Justice was presented to the President just before noon by a son, Robert A. Taft. He had brought it to Washington from Ashville, where Mr. Taft had been resting for three weeks after a recurrence of an old organic ailment.

HUGHES ACCEPTS

Accepting the resignation with reluctance, Mr. Hoover determined to name a successor as speedily as possible to avoid delay in handling the business of the court.

He located Mr. Hughes in New York by long-distance telephone, offered him the post and there was a prompt acceptance.

The nomination immediately was prepared and transmitted to the Senate soon after 4 p.m. Prompt confirmation is looked for with the expectation that Mr. Hughes will take his place as Chief Justice within the very near future.

EYES ON STONE

From the moment of the announcement of the resignation of Mr. Taft until the nomination of Mr. Hughes was sent to the Senate, the belief had been fairly general in both official and Supreme Court circles that Associate Justice Harlan Fiske Stone would be elevated to the highest judicial post in the country.

By speedily filling the post, the Chief Executive cut short speculation as to Mr. Taft's probable successor.—Hughes and Stone already were being mentioned prominently, as well as former President Coolidge and Senator Borah of Idaho.

SON MUST RESIGN

Appointment of Mr. Hughes as Chief Justice will create another vacancy in the Federal service. His son, Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., will resign as solicitor-general of the United States, since this official argues the more important cases for the government before the Supreme Court.

In New York Mr. Hughes said he will accept the nomination to be chief justice. He said he will resign as a justice of the Permanent Court of International Arbitration.

Weighted alike by serious illness and his 72 years of age, William Howard Taft is returning to Washington tonight from Asheville.

TAFT VERY WEAK

Mr. Taft is "very weak and is not improving," said Dr. Francis Hagner at Asheville today, "and as he is not improving we feel that it would be safer to get him back to Washington."

The physician explained that the former President had decided to resign as Chief Justice "because we felt it would be safer for him to do so." Friends of Mr. Taft said that worries of the court were on the mind of the jurist and it was thought best to relieve him of those as quickly as might be.

WALKS TO TRAIN

Although apparently very ill, Mr. Taft was able to walk from his automobile to the Pullman car on which he is coming home. He was assisted, however, by his physician and a nurse. He took hold of the railing and pulled himself up the steps, but it was plain that it was a great effort for him to do so.

The resignation of Mr. Taft was prepared at Asheville by the Chief Justice himself during the past few days and is comparatively brief. He quoted the law governing the retirement of Federal judges and pointed out that his combined service as circuit judge and chief justice brought him within the act.

There was some question among

HIGH COURT TO CHANGE

Retirement for Justices Near

Three Members Besides Taft Already Eligible to Quit Supreme Tribunal

Hoover May Have to Appoint Successors for All But Stone During Term

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—The resignation of Chief Justice Taft and the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes to succeed him is the beginning of a reorganization of the Supreme Court.

Already three of the remaining eight members are eligible for retirement, and two more will be eligible in two years. While vacancies can be forced only by impeachment proceedings by Congress, based on disqualification, it is reasonably certain that during his present administration President Hoover will have the appointment of a majority of the members. Should President Hoover be reelected, probably only one of the present members of the court, Justice Stone, will be on the bench at the close of his second administration.

THREE NOW ELIGIBLE

Justices Holmes, Van Devanter and Brandeis are now eligible for retirement, all of them having reached the prescribed age of 70 years and having served ten years on the bench. Justice Holmes has remained on the bench because of his deep interest in his judicial duties, and because he feels that his work is beneficial to his health. He feels that, should he retire, the release from the exactions of his office might hasten death.

Justice Brandeis remains on the bench because of his keen interest in the work. He is exceptionally strong for his age and would under ordinary conditions be expected to remain there several years longer.

MAY RETIRE FIRST

Justice Van Devanter became eligible for retirement last spring and is likely to be the first of the three eligible members to retire. Justice Holmes's health remains remarkable for one of his advanced age, but under the most favorable circumstances it is regarded as doubtful whether he can remain more than a year or two. He will be 89 years of age in March.

Justices McReynolds and Sutherland both will be eligible for retirement in two years. Justice McReynolds may be expected to resign soon after becoming eligible and may not remain that long.

Justice Sutherland is in poor health. On several occasions he has been forced to absent himself from the bench because of illness.

STONE YOUNGEST

Justice Sanford will be eligible for retirement in five years, and Justice Butler in six. It will be thirteen years, however, before Jus-

COOLIDGE HISTORY BRIEF

Mountain Memorial to Commemorate Only Eight Events in North American Civilization

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Former President Coolidge's tabloid history for the Mt. Rushmore (S. D.) memorial is to be as limited in historical references as it will be sparing in words.

Eight events, considered the most epochal in the evolution of the colonies are listed for inscription. These were selected by the design committee of the memorial commission, Gutzon Borglum, designer of the project, and one of the committee, said. The sculptor is spending the winter here.

The names of Washington and Lincoln may not appear in the engraved history; the names of Jefferson and Roosevelt likely will, while Mr. Coolidge's name is certain to be etched in the granite wall of the Black Hills peak.

The memorial will consist of colossal figures of Washington, Jefferson, Lincoln and Roosevelt, and the Coolidge history, hewn upon the 1000 footside of the mountain.

The eight events which Mr. Coolidge will touch upon, include:

1776—Declaration of Independence.

1787—Framing of the Constitution.

1803—Louisiana purchase.

1846—Admission of Texas as a State.

1848—Oregon boundary settlement.

1849—Admission of California.

1865—Civil War end.

1907—Completion of the Panama Canal.

Mr. Coolidge's wordage is limited to the number that can be inscribed in a space 80x120 feet and cut in such dimensions that they may be read three miles away. Those conditions would limit the history to 500 words.

"Our monument," said Borglum, "is a memorial to the great national achievements of our western civilization, of its purpose, its methods and its accomplishments.

"The name of Washington may not appear. The name of Jefferson may; if so, in connection with the Louisiana purchase. It is doubtful whether Abraham Lincoln's name can properly appear in the text, although the personal executive act of Roosevelt brings his name automatically into the text. Mr. Coolidge's name will appear as author."

Borglum said, "I almost would prefer that we keep every name off the face of the memorial, making it simply a record of achievement.

"Then to the rear of the memorial, in Small Canyon, flanked by the same rock on which we are making our carvings, there cut the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution, the names of the Presidents and a simple statement of why the memorial was built."

RESIGNATION REMOVES GREAT NATIONAL LEADER

Taft Part of American Government More Than Quarter Century, Holding Five High Posts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Retirement of William Howard Taft as Chief Justice of the Supreme Court removes from the official life of the nation one of the outstanding figures of the times. For more than a quarter of a century he has been a part of the American government as President, Secretary of War, the first Governor-General of the Philippines, temporary governor of Cuba and later as Chief Justice.

He would not have been eligible for retirement on pay until July, 1931. Congress is expected to enact legislation to compensate him after his retirement.

Mr. Taft was appointed as Chief Justice June 30, 1921. He has worked since that date diligently and steadily to bring the business of the court up to date. His labors have resulted in greatly reducing the congestion of litigation and these efforts undoubtedly led to the impairment of his health and his subsequent decision to retire.

KEPT SMILING FACE

Mr. Taft is 72 years of age and was the twenty-seventh President of the United States. He never allowed the dignity and care of his office to change his philosophy of life. He has always possessed an ability to hold fast to a simple, cheerful philosophy. Beneath his ever smiling demeanor attacks upon his public record cut him very deeply, but he did not permit his worries to darken his outlook.

Neither has he let the traditions of high office modify his personal habits more than the circumstances made imperative.

Mr. Taft has regarded the duties of his office with that attitude which always marked his official conduct. Realizing there was a demand for the more expeditious disposition of court business, he directed efforts to obtain legislation to that end.

STUDIED ENGLISH COURTS

He went to England to study the system under which the courts of that country had prevented the accumulation of cases upon their dockets; he regularly attended meetings of the American Bar Association; he frequently appeared before Congressional committees and took advantage of every opportunity to urge methods, which, in his judgment, would help to remove causes working for delay in the Federal courts. Prohibition decisions came easy to the Chief Justice. Becoming head of the highest court after it had sustained the constitutionality of the Volstead Act, he considered all controversies arising out of its enforcement with the viewpoint that in ratifying the Eighteenth Amendment the States had intended to make the country bone dry.

Participating with the majority of the court which gave that construction to the Volstead Act, he wrote some of the more important opinions arising out of questions over methods of enforcement. In the famous wire-tapping cases he held that evidence obtained by Federal agents in listening in on telephone conversations could be legally used in the prosecution of bootleggers.

Interpreting the rum treaty with Great Britain the chief justice in the Quandra case sustained the seizure of the vessel while hovering near the Farallon Islands, twenty-five miles off San Francisco. He also held that British subjects brought into the jurisdiction of the United States when the seized vessel was taken to port could be prosecuted under the laws of this country, along with other British subjects engaged in the conspiracy to violate the dry laws who were resident in the United States at the time.

OTHER DRY DECISIONS

Other prohibition decisions which he wrote included those holding that prohibition agents in making arrests on information furnished to them could not be compelled to disclose the source of their information; forbidding State officials who profit in the distribution of fines of prohibition cases from trying such cases; sustaining prosecution under Federal laws in cases where defendants had been punished under State laws; sustaining Federal courts in taking jurisdiction over Federal prohibition officers charged with murder or other violation of State laws, and recognizing the right of the government to regulate the shipment of denatured alcohol.

Disclosing when he changed the long established procedure on taking the judicial oath that he was not to be bound down by the precedents of the court, Mr. Taft continued modifying its practices not established by statutes to simplify and make more expeditious the transaction of business. Old habitues of the court, accustomed to regard things that were as things that had to be, were horrified at his seeming disregard of customs and old methods.

Mr. Taft's infectious chuckle, his pleasing smile, his consistent good humor, were taken to the bench by him. Many tedious legal arguments were punctuated by his humorous interjections and often the solemn atmosphere of the courtroom was relieved by his hearty laugh.

PUSHES WHEELS OF JUSTICE

Chief Justice Taft has been keenly interested not only in all proposed legislation directly relating to court matters, but also has given much attention to matters relating to changes in the court's personnel. The selection of several of his colleagues on the bench has been attributed in part to him. However that may be, it is known that he expressed to President Harding his views as to the availability of persons under consideration for Supreme Court vacancies. At least two justices appointed to the bench soon after he was made Chief Justice were old friends he most eagerly welcomed.

So enthusiastic was he in clearing the docket of the court that he bent every effort to promote teamwork among his associates. No case was too small to receive his attention and the promptness with which he prepared opinions in the larger cases kept his associates keyed up to redoubled effort.

Among the more important cases in which the opinions of the court were delivered by the Chief Justice were those holding the Federal child-labor statute unconstitutional; that labor organizations could be sued; that the Railroad Labor Board Act was constitutional; sustaining Federal jurisdiction over stockyards and stockyard exchanges; upholding Federal control over State railroad rates.

The Chief Justice also delivered the opinion holding that the sanitary district of Chicago was impairing navigation on the Great Lakes by diverting too much water from Lake Michigan, and another holding that States and not the Interstate Commerce Commission had authority to compel railroads to construct union stations.

Having discharged the duties of President, the Chief Justice spoke for the court in solving controversies arising out of the office of Chief Executive. Probably the most important of these decisions established the authority of the President to remove at his pleasure officeholders appointed by him.

certain Senators as to whether such was the case, but at the White House it was stated that Mr. Taft automatically went to the judicial retired list with the acceptance of his resignation by the President.

HEARTY EATERS

Despite his sixty-four years, Mr. Taft's general physical condition was good when he took up his duties as Chief Justice. Always a hearty eater, he satisfied his appetite without restraint, depending upon violent physical exercise to control in a measure his waistline.

Court demands on his time required him to abandon golf and horseback riding and compelled him to resort to vigorous walking to keep his weight down. Living about four miles from the Capitol, where the court sits, he made it a practice to don heavy clothing and by fast walking over that distance throw himself into a perspiration.

STRAIN ON HEART

After a bath and a massage at the Capitol, he would don fresh clothing and go on the bench. The strain, imposed on advancing years, proved too much for his heart, which weakened. After several heart attacks, he yielded reluctantly to the advice of heart specialists attending him and abandoned all excessive exercise.

This required a readjustment of his food, and he was placed upon a rigid diet.

A portion of his residence was reconstructed with an electric elevator installed to save him from climbing stairs. Under protest, his exercise was restricted to half an hour's stroll each day on level ground.

HE LOST STRENGTH

The diet quickly began to show its effect in the loss of weight, which was accompanied by a loss of strength. Lines of weakness displaced the smile which had for years been characteristic, and his face became somewhat drawn.

A crucial period had, however, seemingly been passed. He had been brought to a full realization of his weak heart condition, and had yielded to the advice of the specialists. Those in close contact with him observed elasticity disappearing from his stride and a slackening of his great capacity for work. He began to tire quickly.

VISITS HALF-BROTHER

When the Supreme Court ended its term in June, 1929, the chief justice, in a much run-down condition, decided to visit his brother, Charles P. Taft, at Cincinnati, before going to his summer home at Murray Bay, Can. The half-brothers visited many places in Cincinnati which had been identified with the chief justice's early life in that city.

These efforts proved fatiguing. Mr. Taft returned here in an exhausted condition and submitted to hospital treatment before going to Murray Bay. The summer passed without any restorative effect, and his bad physical condition was irritated by an accident while riding in his automobile. Reluctantly he was obliged to abandon his annual birthday party, which for years had been a distinct feature in his life.

The return of a bladder trouble further complicated his condition, but with all of the discouraging developments he remained steadily at his post, not missing a session of the court. Then Charles P. Taft died. Greatly depressed by the loss of a comrade as well as brother, the chief justice insisted upon attending the funeral.

Returning here on last January 4, Mr. Taft, thoroughly depressed as well as disease weakened, went directly to the Capitol from the station to attend a conference of his colleagues. When he reached home, his condition was such that a physician was called to attend him. It was decided that he should enter a hospital at once, and when his condition permitted he was taken to Asheville.

SON OF HUGHES WILL RESIGN POSITION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes, Jr., Solicitor-General of the Department of Justice, will resign because his father is to be Chief Justice of the United States. The Department of Justice late this afternoon issued this statement:

"It was announced at the Department of Justice today that it is understood that upon Mr. Charles E. Hughes, Sr., becoming Chief Justice, Mr. Charles E. Hughes, Jr., will resign as Solicitor-General."

The Solicitor-General represents the government in cases before the Supreme Court.

Charles E. Hughes, Jr., accepted the appointment of Solicitor-General at the request of President Hoover and Atty.-Gen. Mitchell, whom he succeeded in the important office.

HUGHES APPOINTMENT PLEASES NAVAL DELEGATES

LONDON, Feb. 4. (Tuesday) (AP)—Members of the American delegation to the five-power naval conference said today they were delighted to hear that Charles Evans Hughes had accepted the nomination to be Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court.

Secretary of State Stimson and his colleagues intend to send Mr. Hughes personal messages of congratulations.

The news that President Hoover had nominated Mr. Hughes arrived in London too late to arouse any detailed comment in British official circles.

TAFT RESTING WELL ON JOURNEY NORTH

GREENSBORO (N. C.) Feb. 3. (AP)—William Howard Taft, who resigned as Chief Justice of the United States today, was asleep when his train arrived here at 10:51 o'clock tonight. Dr. Francis Hagner, his physician, said Mr. Taft retired shortly after leaving Asheville late this afternoon and apparently had been sleeping soundly.

Dr. Hagner said Mr. Taft's condition tonight was in pleasing contrast from that of last night, when he was a very sick man.

Mr. Taft was quoted as being pleased with the appointment of Charles Evans Hughes as his successor.

HIGHEST COURT REVISION NEAR

tice Stone will reach the retirement age of 70.

Much speculation is developing as to the character of the court which is reasonably certain to be reorganized by President Hoover.

Judge Hughes's selection as Chief Justice will leave the court divided as at present on all questions of national importance. This is particularly true in such matters as rate regulation of railroads and public utilities, although as counsel he recently urged upon the court a construction of the methods which the Interstate Commerce Commission should follow in railroad valuation for rate-making purposes which the court did not follow.

HUGHES CALLED DRY

Should subsequent appointments which are bound to follow during this administration be of the character of that made today, the court's general attitude will remain what is termed conservative by some and reactionary by others.

Judge Hughes's views on prohibition are much in line with those of the retiring Chief Justice, and his selection is expected to cause no change in the attitude of the court on that much-discussed question.

EVANGELIST PAYS WOMAN'S RUM FINE

HARTFORD CITY (Ind.) Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Rev. Samuel Polovina, evangelist of Upland, took pity on Mrs. Dacie Clark, 65 years of age, of Muncie, who has been in the County Jail here for the last twenty days for intoxication, and paid her fine, gaining her release. Reciting passages of Scripture to the woman, he told her to "Go and sin no more."

REAR-ADMIRAL HOWARD RETIRED, DIES IN EAST

NEWPORT (R. I.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Rear-Admiral William L. Howard, U.S.N., retired, died today. He was born at Plainfield, Ct., in 1860 and graduated from the Naval Academy in 1882. Interment will be at Arlington National Cemetery.

Couple Would Enjoin 'In-Laws'

SAN JOSE, Feb. 3. (AP)—Legal action to prevent a mother-in-law and two sisters-in-law from ever again visiting their home here, was taken today by Mr. and Mrs. Urban A. Kammerer after Kammerer dropped divorce proceedings against his wife.

Mr. and Mrs. Kammerer have asked the Superior Court for a permanent injunction preventing Mrs. Etta Christman and her daughters, Mrs. Laura Rountree and Miss Ruth Christman, all of San Francisco, mother and sisters of Mrs. Kammerer, from visiting or telephoning the Kammerers.

LOS ANGELES LAWYER TO HEAD U.C. ALUMNI

BERKELEY, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Samuel M. Haskins, Los Angeles attorney, today was announced as the nominee for the presidency of the University of California Alumni Association. He has served as vice-president and will succeed Judge Everett J. Brown of Oakland as the nomination is equivalent to election. Haskins was graduated in 1893, was a football player of note during his college days, is a Delta Kappa Epsilon and a member of the Golden Bear, honor society. He is president of the California Club, Los Angeles.

ROWER SAVED FROM PLUNGE OVER FALLS

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—After drifting helplessly throughout the night in an open boat, his oars having been shattered by ice, Harry Bartley, 24 years of age, of Niagara Falls, N. Y., was rescued today just 300 yards from the brink of the falls. Weak from exposure he was seen to rise from a reclining position in his frail craft as the roar of the cataract startled him from a stupor. He plunged into the swift current and frantically fought the waters until he reached a slow-moving piece of ice. From this perilous perch he was taken by a tug crew.

NEGRO WIFE SLAYER TO BE HANGED MONDAY

SAN QUENTIN PRISON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—James Chandler, convicted negro wife slayer of Los Angeles, will be hanged here next Monday, Warden Holohan said today. He declared he knew no reason why the hanging was not scheduled for a Friday, as is customary. The last men to be hanged on a Monday were William Bringhurst and Willard Thompson, slayers of two Los Angeles police officers, in 1924.

HUGHES TO TAKE POST OF HONOR

Nominee Signifies He Will Accept Gladly

Will Cable Resignation from International Court

Formal Notice of Choice Not Yet Received

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Charles Evans Hughes announced today that he will accept the nomination as Chief Justice of the United States, regarding it as the highest opportunity for service that could be offered him. A radiant smile wreathed his features as he made the informal announcement.

Coincident with his acceptance as successor to Chief Justice Taft, who resigned today on account of ill health, Mr. Hughes will resign, he said, as a justice of the World Court.

The eminent jurist had been informed by the Associated Press of his appointment just before he received newspaper men in his law offices at 100 Broadway.

NO FORMAL ACCEPTANCE

Pending the receipt of formal notice from the Chief Executive Mr. Hughes declined to make a formal statement.

He said, however, he will cable his resignation as a justice of the World Court and revealed that he had already apprised the court that he would not be a candidate for reelection for a full nine-year term commencing in September.

His decision not to be a candidate was prompted, he said, by a reluctance to spend most of the next nine years away from the United States. He is filling the unexpired term of John Bassett Moore.

A short time before he announced his acceptance Mr. Hughes issued a formal statement praising the work of his friend, the retiring Chief Justice.

EULOGY FOR TAFT

"I regret most deeply that Chief Justice Taft is unable to continue in office," he said.

"His work as Chief Justice has fitly crowned a great career and will have an abiding influence. It was both the fine quality of that work and the spirit in which it was performed, evincing not only the most conscientious industry and judicial independence but an intense loyalty to the Constitution, that have given great satisfaction to the country. Freed from the exactions of the office it is hoped that he will find his days lengthened and that his heart will be cheered by the tributes of esteem and warm affection which he will receive in abundant measure from his grateful fellow countrymen."

Mr. Hughes was appointed as Associate Justice in 1910 by the man whom he now succeeds as Chief Justice.

HUGHES'S CAREER

After six years of service, Mr. Hughes resigned to accept the Presidential nomination of the Republican party, then after four years in private life, Mr. Hughes was selected by President Harding as Secretary of State and served from 1921 to 1925 under both Presidents Harding and Coolidge. As Secretary of State he was chairman of the American delegation to the arms conference and electrified the world with his proposal to scrap a large part of the American Navy so as to bring about the first naval limitation treaty.

In the year following his retirement from the Cabinet, President Coolidge appointed him a member of the court of arbitration at The Hague, and in 1928 he was elected by the League of Nations at Geneva to fill the place of John Bassett Moore as a judge of the World Court. He also served as chairman of the American delegation to the sixth Pan-American Conference at Havana, Cuba, in 1928.

OTHER SERVICE

Before his appointment to the Supreme Court in 1910, he had been elected two terms as Governor of New York and previously had declined the nomination as Republican candidate for Mayor of New York City.

Mr. Hughes was born April 11, 1862, at Glen Falls, N. Y. He is a graduate of Harvard and was admitted to the New York bar in 1884, having won the Price Fellowship at Columbia law school.

NAVAL SHARKS GET GUN TODAY

Delegates and Experts Will Dive Into Real Task

Counter-Proposal Offered to French Ton Plan

British Define Suggestion as Aid to Harmony

LONDON, Feb. 2. (AP)—The London naval conference tonight has prepared itself for tomorrow's attack on the cross-word puzzle of naval disarmament—the allotment of tons and guns to each of the five nations participating.

As cross-word puzzle fans surround themselves with dictionaries, so the naval delegates and experts have gathered their dossiers, memoranda and bundles of statistics to carry to St. James's Palace and start filling in the great white spaces of the tonnage plan.

Downward in the first column go the total navy tonnages for each nation. Crosswise go divisions of the total figure to be used in construction of each class of warships. It will be a difficult task and is expected to last many days—only a start will be made tomorrow.

COUNTER-PROPOSAL

But not only one tonnage puzzle is to be solved, but at least two, the British delegation late today having submitted to American, French, Italian and Japanese delegations a counter-proposal to the French plan.

A British spokesman announced that the British plan is intended to widen the scope of discussions in a spirit of conciliation and agreement. The French delegates, after being informed of its details, accepted the proposal as such. They expressed the opinion that general disarmament discussions will be advanced thereby.

The Americans will have no suggestion to make, but it is assumed they have discussed the situation with the British and the two delegations are not far apart on systems of limiting tonnage. Great Britain, the United States and Japan embrace the theory of limitation by various categories, while France and Italy favor limitation by total tonnage only.

LONG CONFERENCE

Col. Stimson, head of the American delegation, Secretary Adams and Senator Reed conferred with Premier MacDonald and Foreign Minister Henderson for two hours tonight at the Prime Minister's office in the House of Commons preparatory to tomorrow's meeting of all the delegates beginning at 10 a.m.

It is not expected that tomorrow's session will reach the stage of detailed figures on the size of various navies—in fact, the program of work which is about to be launched is so involved and require so much time that other questions may be brought up informally and prepared for presentation to a conference board. The long discussion of the Americans with the Premier is understood to have had this purpose in view, as well as preparations for tomorrow's meeting.

It can be stated that no agreement of percentage of transfer of tonnage involved in both British and French plans has been reached or is even in sight, and in some quarters it is thought none will be reached until private conferences now progressing on other phases of the disarmament situation have gone much further.

DUAL ALCOHOL REINS FEARED

Treasury-Justice Control Opposed in House

Wets Prepare Battle to Get 2.75 Beer Legalized

Drug Company Pleads for Unified Supervision

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—The movement to empower the Attorney-General to dictate how industrial alcohol permits should be regulated by the Secretary of the Treasury received more attention in the House today as the prohibition enforcement transfer bill was reported for consideration Thursday.

The first of President Hoover's recommendations aimed to strengthen dry law enforcement appeared to face a stormy voyage in the House. A group composed of both wets and drys are determined to eliminate the provision to place the responsibility of administering industrial alcohol jointly with the Treasury and Justice departments.

AMENDMENT HINTED

Although given legislative preference by the Rules Committee, the way has been left open for the seven members of the Expenditures Committee who opposed the provision to bring before the House an amendment to place the sole regulatory power with the Attorney-General.

The seven minority members, consisting of five drys and two wets, held in their report today that the "illegal diversion of industrial alcohol under the existing enforcement provisions with dual responsibility, has caused the present deplorable conditions in the enforcement of the prohibition laws." However, they joined with the majority in support of the transfer of enforcement.

WETS WILL MEET

Several House wets and drys said they would support the group led by Representative Gasque, dry, of South Carolina, the ranking Democrat on the Expenditures Committee. He predicted the amendment would be accepted by the House.

The House wet bloc will meet tomorrow to formulate its plan to contest for 2.75 per cent beer, repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment and modification of the Volstead Act when hearings open before the House Judiciary Committee on the 12th inst.

Representative Clancy, Republican, Michigan, announced he had received a telegram from Horace W. Bigelow of the Parke Davis & Co., a large industrial alcohol consumer, opposing the Williamson bill on the ground that it provides dual control of the permits.

"No legitimate user of alcohol should be required to operate under the supervision of two government departments," the telegram read. It advocated that "unrestricted control of the permit system under the national prohibition act" be given to the Treasury Department.

Clancy said the House would carry out President Hoover's request for the transfer, but that he would make an effort to keep the permit authority under the Treasury.

Poincare Goes Back to Paris

PARIS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Raymond Poincare, former French Premier, returned to Paris today from Southern France completely recovered from his recent operation, rested and feeling fit. Ostensibly he came back to resume his occupation as a private citizen, but friends commented he is ever ready to step into any breach for his country's sake. He has been mentioned as a possible Minister of Finances in a reorganized Tardieu Cabinet.

WURZBACH GETS HOUSE SEAT AGAIN

Representative McCloskey of Texas Surrenders it to Republican Rival

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Representative Augustus McCloskey today conceded the election in 1928 of Harry M. Wurzbach as Representative from the Fourteenth Congressional District of Texas in a letter to the elections committee, which is considering the long-controverted contest.

Disclaiming any knowledge "of any wrongdoing or any tampering with any returns of the election," the Democrat who has held the seat by virtue of a certificate from the State canvassing board said that Wurzbach should be declared elected.

Chairman Sears, Nebraska, of the full committee, and Representative Kerr, Democrat, of North Carolina, were instructed by the committee at its executive meeting today to draft a report on the contest for submission to the House.

Flyer Drowns After Crash

HARTFORD (Ct.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Pilot C. E. Pridhomme, of Boston, flying a plane for the Colonial Air Transport Service and carrying mail from Newark, N. J., to this city, was drowned here early today when his plane struck a small building at Brinard Field, near the edge of the Connecticut River. The plane turned over and dropped into the river.

The machine was pulled from the water and the pilot's body recovered. Officials at the field said the plane came in too low and the pilot evidently misjudged the distance in attempting to land.

Ex-Official Sent to Leavenworth

CHEYENNE (Wyo.) Feb. 3. (AP)—William C. Irving, former State law enforcement commissioner of Wyoming, today was sentenced to serve eighteen months in the Federal prison at Leavenworth and pay a fine of $1000. With four others he was convicted in Federal court here of charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition law.

Olinto Marcante, Mike Bell and Charles Redmon, convicted with Irving, were sentenced to a year in the Laramie County Jail here, and fined $500 each. Biasetti Alfonso was sentenced to six months in the County Jail and fined $100.

FALLS FATAL FOR TWO IN SEATTLE HOTELS

SEATTLE, Feb. 3. (AP)—Falls from a hotel window and a fire escape after drinking parties had claimed two lives here today. Sophia Nesnik, 16 years of age, a servant, plunged four stories to her death from a window of the Dorne Hotel early today. A few hours earlier Joseph Kennedy, 25, a salesman, died in the City Hospital from injuries received when he fell three stories from the Stetson Hotel after apparently mistaking a fire exit for a stairway.

SECRETARY OF TEXAS REPUBLICANS DIES

FORTH WORTH (Tex.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Leonard Withington, secretary of the Republican party in Texas since 1924 and a former newspaper editor, died at his home here today. He was known as the right-hand assistant of R. B. Creager, Republican National Committeeman for Texas.

PAYMENT SUSPENDED BY BANK OF ICELAND

REYKJAVIK (Iceland) Feb. 3. (AP)—The Bank of Iceland failed to open its doors today and the board of directors convened at a special meeting to discuss the situation. The Iceland Parliament held a private sitting all last night, but the outcome of the discussions was not made public.

BOMBING LAID TO FILIPINOS

Blast in Clubhouse Believed Bid for Sympathy

Officer Says Inmates Must Have Been Warned

Arrest Reported to be Near in Tovera Killing

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Evidence that the Stockton clubhouse of the Filipino Federation of America was dynamited deliberately by its inmates to arouse sympathy for Filipinos in the race riots and the fight for Philippine independence was declared today to have been unearthed by the police of that city.

At least a score of the Filipinos in the clubhouse could not have escaped death unless forewarned, according to Capt. Frank Fredericks of the detective bureau. Furthermore, he asserted, he found all of the occupants of the place had been concentrated in the rear of the building at the time of the midnight bombing.

STORIES DISCREDITED

The explosion blew the front porch into the street.

Stories credited to Carl Herbst, 14 years of age, and Benjamin Besskau, 16, that they knew the perpetrators of the bombing were declared to be only boyish bragging, but both were turned over to the probation officer for investigation in connection with a series of petty thefts.

In Watsonville, Sheriff Abbott of Monterey county announced he had three suspects under surveillance in the killing of Fermin Tovera, lettuce picker, shot to death in a bunk house on the Murphy ranch on the night of January 22. The Sheriff expects to make an arrest, he said.

INQUEST VERDICT

Tovera died from a rifle bullet through the heart, "fired by an unknown person," according to the verdict of the Coroner's jury today. The testimony showed eleven Filipinos took refuge in a small closet when the pistol and rifle fusillade opened. They remained there until morning, when they discovered Tovera dead from a bullet that tore through the outer wall of the bunk house, through an inside partition, completely through his body and then through the opposite wall.

Eight Watsonville youths will have a preliminary hearing tomorrow before D. W. Rohrback, Pajaro Township justice of the peace, on charges of rioting. The justice has been warned in an anonymous note to release the youths or "there will be more trouble."

ITALY RULE ON CARUSO HEIR STANDS

New Jersey Court Decides Daughter Gloria Will Get Only Half of Estate

TRENTON (N. J.) Feb. 3. (AP)—The Court of Errors and Appeals today reversed the decision of Chancellor Walker who had ruled that Gloria Caruso, daughter of the late Enrico Caruso, opera tenor, was entitled to two-thirds of her father's New Jersey estate.

The Chancery Court action was brought by the Victor Talking Machine Company of Camden, N. J., which sought the advice of the courts on distribution of the New Jersey estate of the late tenor, which included royalties from the company amounting to nearly $1,000,000.

Under a decree of the Italian courts the Caruso estate was divided into eight parts, of which Gloria was to receive four.

Chancellor Walker held that Gloria, a minor and therefore, a ward of the Court of Chancery, could not be deprived of her two-thirds interest in the New Jersey estate.

By today's decision the decree of the Italian courts is upheld.

Mrs. Dorothy P. B. Caruso, Giovanni Caruso, brother of Enrico, and Rudolfo and Enrico, Jr., two natural sons, each receive one-eighth part, the other four parts going to Gloria under the Italian ruling.

Cathedral's New Lights Dedicated

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Two tall Menorah lights, standing at either side of the high altar in the Cathedral of St. John the Divine (Episcopal,) are believed by Bishop Manning to mark the first use of the symbolical seven-branched candlesticks of Judaism in a cathedral.

The twin lights, which are the gift of Adolph S. Ochs, publisher of the New York Times, were dedicated by Bishop Manning yesterday, assisted by Very Reverend Milo H. Gates, new cathedral dean.

CHICAGO GIRL'S SINGING PUTS BURGLARS ON RUN

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Without getting into the slightest discussion whatsoever concerning the singing voice of Miss Ann Kanter, it may be set forth without prejudice that she sang, and burglars ran out of the house.

Miss Kanter arrived with Miss Sonia Nahin at the latter's home early yesterday. Burglars were in the place and the young women were frightened. It was under these trying circumstances that Miss Kanter sang, to the piano accompaniment of Miss Nahin. It was their idea to let the burglars know they were home, and at the same time keep the burglars from knowing that the girls knew, or words to that effect.

The first vocal effort was something from "Madame Butterfly." It was a bit too high-brow for the low-brow burglars, apparently, for they kept right on packing away the family silverware.

Miss Kanter switched to a popular number, the name of which will not be sent on request. It was not, however, "Sonny Boy."

At the first few bars there was evidence of excitement from the direction of the burglars and in a moment the back door slammed behind them. They took $1000 worth of valuables.

SHOOTING QUIZ TO BE PROPOSED

Canadian Government to be Asked to Investigate La Franboise Case

DETROIT, Feb. 3. (AP)—Col. S. C. Robinson, member of Parliament for Essex West, announced today he will ask the Canadian government to investigate the shooting of Arthur La Franboise of La Salle, Ont., British subject and asserted alien smuggler, on the Detroit River at 1 a.m. today.

Federal authorities at Detroit denied that La Franboise had been shot by customs border patrol inspectors as he charged in a statement made at the Hotel Dieu, Windsor, Ont. No reports of any shootings have been made to Federal agencies here, they said. Immigration authorities said that La Franboise has been sought as an alien smuggler on several occasions and may have been wounded in warfare between rival alien smuggling rings.

La Franboise, who suffered two scalp wounds, after having, by his own story, assisted a rum-runner in freeing his ice-bound sled from the Detroit River, near Fighting Island, said he was shot while on the Canadian side by two men who wore uniform caps and appeared to be customs officers. He disclaimed any connection with rum-running interests, and records of the border patrol and Canadian authorities have thus far failed to discredit this assertion. He has admitted that he is sought as an alien smuggler.

SOUTHWEST AID VOTED IN HOUSE

Emergency Fund to Fight Boll Worm Passed

Senate Approval Expected; Provides $2,500,000

Growers Must Insure Rebate of 50 Per Cent

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—A resolution carrying $2,500,000 for emergency eradication work in Arizona against the pink boll worm, threatening destruction of the cotton industry in California and throughout the entire Southwest, was rushed through the House today by more than a two-thirds majority.

Representative Douglas of Arizona, author of the measure, said the bill is slated to be taken up in the Senate Wednesday, with the probability it will become law before the end of the week. Congress is speeding action because of the necessity of assuring Arizona farmers of indemnification money before they start the year's planting.

CLEAN-UP FUND

While the Douglas resolution was being considered in the House, Representative Cramton of Michigan, acting for the appropriations committee, introduced a bill providing $587,500 for land clearing and clean-up work in the infested zones. It is expected this measure will be passed by the House Wednesday or Thursday. It has the support of the administration and in fact was drafted at President Hoover's request.

The Douglas resolution was introduced by Representative Laguardia of New York, who thought Congress needs relief "from the epidemic of pest eradication appropriations." Farmers, he declared, "pray for a pest nowadays instead of rain."

REBATE FEATURE

Funds under the Douglas resolution and the Cramton measure will not be available until the State, individuals or corporations have guaranteed a return of 50 per cent of the Federal compensation fund during the first year of the eradication campaign.

Mr. Douglas told the House that at 10 o'clock this morning, representatives of mining, agricultural, railway and other industrial interests of Arizona met in Phoenix to work out satisfactory guarantees for the repayment of the government funds. This rebate is designed so that the Federal government could make a payment of 100 per cent for compensation claims during the first year and receive back 50 per cent of the money later, eventually placing the eradication financial program on the usual 50-50 basis.

ARIZONANS PLAN TO GUARANTEE REFUND

PHOENIX, Feb. 3. (AP)—Representatives of leading Arizona industries met here today in an attempt to work out a plan by which Arizona may guarantee the Federal government repayment of the State's share of a fund to compensate cotton growers in the proposed noncotton zone in the Salt River Valley. The noncotton zone is being established to stamp out inroads of the pink-boll weevil.

A telegram was sent to Arthur Hyde, Secretary of Agriculture, inquiring what form of guarantee is required in the bill which passed the House today. Secretary Hyde was asked if a pledge signed by the Governor and the members of the present Legislature would be sufficient.

Attention was directed to the fact that the appropriation to take care of the repayment will have to be made by the next Legislature.

Representatives of the Arizona industries pledged themselves to support whatever plan is evolved.

Arrest Ends Long Search

FORT WORTH (Tex.) Feb. 3. (AP) Ernest Wienns, suspected of embezzling more than $100,000 from a bank at Nez Perce, Idaho, seven years ago, was arrested here today.

He is the owner of a filling station here, but formerly was a cashier in the Idaho bank.

RAIL STRIKE IN INDIA SET FOR START TODAY

BOMBAY (India) Feb. 3. (AP)—Employees of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway with a mileage of 3656 miles will strike tomorrow, in behalf of demands, including increased wages, security of tenure, reasonable hours, abolition of racial discrimination and nonvictimization of union officials. Originally the strike had been arranged for only one day, but the president of the union, Ruikar, now says it will continue until the workers' demands are granted.

NORTHCUTT SENTENCE APPROVED BY HOOVER

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—President Hoover has confirmed a sentence of dismissal from the Navy for Lieut. Harold W. Northcutt, who was charged with desertion and other offenses damaging to the morale of the service. The young naval lieutenant, who stood third in his class at Annapolis, disappeared from the Norfolk Navy Yard October 22, 1929, and two weeks later was discovered in Vancouver, B. C., in company with a woman.

HOOVER TO GO FISHING IN FLORIDA

President Plans Outing of Four or Five Days Soon on Houseboat in South

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—It was announced at the White House today that President Hoover hopes to get away for four or five days on a fishing trip at Long Key, Fla., some time soon.

If the President is able to arrange the trip he will go directly from Washington to Long Key without any stops. He will board a boat, probably the Saunterer, and spend the entire time on the craft. He will make no speeches or appearances on his way south or on the return trip.

Mrs. Hoover probably will accompany him.

The Saunterer is a houseboat belonging to Jerry Milbank, treasurer of the eastern division of the Republican National Committee.

The Chief Executive expects to take two or three of his fishing companions with him. He will not, however, be accompanied by a large group of White House attaches since he hopes to devote his time to angling and will handle only business which cannot be postponed until his return.

Co-respondent Kept Secret in Xenia Divorce

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP) — The Evening World today said that Percy Stoddart, on whose findings as referee, Princess Xenia of Russia, obtained from William B. Leeds, Jr., an interlocutory divorce decree Saturday, refused to disclose the identity of the co-respondent she named.

Mr. Stoddart, who lives at Oyster Bay, L. I., is the law partner of Henry A. Uterhart, the Princess Xenia's attorney. He was appointed referee by the court, and on his findings Supreme Court Justice Strong granted the divorce Saturday. The testimony on which it was granted will not be made public.

Carriers Urged to Drop Plans for Unification

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Recommendations that plans for unification of railroads presented by the carriers be abandoned in view of the plan for consolidation issued by the Interstate Commerce Commission were made today by Finance Director Mahaffie.

Writing the Baltimore & Ohio, the Chesapeake & Ohio, and the Wabash railroads and the Delaware & Hudson Company, Mahaffie said it was his view that a hearing upon their applications filed prior to issuance of the commission's plan would be useless.

CHICAGO JUDGE SETS RECORD FOR DIVORCES

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—A record for divorce actions which the court clerk declared has not been approached by any other American jurist, was made during January by Judge Lynch in Circuit Court. He signed 515 divorce petitions. In addition, Judge Lynch heard 2031 motions for divorce during the month, a record which the clerk said is approached only by Judge Lynch's own record for December, when he granted 503 divorces and heard 2097 petitions.

RUNAWAY CAR KILLS WORKMAN IN TUNNEL

VANCOUVER (Wash.) Feb. 3. (AP) One man was killed and two others seriously injured when a runaway cable car crashed into a group of workmen huddled in the diversion tunnel of the Northwestern Electric Company's new $8,000,000 hydroelectric project at Ariel, Wash., yesterday. Word of the accident reached the Coroner here today. George Saunders, 27 years of age, late of Lewiston, Idaho, was killed.

WILBUR URGES GAS-FIGHT AID

Mitchell Asked to Intervene in Kettleman Case

Request Follows Return from Western Trip

Move Proves Surprise to Coast Oil Circles

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Secretary Wilbur today asked Atty.-Gen. Mitchell to protect the government's interest in the Kettleman Hills oil field by intervening in the suit brought by California to enjoin operators from placing wells in production until arrangements have been made to utilize the gas output.

The secretary, who has just returned from the West, said, however, prospects are excellent for agreement among all companies on a co-operative production method to prevent the waste of gas and the disastrous effect on crude-oil prices of a flood of high-grade oils from the Kettleman field.

Government and State geologists have estimated millions of dollars worth of gas have been wasted in Kettleman Hills field.

OPERATORS BALK ON VOICING COMMENT

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Surprise was expressed in oil circles here today at the action of Secretary Wilbur in asking Atty.-Gen. Mitchell to intervene in support of the State of California in an action to compel conservation of Kettleman Hills gas and oil resources.

While oil men refused to speak for publication, they said Secretary Wilbur had expressed a disinclination to use "strong-arm" methods to prevent waste in the Kettleman north dome.

PSITTACOSIS STUDY GETS NEW VICTIM

Second Baltimore Health Officer Believed Sick from Work With Parrots

BALTIMORE, Feb. 3. (AP)—A second case of illness, believed to be psittacosis, among health department physicians who handled sick or dead parrots during the department's study of the disease since it appeared in Maryland a month ago, has been discovered here.

Dr. William Royal Stokes, director of the bureau of bacteriology, is a patient in Mercy Hospital and announcement by Health Commissioner Jones brought out that Dr. Stokes had been ill for two weeks, with physicians at first believing he was suffering with pneumonia. Dr. Daniel S. Hatfield, director of the bureau of communicable diseases, is reported "holding his own." Dr. Stokes and Dr. Hatfield had collaborated in the study of the parrot disease since the appearance of the outbreak that caused two deaths here.

Towel Causes Woman's Death, Jury Reports

EDMONTON (Alta.) Feb. 3. (AP)—A Coroner's jury today decided that Mrs. Ruth Olsen, 27 years of age, died at a hospital here January 29, last, as the result of a towel 16x26 inches being left in her body after an operation January 26.

The attending physicians, Dr. H. E. Chatham and Dr. A. M. Crawford, were exonerated by the jury. Miss M. Rivey, a nurse, testified she had not counted the towels as she thought they never were used internally.

CORPORATIONS TAX COMPUTED

State Revenue for Year Above $6,000,000

Exceeds Original Estimate by $500,000

Bank Yields Increase for 1930 Anticipated

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Revenues from the 1929 4 per cent net-income tax affecting banks and business corporations for the first twelve months of its operation, which will end the 28th inst., will total more than $6,000,000, Reynold E. Blight, State Franchise Tax Commissioner, estimated today.

Blight said this sum is $500,000 in excess of the estimate of yield made to the Legislature by the State Tax Commission in consideration of the concessions and exemptions granted by the lawmakers.

The tax commissioner believes that by 1932 the income-tax revenues will be on a par with those obtained under the old act that had to be junked to conform to a decision of the United States Supreme Court on the right of a State to tax national banks.

Blight estimates that the taxes on banks, greatly reduced under the 4 per cent act, will be increased 40 per cent in 1930. He figures the total return for 1930 will be in excess of $7,250,000. Blanks for making returns on 1929 income have been mailed by Blight to all business corporations and banks having a taxable year coincident with the calendar year.

PHONE CONTROL CHANGE FOUGHT

Protest Made on Inclusion in Radio "Corral"

Communication Commission Hearing Held in Senate

Independents Prefer Rule of Interstate Body

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Objection to consolidation of control of radio, telephone and telegraph under a government's communication commission, was voiced today before the Senate Interstate Commerce Committee by F. B. Mackinnon of Chicago, president of the United States Independent Telephone Association.

Testifying on the bill by Senator Couzens, Republican, of Michigan, which would establish a communications commission, the witness said his association would prefer to remain under the supervision of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

HAMPERING FEARED

"The association desires to say," he added, "that its members prefer to remain hitched up with the railroad organizations than to be driven into the same corral with the kicking-and-biting herd that is known as the radio industry, which is involved in a patent battle and which has not yet arrived at a point where any sort of regulation can be applied.

"The association asks that until the radio authority becomes stabilized, the telephone industry, which has been stabilized for years, be not hampered and confused by such a relationship as is proposed."

Mackinnon said the association was comprised of more than 7000 independent companies operating the only telephone exchanges in 15,000 communities in the United States. The companies, he added, have an investment in plants of $550,000,000 with annual operating receipts of $125,000,000.

ONLY ONE DIFFERENCE

The only section of the proposed bill applying to telephone companies that differs from the present interstate commerce, he said, was a section providing for the regulation of all security issues of telephone companies by the proposed commission. He said this would be impractical for obvious reasons.

The witness asserted a communications commission could not accomplish more than the Interstate Commerce Commission "unless this new commission shall take from the States all their powers and itself take up the almost superhuman task of regulating all the rates of all telephone companies."

Bomb Business Still Booming

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Another bomb exploded early today, shaking a considerable section of the West Side.

The explosion was in the fruit store of Sam Madonia. Two adjoining stores were badly damaged and buildings in the neighborhood were shaken. No one was injured.

The damage is estimated at $100,000. Less than a week ago a bomb created a like amount of damage to a North Side building housing a wholesale grocery business.

SOVIET FEARS CLASH IN PARIS

White Russian Plot Against Red Embassy Reported

Raid Plan Laid to Supposed Kidnaping of Koutiepoff

Gravity of Situation Called to Attention of France

PARIS, Feb. 3. (AP) — Valerian Dovgalevsky, soviet Ambassador in Paris, today officially informed Foreign Minister Briand that followers of Gen. Alexander Paul Koutiepoff, leader of the Russian royalists, have organized a force to make a descent upon the soviet embassy here.

Gen. Koutiepoff, who succeeded Grand Duke Nicholas as head of the Russian exiles in Paris, mysteriously disappeared a week ago and there have been numerous rumors that he had been kidnaped by soviet secret police and was being held prisoner in the Russian Embassy Building.

So strong were these rumors that several Paris papers published them and even devoted space to discussing the procedure that could be followed by the French police in case it should prove true that the general was being held there. Koutiepoff was supposed to have been kidnaped on the street while he was walking the few blocks between his home and the Russian Officers' Club.

MOSCOW GETS WORD OF IMPENDING TROUBLE

MOSCOW, Feb. 3. (AP)—The possibility of a raid by Russian royalists in Paris on the soviet Embassy there as an outgrowth of the asserted disappearance of Gen. Alexander Paul Koutiepoff, leader of the royalists, was reported here today.

M. Dovgalevsky, soviet Ambassador in Paris, was stated to have officially advised the French Ministry of Foreign Affairs that Koutiepoff's supporters were organizing a raid in force on the embassy in Paris. He said the raid had been organized under the leadership of Gen. Miller, one of Koutiepoff's lieutenants.

ILL FEELING DEVELOPS

The Koutiepoff affair has produced much ill feeling on the part of the Russian press against the attitude felt here to have been taken by France. The press complains bitterly of what it describes as "the passive and indifferent attitude of the French government in the face of continued provocative acts against the soviet regime on the part of Russian White guards and others residing in France."

The charge in French newspapers that Gen. Koutiepoff, leader of the Russian White guards, was kidnaped by soviet secret agents in Paris is described by Moscow papers as "too idiotic to deny."

Following a formal protest by M. Dovgalevsky on Saturday to the French government against the present campaign in some of the French newspapers against the soviet government, which the Bolshevists say aims at provoking a serious conflict between the soviet union and France, today's Izvestia, speaking for the government, asks: "Does the French government prefer to maintain diplomatic relations with the soviet union or continue co-operation with White guard emigrants?"

POLICY QUESTIONED

"Normal diplomatic relations are impossible," says the paper, "if the French government allows Kerensky and Milukoff to declaim against the soviet regime in the French Parliament. By whom is France's foreign policy in relation to the soviet union formulated, by Tardieu and Briand or by Kerensky and Milukoff? Where is Tardieu's government?"

Both Izvestia and Pravda profess to see in these acts the creation of a "united antisoviet front" and a plot against the Communist government. They declare this government will place full responsibilities upon France "for failing to take adequate measures against these plotters."

Cathedral of Air to Be Built at Lakehurst

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Plans were published today for a cathedral of the air, a nondenominational memorial chapel, dedicated to those who lost their lives in the air service, to be erected at Lakehurst, N. J.

The cathedral is to be built by the American Legion, department of New Jersey, and turned over to the United States government, which will maintain it. The cost is estimated at $150,000.

A site near the hangar that houses the navy dirigible Los Angeles has been selected.

The cathedral will be used for religious services attended by officers and men at the Lakehurst naval air station.

More People Go to Canada From United States

OTTAWA (Ont.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Canada received 26,165 immigrants from the United States during the last nine months of 1929, an increase of 1292 over the same period of the previous year.

Great Britain furnished the greatest number of immigrants in the period covered, with 58,846. There were 25,018 from Northwestern Europe and 31,355 representing thirty-three other nationalities.

The total immigration was 141,384, a decrease of 2 per cent from the previous year. The decrease was occasioned by a falling off of 12,331 from the thirty-three countries not included in the United States, Great Britain and Northwestern Europe.

THE STOCK MARKET TRAGEDY
last autumn was not the only tragedy. There was also A WARDROBE TRAGEDY
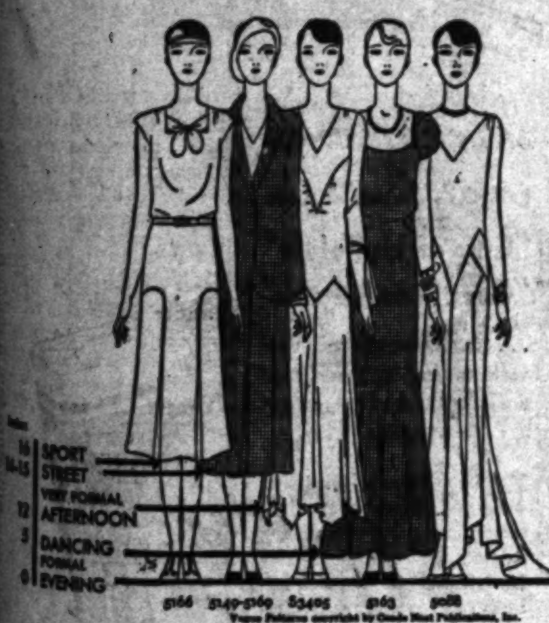
And now a word of advice to those unfortunate women who were caught short on skirts and lacked margin in drapery;



The Spring Fabrics and Original Designs Number of Vogue ... out today on all news stands, 35c ... gives you the correct skirt lengths in Vogue Pattern form ... note patterns sketched above. In addition, the spring fabric collections ... French and American ... reviewed as only Vogue can ... plus the latest fashions and Elsa Maxwell's famous party!

VOGUE Told You So!

For two whole years, Vogue has warned you of the new mode ... don't these quotations prove that $2 invested in Vogue actually saves you $200?

As long ago as October 1, 1927, Vogue said: "Economy and Length of Line ..." "The Cut of Short Frocks Grows More Complicated."

As long ago as February 1, 1928, Vogue said: "The higher waist-line ... Occasional frocks show this new note, and these have prepared the way for a fashion soon to come in greater numbers."

As long ago as January 19, 1929, Vogue said: "Great length and evening chic are synonymous ..."

As long ago as July 20, 1929, Vogue said: "... sports and day skirts will be worn four inches below the knee; afternoon dresses from four and a half inches to five and a half inches below the knee; evening dresses ... at their longest point, trailing on the floor."

As long ago as September 28, 1929, Vogue said: "... four inches below the knee now right for sports ... slightly longer for afternoon ... evening skirts are longer than ever, including more trains ... absolutely new evening dresses with points that trail on the ground all around ..."

Today, Vogue says: ... but go to the news stand now and buy your copy of February 1st Vogue. You need more than just a correct skirt length to accomplish smartness!

Vogue—One of the Condé Nast Publications

$2 Invested In VOGUE
(A TINY FRACTION OF YOUR LOSS ON A SINGLE ILL-CHOSEN GOWN)
WILL SAVE YOU $200

If you failed last year to buy Vogue and heed its advice, you are now probably discovering for yourself that the gown you buy and cast away half-worn is the really expensive gown ... and that one ill-judged purchase can cost you the price of a subscription to Vogue, not once, but many times over.

If, on the other hand, you read Vogue and heeded its repeated predictions of the on-coming change in the mode, you bought the longer skirt, the fitted waist-line, the frock of complicated drapery ... bought in time ... and did not have to take a loss on your entire wardrobe when the new mode suddenly became general.

Don't be caught short again this spring. Read Vogue ... heed Vogue ... be wise in time ... save money on your clothes.

The Child Who Has No Appetite

Nothing worries parents more than a child who will not eat. Perhaps you have tried tonics, or other medicines, but too often they treat only the symptoms and do not correct the cause. The right kind of food and the right quantity daily might soon restore health, but lack of appetite may defeat this remedy. Don't be discouraged, for science now has given us a truly delicious food, which is not only very rich in the essential Vitamin B, but which stimulates the child's appetite for the right kind of foods. It is called Vegex. A teaspoonful each day added to foods your child likes best will work wonders.

If you will just try this new and pleasing way of providing a diet rich in the valuable Vitamin B, the thinnest, weakest child, who tires too easily and is sickly all the time, may soon be helped back to normal appetite and health.

Vegex has highest medical and scientific indorsement. In thousands of cases it has helped people of all ages to regain normal health and strength. It stimulates the appetite and regulates the bowels—naturally, because Vegex is a food. Try Vegex and watch your boy or girl grow steadily stronger. Note how it improves the appetite for milk and other needed foods. Children like Vegex. It adds flavor and zest to soups, sauces, gravies. Makes a delicious, nourishing broth.

Ask your doctor about Vegex, which druggists and grocers have now at 15c a trail jar. Ask for a free copy of the Vegex Cook Book, when you buy.

RIVER MEETING POSTPONED DAY

Phoenix Conference Will Open on Thursday

Metropolitan and Valley Men to Meet First

Effort to be Made to End Californians' Row

Postponement of the tri-State Colorado River conference at Phoenix until Thursday, instead of tomorrow as originally scheduled, was agreed on last night in order to permit representatives of the Imperial Valley Irrigation District and the Metropolitan Water District to meet before going to Phoenix.

Col. W. J. Donovan, chairman of the conference and representative of the President, who arrived in Los Angeles and established headquarters at the Ambassador, agreed to the postponement until Thursday. He will go to Phoenix tonight to prepare for the opening of the conference on Thursday. California will be at the conference regardless of the outcome of the meeting between the California groups.

PURPOSE OF MEETING

The purpose of the meeting in Los Angeles is to see whether the California groups can get together on some sort of program for an acceptable division among them of water to be allocated to California from the Colorado River. As matters now stand under the proposed allocation acceptable to Arizona California would receive 4,400,000 acre feet of water, Arizona 2,800,000 acre feet, and Nevada 300,000 acre feet. This would be water to which legal title would be given. But it develops that the Imperial Valley people and associates are insisting on the entire 4,400,000 acre feet allocated to California.

That would leave the Metropolitan Water District, which must have about 1,100,000 acre feet of water, to take her water from the so-called "B water" allocated from the river, estimated to be about 1,000,000 acre feet. This 1,000,000 feet is to be divided equally between Arizona and California, so that the Metropolitan district would get only 500,000 acre feet of that water. She would have to get the rest of her water from the so-called "surplus water" in the river. In other words, the Imperial Valley position appears to be that if there is any yielding to be done in trying to meet Arizona's demands somebody other than the Imperial Valley interests will have to yield.

The valley is actually using about 2,600,000 acre feet of water now, according to figures presented at the Reno conference, although these figures were disputed in some quarters as being too high.

DISCUSSION HELD

It is for the purpose of seeing whether the difference between the valley and the Metropolitan district can be adjusted that the Los Angeles meeting was proposed. It was thought that Arizona would not object to postponing the Phoenix meeting for the time being.

A number of the California delegates to the Reno conference, among whom were W. B. Mathews and W. J. Carr and W. P. Whitsett, met in Los Angeles yesterday and had a long discussion as to the California situation.

The position of the Metropolitan Water District is expected to be taken up at a postponed meeting of its board of directors to be held this afternoon at 1 o'clock. The board was represented at Reno by Chairman Whitsett and O. T. Johnson and H. E. Heffner, directors.

WILBUR EXPRESSES FAITH IN ROW ENDING

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Secretary Wilbur returned to his desk at the Interior Department today from his California trip and let it be known that he will mark time on Boulder Dam power contracts pending the outcome of the lower-basin conference.

The Secretary had little to say on the subject except that he remains confident that the conference just adjourned at Reno, to be resumed at Phoenix soon, will finally result in a lower-basin agreement whereby Arizona will drop its threatened suit and the Colorado River project can go ahead in harmony among all the States concerned.

Dr. Wilbur appeared to be little worried over the attacks that were made during his absence by Norris, Johnson and other public ownership advocates in the Senate, and by Representative Swing of El Centro in the House on the rulings by Solicitor Finney of the Interior Department laying down the legal guideposts the Secretary may follow in allocating power from Boulder Dam and making the necessary contracts.

Secretary Wilbur remarked that any one who concluded that "the opinion of one lawyer is the final word on the subject is covering very large territory."

He gave the impression that when the time comes in the near future to definitely negotiate contracts he will go ahead on a sound business basis without regard for any clamor from Capitol Hill.

COYOTES SLAIN FROM PLANE

Illinois Farmer Puts End to Depredations of Elusive Beasts

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. Exclusive)—Louis Mills, a farmer living near Libertyville, today set a new national or international record when he chartered an airplane and from his aerial steed shot and killed two elusive coyotes which had been pestering chickens on the farm for the last two weeks.

This morning Farmer Mills spied the beasts on his farm. They were lost to sight when he began to chase them with his shotgun. So he chartered the plane.

House Speeds Florida Plans

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The House Rules Committee today granted a special rule to the resolution by Chairman Wood of the Appropriations Committee authorizing Wood to lead a subcommittee to Florida to hold hearings on the administration request for $15,000,000 to continue the eradication fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly.

The Rules Committee action means that the resolution probably will be placed before the House within the next few days.

desilted for the two valleys without charge and the entire benefits to be received by the two valleys will be paid for by others, particularly those who will get domestic water and power from the project, and by Arizona and Nevada, who will receive under the terms of the project act their share only of excess revenues.

"When Gov. Young of California presented the claims and needs of his State at the Denver conference in 1928 he said California had vested rights in the river totaling 2,159,000 acre feet of water, a claim that Arizona said was too high at that time. After considering the entire situation and all of the evidence, the governors of the upper-basin States estimated California's vested rights to be 2,000,000 acre feet.

"The Swing-Johnson bill required California to limit her use to 4,400,000 acre feet of firm water. . . .

"But now, when we come to the discussion of settling our differences with California, we are told the Imperial Valley alone must have 4,400,000 acre feet of the firm water, which, if the coast cities are to receive the 1,100,000 acre feet they want, means that California must have 5,500,000 acre feet of firm water.

"A consideration of the foregoing figures, which are not open to dispute, reveals the reason for the present disagreement between the two States. Namely, that the alleged needs of the Imperial Valley have so enormously increased since 1927 that no agreement is possible which will take care of both the Imperial Valley demand and the requirements of the metropolitan (Los Angeles) water district. . . .

"Having secured the passage of the Swing-Johnson bill, it now appears that the Imperial Valley has felt justified in enlarging its water demand to a point where a solution of the problem seems quite impossible."

WORKMEN WARNED NOT TO GO TO DAM SITE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Workmen of the nation were warned today by Francis I. Jones, director-general of the Federal Employment Service, not to go to Boulder Dam Canyon at this time to seek employment on the dam project.

Calling attention to what he said was a general impression that construction was to start at once, Mr. Jones asserted it would be several months before any work begins. He also warned against sending money to any private employment agencies that might offer to supply information about the need for workmen at the dam.

Bandits Obtain Hospital Cash

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (AP)—The children's hospital on California street was robbed late today by four men who escaped with about $3300.

While a score of employees stood in line, awaiting their pay envelopes, the bandits dashed up to the hospital in a roadster and forcibly wrested the money from Miss Margaret Leonard, statistician for the hospital.

BYRD'S PARTY IN SUSPENSE

things chirping around them, with other strange animals? They would probably be frightened half to death and miserably uncomfortable.

Except for the puppies everything outside is snowbound. The planes are sunk deep between drifts. They have been silent and immobile so long in this fickle weather that one accepts them as part of the landscape and only occasionally does the eye linger on them. From the trailing edge of the Ford hang long icicles from the snow which has melted on the metal wing and run down to freeze in the cold air. If the Bolling doesn't come down—and it seems now as if she cannot—the big plane will have to stay here, safely secured.

SNOW COVERS ALL

The snowstorm has covered much of the ugliness of our melted piles of refuse and smoothed the jagged and broken surfaces where dust particles had made it so porous that men sunk to their knees at every step. One can pass these places now without stumbling and walk easily down the slope to the inlet. It is interesting to see how little the summer sun has affected our opening from the bay. Last year there were open cracks with water in them on the side of the inlet only a short distance from camp, but this year they have not opened and a smooth depression marks what was formerly a break in the snow wall. The slopes leading up to the barrier which last summer dropped away leaving wide openings, did not sink so much under the sun this year.

One wanders without purpose, thinking of many things, out of the inlet and over the rolling waves of ice on the bay, which seem to have ceased for a time their restless onward pressure, which forced them higher and higher until they broke in upthrust edges with pools of water in the hollows. These pools are frozen now and on the ice of one of them a seal is lying, a small, silvery coated creature, which lifts a lazy head and breathes heavily.

SOMNOLENT SEAL

It is lying on its back a few feet from the open hole that offers it escape, but it drops its head somnolently as if the effort to hold it up were too much. A foot is put out and the seal is rubbed gently. It seems to like it and lies quiescent for several minutes and then decides that it has had enough. It rises quickly and with an angry reptilian movement of the head and snap of its jaws drives its annoyer away. Half of its length is upreared in this effort. It is prodded again and finally rolls over and humps its way over the ice, sniffing as if to find an opening into the water.

There is none in that direction and the seal starts to make one. The jaws are opened wide, at least 120 degrees and the teeth are scraped to and fro with jerks of the head. It soon stops with a mouthful of ice and with a noisy sigh lets its head drop. What a lazy workman. Two or three times it saws away in this manner and then gives up in favor of sleep.

NOT SO DUMB, MAYBE

The seal is prodded again into action and driven toward the hole near which it previously had been lying. It does not seem to see the hole when within a foot or two and one's opinion of seal intelligence drops. How are they ever trained to balance balls on their noses and to catch fish? Nothing dumber was ever created. The seal rolls against the rim of the hole two or three times without seeing it and rolls over it and almost falls into it and only then realizes that there is a way from its tormenters.

It sticks its nose down, thrusts about for a moment in the slushy water and then slips slowly and clumsily out of sight, its tail flippers flapping against the sides as it goes down, as if in weary derision. A minute later there is a snort under foot, where in some air space or hidden crack it has come up to blow, indignant at having been pushed overboard when it wanted to digest its dinner.

MEXICAN QUOTA PLAN ASSAILED

Garner Says it Will Peril Southwest Crops

Hearing Continues in House Committee

Mexican immigration question. He has repeatedly appeared before the immigration committee in past sessions to oppose restrictive legislation. He believes that the Mexicans are needed in this country, to perform a type of common labor which native Americans will not touch, and that the seasonal exchange of large numbers across the boundary is a good thing for both countries.

SEASONAL PROPOSAL

"Testimony before the committee," he declared, "is fairly conclusive that American labor, owing largely to climatic conditions, cannot perform the work required on the fruit, vegetable and cotton farms of the border country. It is also conclusive that Porto Rican or similar labor cannot take the place of the Mexican workmen who are inured to the climate and are physically fitted for the work on Southwestern farms.

"Southwestern agriculture, if it is to survive, must have seasonal labor. If Congress decides to place Mexico upon a quota basis I believe the measure should be so drawn that when seasonal labor is necessary the Secretary of Agriculture would be authorized to certify to the Secretary of Labor that a certain amount of labor is needed in a specified territory. Provisions could be made for the admission of such labor for a specified time, the Department of Labor to promulgate such regulations as may be necessary."

HEARING CONTINUES

Hearings on the restriction bills continued before the House committee. One of the witnesses was F. S. Fitzpatrick, Washington representative of the Pacific development division of the United States Chamber of Commerce. He reiterated the stand taken ten days ago by Arthur Bent of Los Angeles, and other chamber spokesmen, that the national chamber regards it unwise, both from diplomatic and economic standpoints, to place quota restrictions on Mexico.

"We have an economic activity in the Southwest," he said, "which will suffer serious loss in readjustment under Mexican quota restrictions."

The witness told the committee that the Chamber of Commerce had not found that Mexican immigration had caused any disturbance in the East, although Mexicans are working in packing-houses and steel mills in various eastern cities.

Satisfactory figures are not yet available on the Eastern Mexican situation, Fitzpatrick said, but the chamber is collecting statistics on this as well as the western phase of the situation and will present a factual report to delegates at the annual meeting in May.

WARNING GIVEN

F. C. Wilmot, immigration officer of El Paso, returned to the stand today to finish testimony he began last Friday, when he stated that legal entry in El Paso ports had been cut and satisfactory checks on transient immigrants and cross-border traffic installed.

He told the committee that he favored a measure to limit Mexican immigration but warned the committee against cutting off the supply too quickly. In his opinion it is necessary to allow some time in which border farmers can readjust themselves, before cutting down Mexican immigration to about 2000 annually as provided in the bills now before the committee.

One witness filed a joint statement with the committee for the restriction measures. He was Richard M. Bradley, Boston financier, who with Prof. T. N. Carver of Harvard submitted a report on the economic phases of immigration restriction in the Western Hemisphere.

They stated that unless restriction is applied to Canada Canadian interests and not those of the United States will dictate the immigration policy and number of entries annually from Canada. They gave as their reasons for this view the fact that foreign immigration is unlimited in Canada, forcing native-born Canadian workers, now eligible, to enter this country for work.

Similar arguments were applied to Cuba and Haiti. The latter country, they forecast, would shortly flood this country with poor laborers.

EMPLOYERS CRITICISED

In conclusion they took a slap at employers of Mexican labor. One school of employers, Mr. Bradley stated, on behalf of himself and Prof. Carver, who was not present, uses seasonable labor of the cheapest kind in large quantities and in a wasteful way. When he is through with them he dumps them on the community until he needs them again, letting the community pay to keep his labor "in storage."

"When that class of employer cannot turn to Ellis Island for more labor we see him turning to the Rio Grande," Mr. Bradley said.

Oscar De Priest, negro Representative of Chicago, appeared at the hearing today. He cross-examined Mr. Fitzpatrick on the state of unemployment in Chicago, and asked if it was not possible to use the labor now in the country instead of importing more.

Mr. Fitzpatrick stated that even if they could transport white labor to the Southwest it is doubtful if they could or would do the type of work required under the climatic conditions in that section.

Chairman Johnson intimated that Southern California editors are not well informed on immigration questions. In introducing into the record a letter from Imperial Valley he stated that one of the editors who signed the telegram of protest against Mexican immigration while visiting Mexico, lives "in Hollywood" and suggested that he received his information on Western Hemisphere immigration when "he rubbed elbows with one of those Argentine dancers in Hollywood."

EUGENE FIELD RELICS GONE

Poet's Widow Believes Valuable Manuscripts and Other Documents Stolen

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Valuable literary and historical manuscripts that belonged to the late Eugene Field have disappeared sometime within the last three years. The poet's widow believes they have been stolen.

The lost documents include the manuscript of "The Love Affairs of a Bibliomaniac," Field's last work and one of the most popular of his prose writing. Mrs. Field had refused an offer of $7500 for it.

Another missing document is the original brief in the Dred Scott case, prepared by the poet's father, Roswell M. Field, who was a leading attorney of St. Louis.

Many letters written by James Whitcomb Riley to Field also are missing. The two poets were close friends.

For many years Mrs. Field kept the documents in a safety-deposit vault here. Three years ago, however, they were shipped under bond to a Tomahawk (Wis.) bank, to be more readily accessible to Mrs. Field, whose home is near Bradley, Wis. Only within recent months has Mrs. Field discovered that valuable documents are missing. One manuscript believed stolen is the original of "Over the Hills and Far Away," one of Field's best-known poems.

Mrs. Field revealed the loss today, believing that whoever took the papers will attempt to sell them.

JAPAN'S ROYAL COUPLE MARRY

his palace in Takanawa, a southern section of the capital, to the imperial palace. He wore the robes of the ancient court for ritual so old that even the most learned antiquarians cannot speak with assurance of its origin. From the modest residence of her widowed mother in Northern Tokio the bride also drove to the palace to exchange modern dress for the ceremonial garments worn by brides of 1000 or more years ago.

IMPRESSIVE RITES

As the young couple bowed before the Kashikodokoro its doors opened slowly to the wailing of flutes and pipes of primeval pattern, the plaintive cry of ancient Japan in supplication to its deities. Offerings were made to the spirit of the sun goddess and the chief ritualist read a form of marriage service. Then followed the drinking of the blessed rice wine and the Prince reported to his august ancestress his marriage.

Similar rites were conducted before the two other sanctuaries of the imperial palace, the Koreiden, where all the ancestors of the imperial line were devoutly apprised of their descendant's marriage, and the Shinden, where like report was made to the eighty myriad divinities of the Shinto pantheon.

Weddings of members of Japan's imperial line are unlike any other royal weddings in the world. Princes of Nippon never take a princess of another race to wife. Their marriages invoke the sanction of no religious sect save that of which the emperors are themselves the central figures, Shinto, the ancient ancestor and Mikado worship. Thus a princely marriage is an intensely family affair since the deities asked to approve and bless the union are the ancestors of the bridegroom, the 123 Mikados who have preceded the present ruler, the ancient gods of the land and, chief of all, the divine ancestress of them all, Amaterasu-o-mi-Kami, the sun goddess.

SHROUDED BRIDE

The robes in which Takamatsu and Kikuko were married come down from the court of protohistoric Nippon. No less than twelve kimono-like garments, one over the other, compose the bride's wedding gown. The outer garments are a robe and skirt of scarlet silk, figures with white embroidered designs, two tortoises—symbols of lasting happiness—on the robe, or "itsutsugini," and a pattern of pine tree, bamboo, plum blossoms, cranes and tortoise, all signifying domestic bliss and long life, on the brocaded "mo," or train, trailing from the skirt. On her rich silk undergarments is worked the hollyhock crest of the House of Tokugawa, which, however, does not appear on the outer garments.

In her hand the Princess carried a fan of heavy antique design, made of hinoki (cypress,) "the tree of the sun." Her hair fell down her back, long and unbraided, but bound with silk ribbons.

BRIDEGROOM IN BLACK

Stiff, heavy black silk jacket and skirt made up the bridegroom's costume, called "sokutai," the jacket displaying a crane flying through clouds of happy omen and the skirt bearing a design featuring the imperial crest, the sixteen-petaled chrysanthemum. On his head he wore a coronet of black felt and in his hand carried a scepter-like wooden wand.

The ceremonies at the palace over, the couple drove through the streets of the capital to the palace at Takanawa which they will occupy until their departure for their globe-girdling honeymoon journey in April.

La Follette in Fight for Repeal of Section

Both Parties Expected to Split Votes Today

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Reaching the important section of the tariff bill which continues in effect the post-war policy of basing duties on coal-tar dyes and medicinal products on American valuation, the Senate today heard monopoly charges against both the American and European chemical industries in arguments for and against repeal of the section. A vote probably will be reached tomorrow.

Arguing for repeal, Senator La Follette, Republican independent, Wisconsin, said the American dye and chemical companies are engaged in "combinations to fix prices and to control the American market." He declared use of the American instead of foreign valuation provides an embargo against foreign dyes, and that domestic producers not only supply 94 per cent of the American market and make huge profits, but export dyes at prices below those charged in this country.

SPLIT VOTES EXPECTED

Senator Hatfield, Republican, West Virginia, urged continuance of the present valuation formula in the interest of national defense and protection from what he termed the European "monopoly" built up by the German dye trust. He read government reports asserting the European combination is organized to fix prices and said if there is any price fixing in this country, he will side with the Americans rather than the Europeans.

Both parties are expected to be divided on the vote on the coal-tar paragraphs. Some Democrats feel that to vote for repeal would be inconsistent with the wishes of the late President Wilson, who urged an embargo on German dyestuffs after the war and called upon Congress to enact high tariffs to build up a domestic industry.

BILL NEARS SENATE

With disposition tomorrow of the dye question, the tariff bill will be ready for return to the Senate itself after being in committee of the whole since September 9. Then the entire measure will be thrown open to individual amendment.

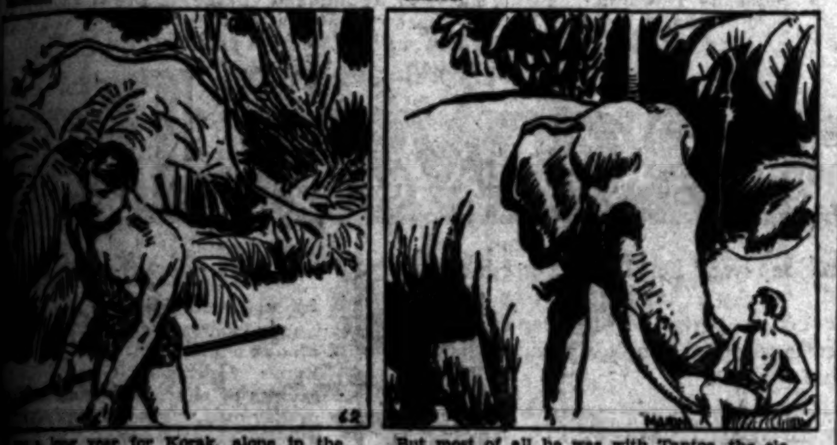
Yet scarce an hour passed that did not bring its recollection of Korak and its yearning to see him again. No longer did she talk of him though, for Bwana had sent his men away in a month's search for Korak. They had found Kovudoo's village as Meriem had described it but not a single native was there. Nor were there signs of ape or ape-man and Meriem knew that "My Dear" and "Bwana" believed that Korak had never existed.



a long year for Korak, alone in the jungle. He had no hope that Meriem he had failed to find her in Kovu- village. He filled his days with labor and that he might forget his misery in sleep. A year he led his solitary roam- Occasionally he fell in with Akut and hunting with them for a day or so, would travel to the hill country where always welcomed him.

But most of all he was with Tantor, the elephant; the great, grey battleship of the jungle. The life of the huge beasts interested and amused Korak, taking his mind from his own grief and he came to love them as he had not loved even the great apes. One gigantic tusker in particular was his favorite. He came when Korak called, and, at a gesture, would wind his trunk about the youth's body, lifting him affectionately to his broad neck.

DOWN EAST RYE 'CORNER' FAILS

Market Backfires on Grain Trade Operators

Group Now Has Control of 20,000,000 Bushels

Losses Set at $6,000,000 and More to Come

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Sixteen wise men from the East who started out several months ago to corner the rye market just about succeeded. They bought up half the crop of this grain. The only trouble with the corner, or near-corner, is that the wise men have a loss estimated at $6,000,000, which is growing at the rate of about $7000 a day.

The perils of rye cornering may be exemplified by the way prices have gone in the last two weeks. Contracts for March delivery are off nearly 22 cents a bushel; for May delivery about 23 cents and for July delivery about 16 cents.

These are important matters to gentlemen who own 10,000,000 bushels of cash rye and are long on contracts, mostly in March and May, for 10,000,000 more. March and May, also, are off 43 to more than 45 cents a bushel from their high on the present crop.

In the grain trade there has been a widespread knowledge that the rye corner was being attempted. It is scarcely a secret that tremendous orders for purchase of the grain had been coming in during the fall months, originating in Providence, R. I., or that hardy westerners who regard rye as something to sell when you get a good price for it let the easterners have it at prices from $1.15 a bushel up.

Some of the details of the rye corner that turned around and stung the cornerers were picked up in conversations today with members of the grain trade. The story runs like this:

"Some months ago the eastern gentlemen took their statistics, which showed that the rye crop of the United States does not vary much from year to year, and is between 40,000,000 and 45,000,000 bushels. They proved to themselves that they could corner the supply by buying 20,000,00 bushels.

"One of the principals in the pool was a young man from New England, who inherited $25,000,000 when he was a year old. A little thing like half a rye crop does not terrify that kind of money.

"Something must have been wrong with the statistics. When time to make December deliveries came the rye flowed in as it never flowed before. The supplies were too much for the elevator space and rules were made permitting delivery in cars. The easterners now have the grain, all there is of it around Chicago. They have 9,500,000 bushels in storage.

"It is estimated that the elevators cost them $125,000 a month and the ships and other properties being used for storage up to $100,000 every thirty days."

There have been rumors that bold Chicagoans who backed their own statistics which showed that the rye supplies were large had made huge amounts by going short. The well-informed say that this is not true, and relatively small sums were made in this type of trading. The rye was sold by people who already owned it.

It has been pointed out that this is one case in which the farmers benefited by selling to speculators. The rye crop last year was reasonably large and the export demand has been small. Veterans of years on the Board of Trade maintain that nobody ever had any success in trying to control rye, because of the vagrant nature of the demand and possibilities for substitutions.

Doctor Liquor Permits Urged

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Amendment of the prohibition law to permit physicians to prescribe wines and liquors in such quantities as they may deem proper was proposed in a bill today by Representative Cellar, Democrat, New York.

"Doctors being of a honored profession should be trusted not to abuse their privileges," Cellar said in a statement. "They may prescribe narcotics and opiates; they have power, with the knife and scalpel, to cut into the human anatomy. Yet prohibition makes a mockery of this honored profession."

Ring Champ's Wife Defeated

JERSEY CITY (N. J.) Feb. 3. (AP) Mrs. Margaret Walker, of Rumson, N. J., wife of Mickey Walker, middleweight boxing champion, today was denied temporary alimony by Vice Chancellor Fielder. Mrs. Walker, through her counsel, had asked a "reasonable allowance" of alimony and counsel fees pending trial of her suit for divorce. She was allowed $200 counsel fees.

William J. Hanley, counsel for the boxer, told the court today that Walker had given his wife real estate and securities valued at $234,000.

El Soviet Teme un Complot Blanco en París

PARIS, Febrero 3.—Valerian Dóvgalevsky, embajador soviet en París, ha comunicado hoy oficialmente al señor Briand, ministro de Relaciones, que los simpatizadores del general Alexander Paul Koutiepoff, jefe de los realistas rusos, han organizado una fuerza para caer sobre la embajada soviética en esta capital.

El general Koutiepoff, sucesor del gran duque Nicolás come jefe de los desterrados rusos de París, desapareció misteriosamente hace una semana, y ha habido muchísimos rumores de que haya sido plagiado por la policía secreta soviet, y se le tenga preso en el edificio de la embajada rusa.

Tan insistentes han sido esos rumores, que varios diarios de París les han dado cabida, y aun han discutido las medidas que podría adoptar la policía francesa caso que se compruebe lo del secuestro del general en la embajada. Koutiepoff desapareció mientras caminaba a pie las cuantas cuadras que separan su casa del Club de Oficiales Rusos.

Han Desaparecido Algunas Reliquias de Eugene Field

CHICAGO, Febrero 3.—El en curso de estos últimos tres años han desaparecido valiosos manuscritos históricos y literarios, que pertenecieron al finado Eugene Field. La viuda del poeta cree que hayan sido robados.

Entre ellos está el manuscrito de "Las intrigas amorosas de un bibliómano", que se la última obra de Field y uno de sus más populares libros en prosa. La señora Field había rechazado una oferta de $7500 por dicho manuscrito.

Otro documento que falta es el alegato original relativo a la causa de Dred Scott, escrito por el padre del poeta, que fue un famoso abogado de San Luis.

La señora Field ha revelado hoy la pérdida de esos documentos y de varios otros, pues supone que quien los haya tomado va a intentar venderlos.

Juez que Bate en Record de los Juicios de Divorcio

CHICAGO, Febrero 3.—Durante el mes de Enero, el juez de circuito Lynch, ha sentado un record de acciones de divorcio, al que, según dice el secretario de su juzgado, no se ha acercado ningún otro funcionario judicial norteamericano. Firmó durante el citado mes 515 peticiones de divorcio, y oyó durante igual período 2031 mociones en el mismo sentido.

El Estudio de la Psitacosis Cobra una Nueva Víctima

BALTIMORE, Febrero 3.—Ha sido descubierto aquí un segundo caso de lo que parece ser psitacosis, entre los médicos del departamento de sanidad que manejaron pericos enfermos o muertos durante el estudio que, desde hace un mes, en que apareció en Maryland, ha estado haciendo dicho departamento de la citada enfermedad.

El doctor William Royal Stokes, director de la oficina de bacteriología, se halla enfermo en el Mercy Hospital, y, según el comisario de sanidad Jones, Stokes lleva dos semanas de cama. Los médicos creyeron en un principio que se trataba de una neumonía.

El doctor Stokes estuvo trabajando con el doctor Hatfield, director de la oficina de enfermedades contagiosas, en el estudio de la enfermedad de las cotorras, desde que aperció ésta aquí, causando desde luego dos muertes.

Los Sindicalizados Arrojan Bombas a un Hotel

KANSAS CITY, Febrero 3.—Una bomba, que fue arrojada contra la luna de un escaparate de la farmacia del Hotel Commodore, causó hoy daños valorados en varios miles de dólares, tanto al hotel como a algunos edificios inmediatos.

Nadie salió lesionado. El edificio lo explota Harry Goldberg, quien es asimismo arrendatario de un edificio de apartamientos averiado por un incendio el sábado último. Dice Goldberg que, en la construcción del hotel, se emplearon obreros libres.

Sacó el señor Bliss un pedazo de papel del bolsillo y escribió en él, "Creo que sería bueno ponerle a prueba" (Mr. Bliss took a piece of paper from his pocket. He wrote on it, "Guess we'd better try him").

Diole a Horacio este papel y le dijo que lo llevara a la imprenta (He gave this paper to Horace, and told him to take it to the printing office). Horacio, con su sombrerillo blanco y sus rarezas, se fue a la imprenta (Horace, with his little white hat and strange ways, went into the printing office). Los muchachos del taller se rieron de él; pero el regente dijo que iba a ponerle a prueba (The boys in the office laughed at him. But the foreman said he would try him).

Esa noche, los muchachos de la imprenta dijeron al señor Bliss, "¿No va usted a ocupar a ese cabeza de estopa, verdad?" (That night the boys in the office said to Mr. Bliss, "You are not going to take that tow-head, are you?")

El señor Bliss replicó, "Hay algo en esa cabeza de estopa, y ya lo verán ustedes pronto" (Mr. Bliss said, "There is something in that tow-head. You boys will find it out soon").

SHIP LINE FACES REBATE CHARGE

Los Angeles-San Francisco Company Accused

Competing Interests File Formal Complaint

Cases Cited Covering Two Years' Operation

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The Los Angeles-San Francisco Navigation Company was charged with rebating of freight rates and other tariff and classification violations, according to a formal complaint filed here today with the California Railroad Commission.

The company has operated regular freight and passenger service between Los Angeles Harbor and San Francisco Bay for several years. Its freight rates on file with the commission are the same as those of other coastwise lines.

The charges were filed by Hugh Gordon, Los Angeles attorney, on behalf of the Christenson-Hammond Line, Los Angeles Steamship Company, McCormick Steamship Company, Nelson Steamship Company and Pacific Steamship Company.

These competing coastwise lines contend that the asserted practices of the defendant in assessing less and different rates than those specified in the tariff has diverted from these lines a large volume of tonnage. The complainants ask that the commission order the Los Angeles-San Francisco Navigation Company to desist from violating the Public-Utilities Act.

The complaint is replete with specific charges covering a two-year period of alleged absorption of drayage charges, assessing rates not shown in their tariff, giving certain shippers less than carload service at carload rates, acting as agents of shippers and consignees for consolidating and distributing, and other unlawful practices.

RIVERA EATS HUMBLE PIE

Ex-Dictator Explains Attack on Duke to Avoid Fighting Postponed Duel

MADRID, Feb. 3. (AP)—Challenged to a duel, Gen. Primo de Rivera, Spain's ousted dictator, has offered his explanations to the Duke of Almodovar and thus evaded necessity of settling an affair of honor with pistols.

Five years ago in the first days of his dictatorship Gen. Primo De Rivera made particularly violent statements in criticism of Ministers of the Cabinet preceding his. One of those assailed was the Duke of Almodovar, former Minister of Interior, who was termed a "weak and inept man."

The Duke sent Primo a letter, demanding explanations or reparations by arms on the field of honor. Gen. Primo De Rivera replied that while he was in power he would not undertake anything of this sort, but would leave the solution until such a time as he had abandoned his post.

Twenty-four hours had not elapsed after Primo's fall from power before the Duke sent his seconds, Capt.-Gen. Anzar and Jose Pedregal y Sanchez Calvo, another former Minister, to demand satisfaction.

Gen. Primo De Rivera told the seconds he was sending a letter to the Duke recalling his gallantry and that he was always a gentleman, and making his explanations for the objectionable remarks.

Bribery Charged in Liquor Case Hearing

Ex-Mayor Says $2300 Paid Him by Bootleggers

OKLAHOMA CITY, Feb. 3. (AP)—Resignation of W. O. Gordon, assistant Attorney-General of Oklahoma, who was accused by a witness in Federal District Court today of accepting bribes for withholding prosecution of Earlsboro city officers, was announced tonight by W. A. Murphy, ranking assistant Attorney-General.

Homer Knappenberger, former Mayor of Earlsboro, testified today at the government's trial of thirty persons charged with conspiring to violate the Federal liquor laws, that he had paid Gordon on three occasions a total of $2300 when Gordon threatened to expose him before State and Federal grand juries for accepting protection money from bootleggers.

Financial History is Merely Repeating

THE laments of 1929 are not new. From the very beginning it has been shown that whatever goes up is sure to come down. For every loss there is a gain; for every gain a loss. It is simply a fundamental law of nature applied to finance.

The idea of getting something for nothing is merely a delusion. Here and there a person appears to get something for nothing; but follow the case through to the end and you will find the inexorable law of equity applied somehow somewhere along the line.

Hence the speculator, or the investor who seeks more than that to which he is justly entitled, is beaten before he starts.

Only the investor who proceeds on the basis of sound investment attains the goal of permanent gain.

Good first mortgages do not come down because they do not go up. In other words, they do not fluctuate. They can therefore be utilized as the basis of sound investment. All of this is part of financial history.

'Good' First Mortgages

It is necessary, however, to define the term 'good first mortgages'. 'Good', according to the standards of this Company, means first trust deeds which are secured by approved and improved real estate having a sound value of at least twice the amount of the loans.

By 'approved' real estate we mean that which is well located in desirable, growing communities, properly improved and well maintained.

The worth of all property accepted as security by this Company is established by widely experienced, State-approved appraisers who analyze and take into consideration all the surrounding factors which may affect future values. Thus, when a loan is approved, we know that it is soundly secured, not only at the time it is executed, but that it will so continue until maturity. It is by virtue of this very exacting appraisal system that the first liens held by this Company constitute the highest degree of protection obtainable.

The Basis of Sound Investment

These soundly secured first liens on private residences, courts, flats, apartments and business properties in various communities and districts of the State, are grouped and placed in trust, and a like amount of Insured First Mortgage Certificates are then issued in denominations of $100 and upward.

These Certificates provide an even higher degree of safety than any individual lien can possibly give, for the reason that they represent pro rata, undivided ownership of a multiplicity of liens, which, in turn, are further safeguarded by wide diversification, geographical and otherwise.

Moreover, as an added safety factor, the liens are insured as to both principal and interest, by this Company, under the Mortgage Insurance Act of California.

Completely Care-free

Because of the exceptional underlying security, the insurance against any loss of either principal or interest, and the freedom from speculative influences, these Certificates constitute the most completely care-free investment that it is possible to provide. This safety of principal, certainty of income and freedom from market fluctuations, eliminate all thought of worry and responsibility. It is even possible to arrange for the automatic re-investment of funds on maturity dates without any loss of interest. Thus the Certificates may be put away and "forgotten" with an absolutely free mind. There are no coupons to clip as interest is paid by check—either quarterly or semi-annually at the option of the investor.

Maturities range from two to five years and the yield is 6%.

A request in person, by telephone, or on the accompanying coupon will bring you by mail a copy of the descriptive booklet.

FROSH BATTLES FOR HIS PANTS

Santa Ana High School Has Outbreak of Hazing

Automobile Set on Fire as Motorists Watch Struggle

Plucky Youth Loses Unequal Struggle to Retain Garb

SANTA ANA, Feb. 3.—An automobile was set on fire and several students received bruises and scratches in an outbreak of hazing at Santa Ana High School today against freshmen arriving to begin the new term. The outbreak, which was laid to fraternity men, was said to have been the first of its kind to occur on the local campus in several years. A mob which formed during the noon period had removed the trousers of several new students when one of them threatened to knock down the first who approached him. The crowd accepted the challenge and attempted to remove the youth's clothing. The melee which followed, in which the daring freshie had all his clothes removed but his underwear, drew a crowd near Ross street and several motorists stood up in their cars to watch the fight. A cigarette stub, said to have been discarded by one of the youths, set the cushions of a car ablaze but the fire was quelled before any considerable damage was done.

D. K. Hammond, principal of the school, said that he had not learned particulars of the hazing but that rules of the school were stringent in the matter and that the offenders, should they be found out, would be summarily punished.

Sailor Killed in Plunge Into Bay From Gangplank

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—Benjamin Branham, 29-year-old sailor, was killed today when he plunged into the harbor from a gangplank on the U.S.S. Partridge, naval tug, berthed at the municipal pier. Branham lost his footing on the gangplank, falling overboard into the bay. In falling he struck the edge of the pier with his head, cutting a deep gash.

Witnesses said they did not see Branham fall but he was seen to step on the gangplank and the next thing that attracted attention of sailors was a loud splash on the water.

The body was taken from the bay by boat hooks. Deputy Coroner Harry Leech ordered the body to Bonham Brothers' mortuary pending further investigation.

Subsidy Sought by New Bus Line

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3.—The northern sections of North Hollywood, in the direction toward San Fernando, may soon be given a bus line if the communities will guarantee a subsidy of $4000 for a six-months' period of operation of a service by the Pasadena-Ocean Park line that will run from San Fernando Road over Lankershim Boulevard through the business section of North Hollywood, Universal City and Cahuenga Pass to Hollywood, it is announced here by those making efforts to obtain the line.

For several years there has been talk of the line and of other lines that would run locally in and out of North Hollywood district. Several lines that have been started have failed to pay after operating several months. Within recent months population has steadily increased. It is believed now that this gain in prospective users will justify the establishment of the line.

Soldier and His Bride in Wreck

SANTA MARIA, Feb. 3. (AP)—Private Carl W. Heyne, United States Army, stationed at Monterey, sustained fractures of both legs in an automobile accident north of here today. He was brought to a hospital here.

Heyne was married in San Pedro last night. His bride and Sergt. W. J. Allen were with him in the automobile when it overturned at a curve. Allen and Mrs. Heyne were not injured. Wedding presents and an undetermined sum of money were burned when the car caught fire.

EXTENSIONS MADE TO VALLEY RURAL ROUTES

SAN FERNANDO, Feb. 3.—Effective today, an extension of about five miles was added to rural route No. 2 out of the local postoffice, it is stated by Postmaster Caldwell. A change also is contemplated in route No. 1 which gives service to Granada residents. The extension to route No. 2 includes new territory north of the city in the section known as Valley View Heights. Postmasters in other towns in San Fernando Valley have announced further extensions to all rural routes, to serve postal patrons not hitherto served by rural carriers.

PHARMACY'S CASH STOLEN

HUNTINGTON PARK, Feb. 3.—Some one who evidently knew the hiding-place of money at the Bolton Pharmacy, entered the store by cutting a glass in the rear door during the night, and stole $80 which had been hidden among the merchandise just before the store was closed for the night. J. F. Bolton of Inglewood is owner of the establishment.

TREASURER PLEADS GUILTY

Harry N. Dunbar, Aged City Official of Riverside, Secures Dismissal of Misappropriation Charge

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 3.—Harry N. Dunbar, for more than fifteen years City Treasurer here and who a few months ago was removed from office following a special auditor's report charging a shortage in excess of $12,000 in municipal funds, today pleaded guilty in Superior Court to two counts of falsification of the records of his office. The third count on which he was indicted by the grand jury, that of misappropriation of funds, he denied.

Dist.-Atty. Ford immediately moved for dismissal of the misapplication charge on the ground of insufficient evidence. Judge Warmer of San Bernardino, who presided due to disqualification of local judges, granted the motion.

Through his attorney, A. H. Winder, the elderly defendant, asked for probation. The plea was referred to the County Probation office. Dist.-Atty. Ford, in moving for dismissal of the third count, declared that "various auditors have been working upon the books and accounts of the City Treasurer's office since the indictment was returned by the grand jury last October. While most of them are still convinced of the actual shortage of more than $12,000, others are ready to testify the shortage at most is not more than $600. It would be difficult, I believe, to prove that the embezzlement as charged by the grand jury has taken place."

Attorney Winder in issuing a statement on behalf of his client declared he is convinced that Dunbar "never took $1 of money to which he was not entitled."

"As to the charge to which he pleaded technically guilty I believe the following statement made by one of the auditors in his report is the best explanation: 'It is purely a case where an aged man finds himself in a position of being ostensibly short in funds and not having the time to check his books for the difference, used the easiest means of retaining a balance.'"

Dunbar has been confined to his bed for weeks, continuance after continuance having been made necessary.

DAMON AND PYTHIAS IN REAL LIFE

Wounded Pasadena Man in Hospital Tries to Shield Friend Accused of Attack

ORANGE, Feb. 3.—Herman Noll, 49 years of age, Pasadena real estate salesman, was in the Orange County Hospital today with a bullet near his heart, received Saturday night, but he refused to cast suspicion for the wound on his friend of twenty-five years, Andy Laswell, orange fumigator. Laswell was arrested on a complaint charging assault with a deadly weapon with intent to go great bodily harm and after posting $500 bond with Justice of the Peace Ingle was released. He will be arraigned Friday at 10 a.m.

From his bed at the hospital Noll sent this message to newspapers. "It was an accident. Just one of those things that result when folks are drinking." Chief of Police B. F. Richarer of Orange signed the complaint.

Laswell at his home, awaiting the Sheriff, said, "I didn't shoot him. He wasn't shot in my house. I will tell my little story to the District Attorney. Noll didn't get his liquor here. Ask Noll what he has to say." Despite the veil of mystery which the Pasadena Damon and the Orange Pythias attempted to throw around the shooting, officers established the following facts:

Noll was taken to the Orange County Hospital early Saturday night by Arthur Muellen, local druggist, son-in-law of Laswell. A bullet which entered his chest on the left side, narrowly missing the heart, lodged on the right side. Physicians at the hospital discovered that Noll had been drinking.

Cafe Proprietor Robbed While He Counted Cash

OCEANSIDE, Feb. 3. (AP)—Counting his week-end receipts in plain view of patrons today cost Bert Cofer, cafe operator, $600. An unmasked robber, who came into the El Rey Cafe for a cup of coffee, left with the $600. Cofer had the bills and silver spread out on the counter when the man shoved both hands and a gun over it.

Cofer and a waitress were locked into a linen closet by the robber to guarantee his safe departure. The cafe chef, hearing the racket made by the chagrined cafe man in his closet, released them a few minutes later. No trace of the robber has been found, the police force of Oceanside having left his all-night duties shortly before the hold-up. Belief was expressed that the robber had timed his act to follow the exit of Chief of Police Charles Goss, Oceanside's sole officer of the law.

APATHY SHOWN FOR CENSUS-TAKING JOB

VAN NUYS, Feb. 3.—Residents here and in other parts of San Fernando Valley apparently are not showing much interest in the coming taking of the census. There have been very few applicants as enumerators for the census work. Those at the head of the census in the San Fernando Valley district today state that unless there are more applications as enumerators it is likely that outsiders will have to be brought in to gather the information sought. Applicants are requested to communicate with C. E. Chenoweth, 328 West Lexington Drive, Glendale. So far only a small number have applied, according to Chenoweth.

REQUEST FOR NEW SCHOOL IS DENIED

SAN FERNANDO, Feb. 3.—Despite the fact that there has been a large increase in the enrollment here the request for a new forty-room administration building at the San Fernando High School has been denied by the Board of Education, because of lack of allocation of funds for the purpose. It is stated that small bungalow schools will be built on the school campus to serve until the larger building can be erected.

RANCHER KILLED NEAR SANTA ANA BY AUTO

SANTA ANA, Feb. 3. (AP)—William Howard, 48 years of age, Tustin ranch worker, was killed today by a speeding automobile which struck him as he stood beside his own car on the State highway near here. The driver of the other car, Creighton Burton, reported that he did not know he had struck the man or car until he had gone several blocks.

BOY ADMITS BURGLARIES

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3.—Admitting fifteen store burglaries in recent weeks, Dwayne Bryden, 15 years of age, is held by police for juvenile authorities following his arrest early yesterday. Bryden today guided police around the city to nearly a score of business houses which he admitted entering and stealing money and foodstuffs, police reports declare.

Smallpox and Mumps Invade Redlands Area

REDLANDS, Feb. 3.—A flurry of very light smallpox and heavy mumps is prevalent here, but Dr. K. L. Dole, Health Officer, says there is little cause for hysteria.

"There are several cases of smallpox scattered over the city," he said, "but they are all light. So far there has not been a bad case, although there is always danger of one. Every case is isolated immediately. We are almost sure it was brought here by one of the fruit workers who came in from Texas."

Dr. Dole says that there have been some severe cases of mumps, but that no serious consequences have resulted. All of the school children and the people have been advised to be vaccinated for smallpox and the response has been general, the physician reporting from forty to seventy vaccinations each a day for several days, so that several thousand have been vaccinated.

Fireman's Wife Victim of Fire

GLENDALE, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Thomas A. Maughan, 1232 Allen avenue, wife of a city fireman, is in hospital today suffering from severe first and second-degree burns received when her dress became ignited last night as she was preparing the evening meal.

Her two children, Leonard, 14 years of age, and Leona, 12, leaped to their mother's rescue and fought the flames that enveloped her. Firemen who responded to the alarm administered first aid to Mrs. Maughan and she was later transferred to the Windsor Hospital, where doctors say she is expected to recover.

Mrs. Maughan told Battalion Chief J. D. Myers that she had cleaned the kitchen floor earlier in the day with a cleaning solvent mixed with linseed oil, and a burned spot on the floor indicated that the cleaning fluid had caught fire in some manner.

Bandit Foiled By Clever Ruse

ONTARIO, Feb. 3.—It made Austin Jones mad when a bandit stuck a revolver in his ribs and ordered him to "'stick 'em up and stick 'em up high."

Jones, at a late hour last night, had just put his car away in the garage, switched out the light and turned to go to the house. From a dark recess between buildings, the bandit with the gun stepped out with the "Stick 'em up" command.

"What's that?" shouted Jones, pretending to be deaf. The order was repeated and Jones asked his question again, louder. Then Jones saw a group of young men leaving the American Legion clubhouse, across the street, and once more he yelled, this time "Hey, police!" The gunman withdrew the weapon from Jones's ribs and dashed down the alley.

CHAMBER TO WORK FOR NEW HIGHWAY

STONEHURST, Feb. 3.—Clay F. Jorgenson was elected president of the local Chamber of Commerce at the annual meeting held here. William G. McGuire was chosen vice-president, and Robert Patterson, secretary-treasurer. Charles McLain is the retiring president. One of the activities of the chamber for the year will be to further the building of Glen Oaks Boulevard that is to run between Burbank and San Fernando, parallel to San Fernando Road.

LACK OF REHEARSAL CRABS ACT

Motorist Tells Officer Illness of Little Girl Made Him Drive Against Traffic Signal; But What She Replied Results in Flopping Entire Show

SAN GABRIEL, Feb. 3.—It sometimes pays to hold a rehearsal before presenting a sketch with a traffic cop as audience.

There is a Pasadena motorist who realizes this, but it is too late. Through the unfortunate slip of the supporting member of his cast his show flopped.

"What's the idea of going so fast and running through a traffic signal like that?" asked Motorcycle Officer C. E. Miller early this morning as he ordered the motorist "over to the curb."

"Well, I'm awfully sorry, officer," replied the driver, politely. "I saw the light, but my little girl here was sick and I was rushing her home, so I didn't pay much attention to the way I was going. My mind wasn't on the car, as it should have been. I wanted to get her home just as fast I could." And he looked down at the little daughter with paternal solicitude.

The officer's heart was touched. "Oh, I'm sorry," he said, sympathetically, and, putting his summons book back in his pocket turned to the child. "Do you feel very bad, sister?" he asked.

"Hell, no, I ain't sick," she answered brightly.

The scene now shifts to a home in Pasadena, but what happened there is not revealed.

Anyway, the man got a ticket. What did the little girl get?

Two Inquests in Canyon Fatality Will Be Today

UPLAND, Feb. 3.—Charles Caldwell, 18 years of age, 568 East Sixty-first street, Los Angeles, only one of a party of six boys not killed in an automobile crash in San Antonio Canyon shortly after noon Sunday, showed such strong resistance to death at San Antonio Community Hospital today that plans were being made for his removal to a Los Angeles hospital.

Caldwell's dead companions, all Los Angeles High School boys, were William Brown, 15, 250 East Seventieth street; Arthur and James Hubbard, 18 and 17, respectively, 320 East Sixty-ninth street; Melvin Leiter, 18, 315 East Seventy-first street, and Howard White, 14, 5870 South Los Angeles street.

Early reports that the boys were racing their light touring car at sixty miles an hour to escape a traffic officer, were discounted today at word from investigating officers that both rear brakebands of the wrecked car were burned out.

The car bearing the six boys leaped over the embankment in San Antonio Canyon, rolling down a steep, deep precipice. A Los Angeles county traffic officer was following the boys to warn them against the curves in the lower part of the canyon. Momentum of the car gained from about thirty miles an hour to sixty miles, with four boys in the machine and one standing on each running-board.

Brown and White were killed instantly. Arthur Hubbard died on the way to the hospital here and Melvin Leiter died on the way to the operating room. James Hubbard died about 6 p.m.

Caldwell is said to have fractures of one leg and arm and internal injuries.

Several motorists on the way to Camp Baldy, from which resort the boys were returning, were jeopardized on the canyon highway by the boy-laden automobile, which roared around curves and down steep grades on its way to the tragic crash.

An inquest will be held at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Drapers' Upland chapel over Arthur Hubbard, James Hubbard and Melvin Leiter. Another inquest will be at 1:30 p.m. at Pomona over William Brown and Howard White.

TWO FILM PLAYERS HURT IN AUTO CRASH

ANAHEIM, Feb. 3. (AP)—Carl Freeman, film actor, was taken to his Hollywood home today suffering from a broken arm received in an automobile mishap yesterday. He and Alice Day, film actress, were hurled out when his car skidded and overturned. Miss Day was only slightly hurt. Freeman gave his address as 1218 Gordon street, Hollywood.

SCHOOLGIRL MISSING

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 3.—Police are looking for Audrey Payne, 14 years of age, who was last seen playing on the local high school grounds. She lives with her grandmother, Mrs. G. H. Weston, at 5124 Tujunga avenue. San Fernando Valley detectives say they have clews of the girl's whereabouts.

WAITER GETS TIRED WAITING

So He Takes Chairs, Hocks Them, Buys Canned Heat; Comes Back for More

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 3. Jack Davis, a waiter, had sat on the hard chairs in the Culinary Alliance Union clubrooms long enough for a job; in fact, he had waited too long, in his opinion.

So seeking relief from the monotony of the bare walls, hard chairs and discouraging philosophy of those out of work like himself, Davis picked up a couple of the chairs and hocked them, using the returns to purchase a draught of canned heat, according to police.

If one can won't kill you, just one more wouldn't do any harm, apparently was the way Davis reasoned so he returned for a couple of more chairs, only to be stopped half way down the stairs of the clubrooms by Detectives Harland Kimsey and Ove Westergaard. He was released this morning when the union refused to file a complaint against him.

MINIATURE GUN NEARLY KILLS MAN

"I'm Going to End it All," Says Collegian, Snatching Tiny Gat; He Almost Does

PASADENA, Feb. 3.—"I'm going to end it all," chuckled Edward Engle, Pasadena College student, as he snatched a tiny watch charm pistol from a friend this morning and pressed it against his temple. Before the pistol's owner could shout a warning, Engle pulled the trigger and a small explosion followed. The jest became a near tragedy when a bullet, less than an eighth of an inch long, pierced the student's scalp and came dangerously near his brain.

Engle was rushed to the Pasadena Emergency Hospital, where he was given first aid by Chief Surgeon C. C. Troensegaard for a flesh wound and powder burns. The joke suicide victim resides at 1417 North Hill avenue.

Ventura in Line for Guard Unit

VENTURA, Feb. 3.—News that this city is in line to have a unit of the National Guard of California was laid before the Chamber of Commerce today by Thomas Bergseid, a reserve officer, who conferred at Sacramento a few days ago with Gen. Mittelstaedt.

Maj. Gerard, another reserve officer; Melrowe Martin, superintendent of schools, and Ray Wiegel, ex-service man, spoke in favor of this community's seeking the establishment of such a company.

All based their recommendations on the benefits that would accrue in the way of physical training and discipline for the young men of the community.

The chamber adopted a resolution indorsing the movement to establish such a unit, and authorized the appointment of a committee to work toward that end.

Masked Bandits Bind, Rob Four

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3. (AP)—Two masked robbers entered the apartment of J. W. Winings here today, bound the man, his wife, and Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Kemp, who were visiting them, and escaped with $1750 worth of jewelry and $150 in cash.

Police said the robbery was the third here recently in which the robbers used the same methods. The loot in the former two robberies was $750 and $3000. Winings said the robbers knocked, and when admitted to his apartment, methodically drew the blinds, lined them up against the wall and tied the victims. He said his hands were tied behind his back and then bound to Kemp's, which likewise were bound behind his back. The women were tied in chairs.

Falk Talks With Nephew in Paris

PASADENA, Feb. 3.—"Hold the wire, Paris, France, is calling Maurice Falk." Miss Jane Baxter, telephone operator at Hotel Huntington, thought someone was playing a joke, but used to the vagaries of wealthy guests, she transferred the call to Falk's suite.

Inquiry revealed that Marcel Levy, nephew of the Pittsburgh philanthropist, and now in Paris, ordered the 8000-mile telephone connection to inform his uncle regarding recent business developments. The connection was maintained for ten minutes, but the cost was not announced.

Falk recently announced establishment of a $10,000,000 charitable fund in Pittsburgh.

CAPT. GOODALL RITES IN SAN FRANCISCO

LONG BEACH, Feb. 3.—Funeral services for Capt. Harry Goodall, prominent Pacific Coast shipping leader, who died here Sunday, will be conducted at San Francisco. The body was sent north today. Capt. Goodall resided here, coming after selling his estate at Montecito to Mrs. Leota Armour Mitchell. Death ended plans by Mr. and Mrs. Goodall for a European cruise in their new yacht, the Winona, now being completed at a Mormon Island shipyard. Capt. Goodall was 56 years of age. He was a graduate of Leland Stanford University. He followed his father into shipping. The captain held membership in a number of exclusive clubs at San Francisco and Santa Barbara, where he resided for ten years.

BEACH TRAFFIC TOLL HEAVY

Woman Killed and Eight Injured in Bay District in Week-end Chapter of Motor Mishaps There

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 3.—Traffic accidents brought one death and a heavy week-end toll of injured in the bay district, according to police reports. Mrs. Maude Allen, 55 years of age, of the Mason Hotel, this city, was reported to have died this morning at the Los Angeles General Hospital following an accident last night at Speedway and Westminister avenue, Venice, when she was knocked down and dragged by a bus of the Bay Cities Transit Company. She was picked up unconscious, and after treatment at the Venice Emergency Hospital, where it was believed her skull had been fractured, was rushed to the Los Angeles hospital.

Ernest L. Bishop, 27 years of age, driver of the bus, told investigating officers Niles and Bailey the woman had darted immediately in front of the heavy vehicle while it was traveling at fifteen miles an hour on the Speedway. Bishop was not held last night after questioning at the Venice Police Station. An inquest will be held in the case, police here stated.

Mrs. Alice Blake, 1314 Sixth street, was sent to the Santa Monica Hospital after sustaining a possible skull fracture when she was hurled fifteen feet by an automobile while crossing Ocean avenue at Arizona avenue, police here reported. Hilbert Anthony, driver of the car, of Los Angeles, was not held. A. Schenell, 14402 Amalfi Drive, and R. J. Coovert, 1443 Stanford street, who took the injured women to the hospital, declared Mrs. Blake had started to cross the street from behind a parked machine, and had almost stepped in the path of both their cars before Anthony's struck her. Anthony was not held.

Arthur Parr, Venice schoolboy, 15 years of age, of 21 Avenue 23, sustained a compound fracture of the right leg when struck by a machine driven by George Kesterson, 35, of 229 Detroit avenue, Huntington Beach. The accident occurred at the alleyway between Avenue 23 and North Venice Boulevard. The driver reported the boy stepped from an open garage door directly in front of his machine. Parr was taken to the General Hospital.

A 9-year-old girl, Esther Lawson, 119 Paloma avenue, Venice, was injured in the right arm and back when she skated into a large ice truck at Sunset and Second avenues, Venice. The driver of the truck, believed to have been unaware of the accident, drove away and was unidentified.

Four other Santa Monicans were injured, none seriously, in the heavy week-end toll.

SANITARY SURVEY OF CITY MADE

Redlands Business Area Inspected; Fire Hazards Given Attention Also

REDLANDS, Feb. 3.—Out of 3228 buildings in the local business district, the city has found only three to be unsanitary. This report is one of the results of a city-wide survey being conducted by Inspector James C. Scott under instructions from Theodore Krumm, chairman of the Sanitary Commission of the City Council. Equal attention is being given to fire hazards.

"Every week the Sanitary Board will make a report of the conditions found on each street as the city-wide inspection progresses," said Krumm. "During the last week inspection has been completed on several streets.

"On Myrtle street only one fire hazard was found and Scott disclosed one violation of the ordinance that prohibits the throwing of tin cans on vacant lots.

"On Sonora street two premises were ordered cleaned up, but otherwise the street was in excellent condition. Nordina and Fourth streets were found in perfect condition. On Eureka street only two objectionable features were found. One involved a fire hazard and the other the burning of garbage, which is prohibited in the city limits.

"University street, too, was found 100 per cent clean. McKinley Drive had one fire hazard and one violation of the garbage ordinance.

"The city of Redlands has passed through the month of January without a single fire, which is an unusual record for a town of this size. It shows what co-operation by the people in removing fire hazards will accomplish," Krumm concluded.

County's Share of Road Rushed

VENTURA, Feb. 3.—Work on Ventura county's share of the Maricopa road will be practically one-fourth completed in another thirty days, when Contractor Bert Calvert finishes his part of the highway in the Cuyama River section, according to Engineer Charles W. Petit, who visited the scene of construction Saturday.

Charles G. Willis & Sons, contractors on the strip between the Cuyama River and the summit of Pine Mountain, will not be finished with their contract until November, Petit said, but he added that the contractors are about three weeks ahead of schedule at present. When Willis finishes, the big artery will be nearly half done, Petit said.

Man Sentenced as Citrus Thief

REDLANDS, Feb. 3.—Robert T. Jackson yesterday was sentenced to spend six months in the County Jail for his part in the theft of oranges from the Otto Morgan grove in the West Lugonia-avenue district. The sentence was read by Police Judge Charles G. Potter here after Jackson had admitted that he was picking oranges in the grove early Friday morning, when he was captured by Homer Fair and Charles T. Morgan. Jackson's partner in crime escaped.

Fair and Morgan will divide a $100 reward, which undoubtedly will be given them by the Packers' Protective Association, which has a standing reward of that nature for arrest and conviction of citrus thieves.

SAN GABRIEL VALLEY CHAMBERS TO MEET

TEMPLE CITY, Feb. 3.—More than 200 visitors are expected tomorrow evening for the monthly dinner of the San Gabriel Valley Associated Chambers of Commerce, to which the local chamber will be host. The meeting will be held in the Community Church Hall. Dr. Walter C. Buckner of Pasadena will give the principal address and Walter E. Keefe of Monrovia, president of the valley chambers, will preside. The program has been arranged by Roy Teeters, local chamber secretary.

WORKMAN SMOTHERED WHEN DITCH CAVES IN

OCEANSIDE, Feb. 3. (AP)—William Fisher, 20 years of age, was suffocated today when a ditch in which he was working caved in, burying him. A group of fellow-workers escaped. Twenty-five minutes later they dragged his body from the impromptu grave but found him dead. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

EIGHTH GRADE ABOLISHED

PACOIMA, Feb. 3.—Eighth-grade classes at the Haddon-street school have been abolished, and with the beginning of the new semester today all eighth-grade pupils will attend the junior high school classes at San Fernando, several miles north of here.

Second Victim in Naval Explosion Dies in Hospital

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—The second victim among three sailors injured in an explosion below decks on the destroyer Talbot here a fortnight ago was claimed by death today when Thomas A. Mullenix, seaman second class, succumbed at the Balboa Park Naval Hospital. Naval authorities reported Mullenix's death as attributed to a heart complication resulting from burns received in the explosion, it is reported.

Mullenix, Alexander Martinowicz, gunner's mate third class, and Donald D. Phillips, machinists' mate second class, were working with an oxy-acetylene torch on the Talbot, which is being recommissioned to take the place of the decommissioned destroyer Marcus, when the explosion occurred. Martinowicz died at the naval hospital on the third day following the accident. The condition of Phillips was reported today to be fair.

Mullenix leaves a widow, Mrs. Mullenix of Ontario, and his parents, who reside in Wabash, Ind.

American Killed in Mexico Crash

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 3.—Believed to have been an American citizen, an unidentified man was killed and a woman and child seriously injured when two automobiles collided on the Tia Juana-Agua Caliente highway early today, reports from Tia Juana said. The dead man was driving one of the cars. His body is in a Tia Juana mortuary. The driver of the other car is Jose Figueroa of Tia Juana. He is being held in jail, reports said.

Figueroa's wife and baby were injured. They are reported in a Tia Juana hospital. Details of the crash and information regarding the identity of the dead man were not available at the Tia Juana police station, although an investigation was under way.

BOY SCOUT'S GOOD TURN CHEATS DEATH

ONTARIO, Feb. 3.—A Boy Scout, too modest to give his name, today did his daily good turn. Hearing a crash of breaking glass he dashed to the scene and saw that Miss Vivian Collier, 401 West Grove street, had severed the artery and muscles of her left wrist. In a few seconds the Scout fashioned a tourniquet, checked the flow of blood and summoned a physician. Miss Collier was taken to San Antonio Community Hospital, where the injury was pronounced serious. The Scout was complimented on his presence of mind. "Aw, that's nothing," he said, "any Scout would have done just what I did."

JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL URGED

MAYWOOD, Feb. 3.—Efforts have been started here to secure a junior high school for this section. The City Council has passed a resolution favoring the erecting of such a school building in this city, and a copy of the resolution is to be sent to the Board of Education of the city of Los Angeles, Maywood being in the Los Angeles city school district. The Bell Chamber of Commerce has passed a resolution in which it has promised to give Maywood its support.

Realization

From the time Alice was a baby, the Shellys had wanted to give her a musical education, but felt that they could not afford it. Mrs. Shelly just happened to glance through the musical instruments for sale columns of the Los Angeles Times the other day and there she found an opportunity to fulfill their desires. Another family leaving the city offered to sell their piano at a tremendous discount and Mrs. Shelly realized that here was a piano they COULD afford. Now she also realizes the money-saving opportunities these little want ads afford.

Almost every imaginable object can be purchased through the want ad columns of the Los Angeles Times, the world's greatest want ad service.

Whether it's an object for the home, or a home itself, or a place to rent, or a used car, or an opportunity to enter business, or a chance to loan money, it will pay to keep close watch on these busy, interesting columns that present new offerings every twenty-four hours.

NEON EARNINGS SHARPLY HIGHER

Delaware Claude Company's Net Up 143 Per Cent

Howse Reports Profit of $3.43 a Share

Sizeable Gain in Deferred Business Shown

Claude Neon Electrical Products Corporation, Ltd. (Delaware) and its predecessor company, Claude Neon Electrical Products, Inc. (Arizona,) and subsidiary, Electrical Products Corporation (California,) showed in 1929 consolidated net profits of $718,839.67, after charges and Federal taxes, an increase of $423,190.99, or more than 143 per cent over the 1928 net of $295,648.68, according to the annual report issued yesterday by Paul D. Howse, president.

After allowance of approximately $84,000 for preferred dividends, the net earnings for 1929 were equivalent to about $3.43 a share on 185,000 common shares outstanding before conversion of any of the preferred stock. This compares with $1.14 a share on 185,000 common shares in 1928.

TREND RISES

In his letter to stockholders accompanying the report, Mr. Howse called attention to the fact that the company's net profits have shown a steady increase, being $68,383.46 in 1926; $118,968.24 in 1927; $295,648.68 in 1928, and $718,839.67 in 1929. He added that there has also been a steady increase in deferred profits which are not taken into account in any way in determining the net earnings.

The estimated deferred gross profits on Neon sign rental contracts (subject to general overhead) increased $527,358.04 from $2,257,392.97 at the close of 1928, to $2,784,751.01, as of December 31 last. Unmatured monthly installments of Neon sign rental contracts, less sign costs unamortized, as of December 31, last, totaled $3,643,526.03, an increase of $696,263.52 for the year. Reserve for maintenance, commissions and losses, increased $168,905.48, to $858,775.02, leaving the total estimated deferred gross profits at $2,784,751.01.

Current assets at the end of 1929 totaled $690,273.59, as compared to $420,904.51 at the close of the previous year, an increase of $269,369.08. Current liabilities were $280,081.21, as compared to $193,635.02 at the end of 1928, an increase of $86,446.19. The current ratio as of December 31, last, was 2.46 to 1, as compared to 2.17 to 1 at the end of the previous year. Total assets at the close of 1929 were listed as $6,280,622.89, an increase of $1,287,001.92 during the year.

GROSS HIGHER

The balance sheet as of December 31, last, showed outstanding $351,100 of 7 per cent $20 par cumulative preferred stock, and 208,580 shares of no-par common stock. At the end of the previous year, there was $1,200,000 preferred stock outstanding.

Gross profits on rentals and sales and income from royalties and dividends received from sublicensees during 1929, amounted to $1,381,038.11, as against $917,152.03 for the previous year, a gain of $463,886.08. Selling, administrative and general expenses were $615,122.97, as against $486,431.03, leaving operating profits of $765,915.14, as against $430,721. Other net income amounted to $51,193.17, as against other deductions of $78,739.98 for the previous year, leaving net profits before Federal income taxes, of $817,108.31, as compared with $351,981.02 in 1928.

Common stock and surplus were given at $1,690,744.19, as compared with $433,291.25 at the end of 1928 when 185,000 no-par common shares were outstanding.

Net Profits of Pacific Lighting at Higher Level

Consolidated net profits of Pacific Lighting Corporation and subsidiaries for the year closed December 31, last, amounted to $7,242,043 after all charges including dividends on preferred stocks of subsidiary units, equivalent after preferred dividends of the corporation, to $4.54 a share on the 1,461,834 shares of common stock outstanding at the close of the period, according to a statement issued yesterday by the company.

This compares with net profits of $5,365,838 earned for the year ended December 31, 1928, equivalent after preferred dividends to $4.23 per share on the average number of common shares outstanding during that period, and represents a gain of $1,876,205 or nearly 35 per cent.

The statement for 1929 includes the operations of the Southern California Gas Corporation and its subsidiaries from May 1, 1929, only. Including earnings of these companies for the full year and assuming that the 213,000 shares of Pacific Lighting common stock issued in exchange for Southern California Gas had been outstanding for the full year, the balance available for the common stock would be equivalent to $5.61 a share on the average number of shares outstanding during the year.

Republic's Net From Oil Gains in Past Year

Republic Petroleum Company yesterday reported net income for the year ended December 31, last, before depletion and depreciation of $356,435, equal to $1.03 a share on 344,400 shares of $10 par value stock outstanding as compared with $196,214, or 57 cents a share on the same share basis in 1928.

Oil sales for the year amounted to $545,730 as against $307,460 in the previous year. General expenses were $34,840, as compared with $35,892 for 1928. Production expenses at $62,728 showed a decrease of $2547 and oil royalties paid and deducted were $87,823, as against $15,850 in the preceding year.

Royalties received amounted to $14,101, as against $7284 in 1928, while rents totaled $1077, as against $1631. Gross receipts including oil sales were $560,909.85, as against $316,381.23 in 1928.

COLOR FILMS AID STOCKS

Speculators Take Lively Interest in Success of New Sound-Color Pictures; New Move Predicted

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Yesterday's action in the amusement stocks, which continued the rising tendency of the last few days, reflects rather rapid recovery of confidence after the Fox Film affair. Friends of Paramount, R.-K.-O. and Warner Brothers have insisted that these stocks should not be condemned because of the Fox financial troubles, and evidentl ya sizeable group of speculators is convinced that these companies are booming ahead satisfactorily.

Stories are heard, in fact, that the picture shares are scheduled for the leadership of a new upturn in the general market, with Paramount selected as the stalking horse for the group. It is even suggested that the boom that followed the introduction of sound pictures by Warner Brothers will be duplicated on a smaller scale by the recent successes of the all-color pictures.

RIVALRY STIRRED

Musical comedy pictures like "Sally" and Metro-Goldwyn's "Rogue Song," both done completely in sound and color, have spurred the studios into a new race for the manufacture of the sound-color vehicles. The box-office successes of these pictures have apparently revised studio production schedules, and each of the leading companies is now straining to meet the demand uncovered by the initial ventures.

It is too early to say whether the color successes have introduced another transition in picture production, but it is significant that the stock market is taking an alert interest in the possibilities. The market was quick to appreciate the innovation of sound in the making of pictures and undoubtedly will throw its support to the first company that shows up as the leader in the color field. Speculators still remember the fabulous profits taken in the Warner Brothers flurry.

Which producer will emerge as the color leader is conjectural at this time. Warners' First National unit is making a number of color and sound pictures, Paramount is working on a schedule, and Fox's Metro-Goldwyn studio has already contributed several winners. Right now it appears that success will depend on the judgment used in selecting the play and the acting personnel, rather than the type of color process. Sound-picture competition has, to a large extent, centered around the rivalry between the makers of sound equipment.

ART STILL NEW

Technicolor, Inc., is to date the leader in the color-process field, and is supplying its color cameras and facilitie sto most of the leading producers. Its studios in Hollywood and New York are overtaxed and are now in the process of enlargement to meet the requirements for additional facilities. Undoubtedly, however, other companies in the field will rise to claim a larger share of business, and the success of color pictures may depend on affiliation of production studios with the most successful of the color-process companies.

Color enthusiasts say the black-and-white picture will soon take a minor place in production schedules, just as the silent picture has been forced into the background. Statistics of sound equipment installation in theaters clearly demonstrate that sound pictures are here to stay, and it is not improbable that the claims of the color people will be equally borne out by events. The Western Electric Company reports its sound system now installed in 4610 theaters, of which 3417 installations are in the United States and 1193 in foreign countries.

ADVERTISING HOUSES COMBINE BUSINESSES

Albert Frank & Co., national advertising agency, has consolidated its business with the C. A. Horne Company, the merger being effective on the 1st inst. it was announced yesterday. The company maintains offices in Los Angeles and other financial centers of the country. The San Francisco office has been removed to the San Francisco Stock Exchange Building.

STOCK DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive) Coty, Inc., today declared a stock dividend of 3 per cent, payable June 30, next, to stock of record June 16, next, in addition to the regular quarterly of 50 cents, payable March 31 to stock of record March 14.

MAIN POINTS OF INCOME TAX LAW CHANGES GIVEN

INCOME TAX IN A NUTSHELL

Who? Single persons who had net income of $1500 or more or gross income of $5000 or more, and married couples who had net income of $3500 or more or gross income of $5000 or more must file returns.

When? The filing period ends March 15, 1930.

Where? Collector of internal revenue for the district in which the person lives or has his principal place of business.

How? Instructions on forms 1040A and 1040.

What? One-half of 1 per cent normal tax on first $4000 in excess of personal exemption and credits. Two per cent normal tax on the next $4000. Four per cent normal tax on the balance of net income. Surtax on net income in excess of $10,000.

NO. 1

By joint resolution, adopted upon recommendation of the President and Secretary of the Treasury, Congress has reduced by 1 per cent the normal tax on individual incomes for the calendar year 1929. The reduced rates are one-half of 1 per cent on the first $4000 of net income above the personal exemption and other credits, 2 per cent on the next $4000, and 4 per cent on the remainder, instead of 1½ per cent, 3 per cent and 5 per cent. The surtax rates on income in excess of $10,000 are unchanged. The tax rate on the income of corporations and life insurance companies is reduced from 12 per cent to 11 per cent.

No change is made in the provision relating to the filing of returns. Returns are required of every single person whose net income for the taxable year was $1500 or more, every married person living with husband or wife whose net income was $3500 or more, and every person single or married whose gross income was $5000 or more regardless of net income. Husband and wife living together may each make a separate return of the income of each, or their income may be included in a single joint return, in which case the tax is computed on the aggregate net income.

Under the heading of single individuals are included divorcees and persons separated by mutual consent. A single person who is the head of a family and whose net income for 1929 was $1500 or more must file a return, even though, by reason of the personal exemption and credit for dependents, his income is not taxable.

More than 4,000,000 individual income-tax returns were filed last year. Many contained errors which knowledge of the fundamental provisions of the Revenue Act would have avoided. As an aid in the preparation of correct returns for the year 1929, the Bureau of Internal Revenue has prepared a series of newspaper statements, of which this is the first. Taxpayers also are advised to read carefully the instructions on the forms, copies of which have been sent to persons who filed returns for 1928.

(This is the first of a series of thirty-five articles on Federal income tax procedure, supplied by the Bureau of Internal Revenue.)

Hansen Returns to Re-insurance Post Optimistic

After almost a month spent in the eastern financial centers of the United States, Carl M. Hansen, president of International Re-Insurance Corporation, returned yesterday to find optimistic forecasts for a banner business year in 1930 confirmed by a 100 per cent increase in his own corporation's business during January, as compared with the corresponding month of 1929.

Reinsurance underwriting of the corporation for January of last year, the executive said, amounted to $231,000, but during the month just closed the total increased to $464,000.

"My associates and I are naturally happy over the healthy tone of local business that such an increase indicates," Mr. Hansen said. "But more important than this is the fact that the increase substantiates the optimistic outlook of the business leaders and financiers with whom I conversed during the month I was in the East."

London Market Tone Cheerful

LONDON, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—The stock market had a cheerful tone today as the new account opened. Issues of trans-Atlantic interest were firm. Talking-machine shares were steady. Tobacco, artificial-silk and textile issues had an easier tone. Match shares were firm, while margarine issues were quiet. Cables and Wireless Class B was in better demand. Rubber securities were steady. The oil group had an active tone. Mining issues were strong with continued demand for Congo Bordeo, while other Rhodesian and Kaffirs were in better demand. Ford Motors, Ltd., was quoted around £2 5-16, Brazilian Traction ordinary around 40 1-4, International Nickel around 39 1-4.

The gilt-edged division had a steady tone today. Foreign issues generally were quiet. Home and Argentine rails were in better demand.

Cotton Breaks at New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Cotton on the New Orleans Exchange sold off nearly $3 a bale from Saturday's close under a flood of selling today that was promoted by London and Liverpool advices; indicating the possibility of a lock-out in the Oldham mills.

Failure of the Federal Farm Board to take any action in support of prices was also advanced as a factor behind the slump. At the lowest March contracts sold at 15.65 cents a pound; May, 15.88 cents a pound; and July, 16.16 cents a pound. At these levels values showed recessions of 52 to 57 points from the previous close. At noon the market was somewhat steadier and prices rallied 8 to 11 points, on covering by satisfied shorts.

Drop of $4,742,208 for January Reduces Total to $3,984,758,065

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive) Total net loans of New York Stock Exchange members on collateral contracted for and carried in New York at the close of business January 31, last aggregated $3,984,758,065, a decrease of $4,742,208 since December 31, last, it was announced here today. On January 31, 1929, the loans totaled $6,735,164,242.

The total for the month just closed is the fourth consecutive month in which the loans have declined and the total now is the lowest since October 31, 1927, when the loans were $3,746,137,374.

Of the total on January 31, 3,528,246,115 represented demand loans and $456,521,950 time loans against $3,376,420,785 and $613,089,488 respectively on December 31.

Stock exchange members' net borrowing on call from New York banks or trust companies were $3,007,156,735 against $2,882,622,226 on December 31, and borrowings on time, $361,150,950 against $487,062,000 on December 31.

Net borrowings on call from private banks, brokers, foreign banks, agencies or others in New York City were $521,089,380 against $493,798,559 on December 31, and borrowings on time, $95,371,000 against $126,027,488.

The high record for member loans is $8,549,383,979 on September 30, last, and the low, $2,767,400,514 on May 28, 1926.

Value of State Crops Second in Rail Line Group

Crops grown in California in 1929 had an aggregate value of $539,145,000, an increase of $59,181,000, or more than 12 per cent over the value of 1928 crops, according to an agricultural report issued yesterday covering the twelve Middle West and western States through which the Santa Fe Railroad operates.

With this value California jumps from third into second rank in point of crop value of the twelve States covered in the report. Iowa, although reporting an increase, was displaced from second to third position, while Texas continued to hold first place, although showing a drop in value of $145,176,000 to a total at $610,539,000.

The recent rains in California, having ended the drought and brought the season's precipitation to normal, the farmers of the State are looking forward to a big year, the report stated. The spring work is well along, interrupted only by the frequency of showers; grain fields are greening and the new citrus crop, which will not be so heavy as last year, gives promise of exceptionally fine quality, according to the report.

COTTON MARKET

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—The declines of late last week were followed by renewed weakness in the cotton market here today under a renewal of liquidation and general selling. Trade buying and covering was reported on a scale down, but prices made new low records for the movement and season. The active months showed net declines of 50 to 52 points around 2 o'clock.

OPTIMIST ON COTTON FOUND

Use as Textile Staple Held Coming Back; Growers Warned to Reduce Acreage

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

[Copyright, 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance]

NEW YORK, Feb. 3.—"Cotton is coming back and is being used in more garments this year than ever," C. R. Palmer, president of Cluett, Peabody & Co., told me.

The cotton farmer, like the wheat farmer, is still trying to figure out how to spread every dollar of his small income over two dollars of expenses.

His trouble is largely a matter of too much acreage. The 1929 planted acreage was the largest, with the exception of 1925 and 1926, in history.

"Nothing but a crop failure in Texas in 1929 prevented a total yield of 16,000,000 bales in the belt; that is more cotton than the world will take at a fair price," says the Federal Farm Board, warning growers that present prices cannot be maintained unless they voluntarily reduce acreage.

The board has studied the problem from all angles. It has listened to the cotton farmer tell of his distress.

Then the board makes this statement: "The Federal Farm Board cannot protect farmers when they deliberately overplant."

No business ever survived under such a handicap. How can agriculture expect to?

Just before Portes Gil retired as President of Mexico he signed a statute requiring all foreign insurance companies in Mexico to invest at least one-half of their reserve fund in Mexican securities.

"Wild Bill" Massey, manager of the Sun Life Assurance Company, protested. He did more—he yelled bloody murder. A resident of Mexico twenty-five years, he announced that his company would invest in "whatever safe securities the company saw fit anywhere—"

The government moved quickly, announcing that the premiums paid to the Sun Life in the last five years amounted to about 8,000,000 pesos, and that all of it had been invested outside of Mexico.

The government, seeing its order defied, issued another order expelling Mr. Massey from the country. But he, a fighter, countered by an injunction restraining the government from sending him out. There the matter rests.

But in the end the government will win unless it decides to modify its investment decree, which is not likely.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Foreign bonds furnished the feature in today's market. Net changes in this group were well mixed, but there was considerable activity, especially in the French listings. That government's 7½s made a new high at 121¼ on a turnover of $235,000, principal amount. The 7s also moved higher.

Other changes included losses of more than 3 points in Colombian Agricultural 6s of 1947 and Colombian Mortgage Bank 7s.

Firmer time money, which was quoted at 4¾ to 5 per cent for all maturities, served to restrict interest in the domestic corporation bonds, which were irregular. United States government gained ground in the late trading the Treasury 4s and 4¼s rising ⅛.

Rails were irregular. Atchison general 4s lost ⅛. Baltimore and Ohio 5s dropped ½. Pennsylvania gold 5s sagged ⅛ and New Haven collateral 6s fell a point.

Communication convertibles sold off sharply. American Telephone 4½s declined 3½ points to 146½, closing at 147 for a net loss of 3, while International Telephone 4½s dropped 4½, losing most of the gain made last week.

Utility Company bonds of standard description were mixed. American Telephone 5s of 1965 held very firm, but easing tendencies prevailed in Southwestern Bell Telephone 5s and International Telephone debenture 4½s. The last named yielded a point.

Most of the larger changes in the industrials involved speculative and semi-speculative bonds. Cuba Cane Sugar 8s climbed 2¼. International Paper 6s gained 1⅛. Fisk Rubber 8s rose 1 and Punta Alegre Sugar 7s rose 2⅝. Pressed Steel Car 5s lost a point. High-grade industrials were firm.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

PARTICIPATING CLASS A STOCK
INLAND UTILITIES, INC.,
shares in the profitable revenue of 40 progressive communities

INLAND UTILITIES, INC., supplies natural and manufactured Gas, Water and other vital public necessities to a population over 225,000 in four Eastern States and in one of the most highly industrialized sections of the United States. Among its distinguished customers are the Pennsylvania Railroad, Libbey-Owens Sheet Glass Co. and United Fuel Gas Co.

In 1928 gross revenue amounted to $1,239,-000 on properties having a sound depreciated value of $6,514,865.54. During this period the Participating Class A Stock earned $3.52 per share, whereas earnings for 1929 are estimated to be substantially in excess of $4 per share, with considerable greater gain in prospect for 1930.

The strength of this Participating Class A Stock was given the acid test in the recent market debacle, where its resisting power held the lowest price to $24 per share. Current quotations range between $24½ and $25½ per share. Book value of this stock is in excess of $38 per share.

Holders of Participating Class A Stock are entitled to cumulative dividends of $1.70 per share per annum, with a provision which allows for an unusual participation in earnings beyond the dividend rate. A call price of $100 per share is one of the provisions carried on this stock.

Approximate yield at current levels is 6.91% in cash dividends or 10% in Class A Stock, per share per annum.

THE STEADY GROWTH OF THE PUBLIC UTILITIES

ONE of the outstanding developments of the twentieth century has been the uninterrupted progress of the public utilities. The demand for electricity, gas, water, telephone and other utility services has kept close pace with the tremendous forward strides of American industry and commerce.

Approximately $27,000,000,000 is now invested in American public utilities, while gross income in 1929 amounted to about $5,500,000,000 as compared with $635,000,000 in 1902, a gain of over 950%. During 1930, proposed budget for new construction and improvements approximates $2,-000,000,000, twice as much as the construction budget of American railroads.

We have selected a group of outstanding bargains in public utility bonds. Use coupon below to obtain full details.

NATURAL GAS—The New Power Behind Power

A Utility Romance: UNITED GAS COMPANY

Coursing through the copper veins of many great electrical systems of the Southwest there is a stream of eager power, which hurries forth to light and serve a million homes, and tirelessly to whirl the wheels of industry. More horsepower is represented than by all the wild horses that once sped unharnessed across those boundless plains. This invisible stream of energy is produced in steam generating plants, many of which now call upon natural gas to replace other less efficient, more costly fuels. Natural Gas is the new power behind power.

United Gas Company is the foremost producer and distributor of Natural Gas in the Southwest, and with its associated companies possesses physical equipment to supply points ranging from St. Louis to Monterrey, Mexico. Its phenomenal growth has been paralleled by its judicious policy of constantly adding to its proven reserves in the Texas and Louisiana gas fields, which now total over 705 billion cubic feet. The future development of this company will be shaped in harmony with the motto of its management, expressed by this phrase: Growth—a Super-Gas System.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Stock Market Holds Steady Level as Late Selling Cuts Back Earlier Advances

Price fluctuations on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange were held to narrow limits as the week's trading resumed yesterday. While a strong undertone prevailed shortly after the opening, liquidating operations checked the advance and tended to work the general level of quotations lower. This move was promptly resisted, however, and at the close a mixed array of price changes was marked up, only a few of which exceeded 1-4 point.

While Transamerica continued to head the activity, trading operations were well spread throughout the list. With Transamerica, Security-First National Bank, Southern California Edison, Byron Jackson and Richfield Oil were traded in excess of 1000 shares.

The Giannini issue reached a top at 45 7-8 and closed at 45 3-8, off 3-8 net. Security-First National was a particularly brisk trader, but after touching 111 finished at 110½, off 1-4. Southern California Edison reached 60 3-8, but dropped back later to 59½, off 1-4 net. Byron Jackson, which has shown signs of active participation for the last few sessions, firmed up 1-8 to close high at 19 5-8.

Richfield led the oil-share activity and sold down 3-8 net to 25 1-8 after reaching 25½. Standard of California lost 5-8 to 60 1-4, while Union, Union Associates, Rio Grande and Pacific Western moved up fractionally.

A board lot of Western Air Express was the sum total of the day's trading in this issue. The transaction brought the price down 1 3-4 ponits to 32 1-4. Central Investment, on odd lot sales, scored a sharp advance of 4 points to 94.

Sales totaled 19,422 shares, valued at $579,886; previous day, 13,835 shares, valued at $483,904.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Irregular fluctuations marked the week's opening session yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange in keeping with a similar condition displayed on the senior board. The volume of operations was considerably reduced with the exception of Kinner Airplane and Motor, which to a large extent dominated trading among the smaller-priced issues. Only fractional changes occurred.

Kinner, which has shown a revival of interest over the past few sessions, traded to the extent of 17,300 shares and shot up 10 cents to 1.40. The close was at 1.37 1-2. Cities Service led the activity of the major issues and after reaching 30 3-4 dropped back to close at 30 1-4, up 1-4 net. Fokker continued active but slipped back 3-8 to 18 1-2. Claude Neon of Delaware was relatively quieter and sold down a point to 39 1-4.

Gladding McBean, Diamond Electric, Intercoast and Pacific Associates firmed up fractionally. Electrical Products of Washington ranged between 14 1-2 and 13 3-4 and finished at 13 7-8, off 3-8 net. Pacific American Company, fish-packing unit, usually inactive on this market, crossed the board at 26 1-8, down 8 7-8 points from the last sale.

Sales totaled 58,435 shares valued at $217,695; previous day, 32,273 shares valued at $210,293.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Buoyant prices that marked early trading on the stock exchange here today were unable to stand against "February psychology." Talk that the market has swung into a position ready for the "Unusual spring reaction" after its recent advance, tempted many recent investors to take profits, and early gains were wiped off the board.

Trading took 46,828 shares at $1,280,833, with $10,000 in bonds. The usually strong industrial list had at the close only a few fractional price gains. They included Golden State Milk, Illinois Pacific Glass, Bond and Share, Occidental Insurance, Emporium Capwell, Food Machinery and Jantzen Knitting.

Contrasted with these slight gains were losses in the financial and industrial issues. Firemen's fund lost more than a point, and Transamerica and West Coast Bancorporation lost ½ each. Anglo London-Paris lost 1. Numerous industrials slipped down fractionally, including such recent bullish leaders as California Packing, Atlas Diesel and Clorox. Reports that Pacific Coast buying power was below the level of a year ago tended to reduce demand for the industrials. The high total of bank loans was taken as somewhat bearish for that group.

Gains in the utility list were distributed among the usually inactive stocks. California Oregon Power preferred jumped 4 points. Coast Counties Gas preferred was held a point higher, and Pacific Telephone preferred and Pacific Public Service moved up a little less. Pacific Lighting, the speculative favorite in the utility section, set a new high in early trading but reversed quickly on profit-taking and showed a loss of more than a point for the day. Other utility common stocks, accompanied by a few preferred issues, receded fractionally as speculators sought to strengthen their cash positions.

The oil group took news of increasing crude production in the State as an unfavorable development, and showed no response to the announcement near midday that the Federal government would seek forceful control of gas waste at Kettleman Field. Honolulu Oil was the only petroleum issue to improve, its gain being ⅛. North American dropped 1⅛, and Richfield, Standard of California, Union and Union Associated lost ⅛ to ⅜.

YOU flick a switch. Light, heat, power . . . there at your finger tips because public utilities know how much current you will use long before you do. Per capita consumption a year hence is definitely known to-day!

In every field, successful corporations predict future output with uncanny accuracy. They employ expert brains and exact facts to define the future.

By the same process, using similarly exact information and exhaustive research, security trends over a period are being predicted . . . within surprisingly narrow limits.

Moody's Investors Service is daily proving this statement to the satisfaction of 18,000 clients. Among these are outstanding banks, insurance companies, corporations and large individual investors.

The very institutions competent to manage investments unaided, use Moody's Service as an aid to the everyday conduct of their business.

You have your own peculiar investment problems. They may be relatively simple—or they may require active day-to-day supervision. Whatever their scope or complexity, one of the Moody services can help you increase your profits or prevent needless losses.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Prices on the curb exchange started upward at the opening of today's market, but ran into a torrent of profit-taking in the late afternoon, with the result the close was irregular. Selling was most effective in some of the public utility and investment trust issues, which had recorded sharp gains last week, although there were a few strong spots in these groups.

Electric Bond and Share, which had been setting the pace in the public utility group, closed 3⅞ points lower. American Gas and Electric dropped 3 points and American Superpower, Tampa Electric and United Light and Power A and B lost a point or more. Arkansas Natural Gas issues were heavily bought, the common advancing 1⅞ and the A stock 1¼. United Gas also was turned over in large volume, but closed unchanged at 30⅞.

Deere & Co., which recently recorded a spectacular advance in connection with the announcement of a 5-for-1 stock split up, broke 25 points to 620, and the new stock, which is traded in on a "when issued" basis, lost 4⅝.

Newmont Mining ran up nearly 7 points, but lost about half its gain, the flurry of buying being inspired by expectations of a sharp increase in the demand for the red metal.

In the oil group, Eureka Pipe Line dropped 3¾ points on a few sales, Gulf of Pennsylvania lost 2¼ and Humble 1⅝, with most of the other leaders showing fractional recessions. Aviation shares were quiet, with Western Air Express dropping 2¼ points on one sale. Chain store stocks were irregular, Bohack dropping to a new low, while Daniel Reeves and A. & P. showed moderate gains.

Net declines of 1 to 2 points were registered by Interstate Equities convertible preferred, Lehman Corporation, Mayflower Associates and Eastern States B. Pennroad Corporation was active and firm in response to a better demand for the railroad stocks on "the big board."

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

"New Models Out Today"

Few are the motorists who have not read in such announcements the knell of values for their older models. More rare is the manufacturer whose property values are not subject to the daily ravages of obsolescence. Provision for replacement, depreciation deductions, earnings statements, demand the careful measure of obsolescence provided by American Appraisal Service.

SELLING HALTS PRICE ADVANCE

pered somewhat by the fact that prices have been on the downgrade, and are lower than they were a year ago. United States Steel common touched a new high on the current recovery at 185, dropped to 181 1-2, and closed at 182 for a net loss of 2 1-2 points.

COPPERS ACTIVE

A brisk flurry of buying developed in the copper shares on reports of a sharp expansion in the operations of fabricating plants, although buying continued quiet. Producers expect a sharp pick-up in the foreign demand in the next few weeks and believe this may also stimulate a demand from domestic consumers. Gains of 1 to 3 points in the active copper shares were cut down when the general market turned heavy.

Late selling was directed principally against Simmons, J. I. Case and Columbia Carbon. Net declines ranged from 6 to 8 points.

Call money held steady at 4 1-2 per cent all day, with the supply of funds nominal. Time money was quoted at 4 3-4 to 5. Prime commercial paper and bankers' acceptance rates were unchanged.

The Stock Exchange reported a decline of $4,742,206 in member loans last month, one of the smallest changes on record, bringing the total down to $3,984,768,065, which contrasts with a total of $6,735,164,242 on January 31, 1929, and the record-breaking total of $8,549,383,979 on September 30, last.

Establishment of new low levels for the year by the British, French and Argentine currencies featured the lower foreign exchange market. Sterling cables were quoted around $4.86 3-8.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Feb. 3. (AP)—Shorn mohair in bond here is being shipped abroad because of the lack of demand here. During January the shipments for re-export amounted to approximately 58,000 pounds, consisting of about equal quantities of South African and Turkey hair. Liverpool was the destination on all shipments reported.

The wool market is dull, with values continuing quite unsettled. Receipts during the week ending February 1 amounted to 1,176,100 pounds, compared with 281,700 the previous week.

Wheat Futures Sharply Off on Bearish Market

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Tumbling headlong downward almost 5c a bushel today, wheat future delivery contracts broke the season's low price record. Selling out on a big scale to stop holders' losses resulted from complete failure of the market to maintain advances notwithstanding action of the Federal Farm Board in appointment of an advisory wheat committee. Conspicuous absence of export demand today for wheat from North America had also a decided unsettling effect, emphasized by acute weakness of Winnipeg and Liverpool quotations and by a large increase of the amount of wheat afloat for Europe.

Chicago closing prices for wheat were nervous at 3⅞ to 4⅛@4⅜c a bushel lower than Saturday's finish. Corn closed 1⅛ to 1⅜c down, with oats ⅜@⅝ to 1c off, but provisions showing 10 to 20c gain.

Adding to selling pressure in the Chicago wheat market today were dispatches telling of British import purchases from Russia at figures apparently cheaper than were asked for wheat from Argentina or North America. Far outweighing such factors, however, was the circumstance that a majority of wheat traders appeared to regard as bearish instead of bullish the Farm Board's efforts to stabilize values. One of the foremost commission houses here issued a statement that there is no use mincing words and that apparently the wheat market is going to be left to reflect fundamental conditions surrounding the world wheat situation.

Announcement that the United States wheat visible supply total today showed 3,274,000 bushels shrinkage compared with a week ago, was virtually ignored as a sustaining influence on prices. Word from official sources that the amount of wheat remaining on farms in the United States is 50,000,000 bushels less than the total a year ago was also practically without effect. Sharp notice was taken of reports that supplies of wheat on ocean passage to Europe are 2,000,000 bushels larger than a week ago, making 9,800,000 bushels enlargement in the last month, with stocks of wheat at Liverpool given as 7,884,000 bushels compared with 1,520,000 bushels at this time last year.

Corn and oats values went downgrade mainly as a result of the semidemoralization of the wheat market.

Provisions rose because the monthly report of warehouse stocks of lard showed a gain of only 2,000,000 pounds against 38,000,000 pounds, gain at this time last year.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE—The week opened with a moderate supply of cattle, including a greatly increased supply of steers and a corresponding shortage of she stock. Demand was good for all classes, but owing to the increased numbers some steers sold lower, especially the plainer grades, with the general market steady to 25c off. She stock, especially the better kinds of cows, sold steady to 25c higher. The limited offerings of bulls were disposed of at fully steady rates with some sales considered 10@15c higher. Bulk of killer stock came from intermountain and California points with a few loads, mostly she stock from the Southwest.

Best steers sold were a load of around 1125-pound Californias at 12.00. A few loads unsold late were held around this figure. Numerous loads of California and intermountains averaging under 1150 pounds cashed at 10.75@11.75 and were of medium to low good quality. Small lots, including Holsteins, turned at 9.25@10.25. A number of small lots of steers went to feeder buyers at 8.00@9.00.

Two loads of good 878 to 966-pound Arizona horned heifers made 10.50, with other small lots and part loads of medium to good kinds at 9.75@10.35. Common heifers sold down to 7.00. A load of strictly good 121-pound southwestern cows reached 9.50, with a 1105-pound load at 9.25. Bulk of medium to low good arrivals scored 8.00@9.00, with common kinds down to 7.00. Low cutters and cutters bulked at 4.00@6.75, with shelly kinds down to 3.50. Good bulls of nearly all weights brought 8.00@8.90, with a few at 9.00 and low grades down to 6.00.

CALVES—Receipts consisted mainly of southwestern calves. Trade was mostly steady with scattered loads of good to choice milk vealers up to 15.50. Common to medium calves, including several loads of southwesterns, brought 10.00@12.00, with culls down to 8.50.

HOGS—With twenty-one loads on sale, trade was very slow, approximately half the receipts being still in first hands toward the close of yesterday's business. Prices were mainly 25@35c lower with the exception of one load sold early. A load of good 160-pound Colorados sold early at 11.00, but practical top stood at 10.75, with around twelve loads of 155 to 204-pound weights going at 10.50@10.75. Some of the unsold loads were held above these prices with little indication that they would be successful. A part load of 192-pound Californias made 10.40. Pigs were scarce and the small offerings of packing sows sold steady at 8.00@9.00.

SHEEP—An active demand quickly cleared the pens at prices considered about steady. Four decks of medium to good 92-pound Idaho lambs made 12.50 with two decks of 87-pound weights at 12.40, sorted fifty head out at 10.75, these averaging 104 pounds. Two decks of low medium 86-pound Californias brought 11.[illegible] Strictly choice lambs are quoted to 12.75. Medium to choice ewes remain quotable at 5.00@6.00.

YESTERDAY'S QUOTATIONS

Slaughter cattle and calves: Steers, 1100 to 1300 pounds, good, 11.50@12.50; 950 to 1100 pounds, good, 11.50@12.40; 800 pounds up, medium, 10.50@11.50; common, 8.00@10.50. Heifers, 850 pounds down, good, 9.50@10.65; common and medium, 7.00@9.50. Cows, good, 8.85@9.50; common and medium, 6.75@8.85; low cutters and cutters, 3.50@6.75. Bulls, yearlings excluded, good beef, 8.00@9.00; cutter to medium, 6.00@8.00. Calves, 500 pounds down, medium to choice, 11.00@14.00; cull and common, 8.00@11.00. METAL MARKET

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Daily Metal Trade today says: Improved demand for steel is reported by producers. Specifications are picking up at a steady rate at a profitable level, provided prices do not slip too sharply downward. Auto body sheet demand has picked up sharply in some centers. Orders for electrical sheets and vitreous enameling stock are holding up well. Jobbing mills are encountering keen competition on blue annealed sheets from the continuous mills.

METAL PRICES

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Copper quiet; electrolytic spot and future, 18.

When Will Stocks Advance

....is this a time to buy?

The action of security markets during December and January has been discouraging to many investors because of its lack of progress on the up side. However, there have been many constructive developments during this period. The question is—are they strong enough to make this a time to buy stocks, or are dullness and substantial reaction ahead?

A Special Report

We have a special report on exactly this phase of the current market, which should be read by everyone owning securities or with capital for investment.

Veterans in 6% EXPERIENCE!

THIS 6% BUILDING AND LOAN SERVICE . . is no youthful experiment . . nor is it a new business . . to the old-time officers and directors . . of the 37-year-old . . MUTUAL Building and Loan Association OF POMONA, California.

We will not sacrifice three State records through any get-big-quick theories. Our cautious judgment is not influenced by ANY sort of side-line profit because we have no affiliated institutions of any type.

SEVERE TESTS OF THIRTY-SEVEN YEARS . . have been keenly watched . . by neighbors and unmuffled critics . . of a closely-knit community . . with the unusual reward . . of making a humble building and loan association . . into Pomona Valley's largest financial institution.

Can you imagine the knife-edged conservatism of UNLIMITED LIABILITY back of $3,200,000 paid-in capital, surplus and reserve? That means the loss of our individual fortunes if your six per cent account isn't safe, with $14,000,000 resources in monthly-paying first trust deeds, as added measure of security.

Small-town economies are unashamed in our 10th floor offices in Los Angeles, with one hour's free parking validation, in the basement-garage, just South of 7th Street on the West side of Spring Street.

"TIMES" THEATER GUIDE

MOTION PICTURES

Boulevard, Wash. at Verm't.—"Sunny Side Up." Something about Cinderella, if you've forgotten. Done in a tenement with Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell singing of love.

Carthay Circle, Carthay Center—"Devil May Care." The adventurous spirit of Napoleonic days is brought to light by Ramon Novarro in an acceptable musical drama of love and bravery.

Criterion, 642 South Grand—"Anna Christie." Greta Garbo speaks the lines of Eugene O'Neill's heroine in fine style. Clarence Brown has done some of his best directing.

Figueroa, Figueroa at Santa Barbara—"Three Live Ghosts." Rather nice comedy-drama about three soldiers reported more dead than alive. Beryl Mercer is good and so are Robert Montgomery and Claud Allister.

Filmarte, 1228 Vine—"The Trial of Donald Westhof." Drama about a weakling in a big city. Nothing to further interest in German films.

Grauman's Chinese, 6925 Hollywood Blvd.—"Rogue Song." Lawrence Tibbett makes a powerful impression on screen fans in a vagabond romance of nearly great quality.

Grauman's Egyptian, 6706 Hollywood Blvd.—"Romance of the Rio Grande." On the order of "Old Arizona." Well played by Warner Baxter and Mona Maris.

Loew's State, 7th & Bdwy.—"Not So Dumb." At one time this was a stage play, "Dulcy," but something happened to it.

Million Dollar, 3rd & Bdwy.—"Sweetie." Song and dance in a prep school, done in a breezy manner. Presents Nancy Carroll, Jack Oakie and funny Stuart Erwin.

Palace, Bdwy. bet. 6th & 7th.—"Hallelujah." A return of King Vidor's drama of the South, credited by some as one of the best pictures of the year.

Paramount, Hill at 6th.—"The Love Parade." Delightful satire in operetta form about the effects of love on royalty. Lubitsch directed Maurice Chevalier and Jeanette MacDonald.

Ritz, 3200 Wilshire—"Three Live Ghosts." See above.

R.K.O., Hill at 8th.—"Dark Streets." Gunmen and sacrifice with Jack Mulhall doing some convincing work in a dual role.

R.K.O. Orpheum, Bdwy. at 9th.—"Hit the Deck." A lot of fun and music from the stage show, with Jack Oakie and Polly Walker.

Tower, Bdwy. at 8th.—"Tiger Rose." The Northwest Mounted again, but its Lupe Velez who gets her man midst blood and thunder and whatnot.

Uptown, Western at 10th.—"Sweetie." See above.

United Artists, Bdwy. nr. 9th.—"The Locked Door." Murder and mystery, marriage and society, all made rather thrilling behind closed doors. Rod La Rocque is in it.

Warners' Downtown, Hill at 7th.—"Son of the Gods." An unusual picture of fine workmanship, relating fast moving drama on the continent. Barthelmess in a Chinese role.

Warners' Hollywood, Hollywood Blvd. at Wilcox.—"The Sacred Flame." Another of those problems among England's best people. Somerset Maugham's dialogue delivered by Pauline Frederick, Conrad Nagel and Lila Lee.

Westlake, 638 Alvarado.—"Sweetie." See above.

STAGE

Belasco, Hill at 11th.—"Journey's End." R. C. Sherriff's fine war play is produced splendidly by an English company with Basil Gill.

El Capitan, Hollyw'd Blvd. nr. Highland. "Ladies of the Jury." The jury reveals itself as quite a humorous group in this farce comedy led by the capricious Mary Boland.

Hollywood Playhouse, 1735 Vine.—"It Pays to Advertise." A good comedy about how love can come from making soap. Robert McWade returns.

Majestic, Bdwy. at 9th.—"New Moon." The popular operetta is well put on, featuring the song hit, "Lover Come Back to Me." Perry Askam and Josephine Huston.

Mayan, Hill nr. 11th.—"Bambina." Reviewed in today's Times.

Mission Play, San Gabriel.—The beautiful annual pageant of the settling of California, up to its usual standard. With R. D. MacLean.

Music Box, 6126 Hollywood Blvd.—"And So To Bed." James B. Fagan's adventurous comedy of seventeenth century naughtiness, delightfully done by members of the new Civic Repertory Theater.

President, Bdwy. at 8th.—"Olive and Take." Big business in a canning factory, with Kolb and Dill arguing a lot and the audience laughing just as much.

Vine-street, 1615 Vine. — "Sun-Up." Came the dawn in the Tennessee mountains, bringing drama, tragedy and Lucille LaVerne in her perennial masterpiece.

VARIETIES

Burbank, 6th and Main.—Burlesque.
Follies, 4th and Main.—Burlesque.

"CRACKERJACK" MAKER TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

PASADENA, Feb. 3.—Fred W. Ruckheim, Sr., wealthy Chicago business man, and inventor of Crackerjack, nationally distributed popcorn confection, is ill at the Pasadena Hospital, it was learned today. Ruckheim was taken to the hospital last night from the Hotel Maryland, where he and Mrs. Ruckheim have reserved a suite for the season. The Chicagoans arrived here Saturday night.

Savings Deposits of Oregon Higher

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive) Through a clerical error in the figures of savings depositors in national banks in the State of Oregon as supplied by official sources, the recently issued compilation covering the United States indicated that Oregon suffered a serious loss in depositors of this class, when as an actual fact the State made a gain, says a statement by the savings-bank division of the American Bankers' Association.

Through omission of a single digit the official data stated that savings depositors in national banks in Oregon numbered 89,960 on June 29, 1929, whereas it should have been 189,960.

INDIANA STANDARD TO INCREASE STOCK

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at their annual meeting March 6, next, will vote on an increase in the authorized capital from $450,000,000 to $500,000,000 or from 18,000,000 to 20,000,000 shares of $25 par value. The additional stock is to be used to acquire property and for other corporate purposes as later developments may require, according to Edward G. Seubert, president, who stated that he was not prepared at the present to discuss the possible uses in detail.

B STOCK OF UTILITY TO DRAW DIVIDEND

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (Exclusive) National Public Service Corporation has declared a quarterly dividend of 40 cents a share on Class "B" stock, payable March 1 to stock of record the 15th inst. Previous disbursements on the issue were irregular. An initial quarterly of 75 cents on the $3 preferred shares was also declared payable March 1 to stock of record the 15th inst. as well as the regular quarterly of 40 cents on Class "A," payable March 15 to stock of record the 27th inst.

MONTGOMERY-WARD JANUARY SALES UP

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—January sales of Montgomery Ward & Co. amounted to $18,331,113, against $18,128,836 in January, 1929, an increase of 1.12 per cent, it was announced here today. This is the twenty-first consecutive month to register a gain over the corresponding period of the preceding year.

OIL NEWS

BY PORTER FLINT

A meeting yesterday of the engineers of the various operators of the Santa Fe Springs oil field and a session scheduled for today for the executives of the principal companies indicate that the leaders in the oil industry are preparing to make a thorough study of the general situation in regard to curtailment of production.

Although no announcement is forthcoming from officials who have taken a leading part in the curtailment of oil production, it is generally understood that the refusal of several important operators to sign the new agreement calling for ninety more days of proration at Santa Fe Springs has something to do with the series of meetings.

From one reliable source it was learned that another price cut in crude oil at the well may result in the event the operators fail to continue curtailment, while from another source it was learned that instead of a price cut stringent drilling restrictions would be put into effect.

Those in close touch with the situation at Santa Fe Springs are of the opinion that with the expiration of the new proration period, which became effective the 1st inst., further curtailment of production will be unnecessary since the production peak of the field will have been passed. The peak is expected within the next two weeks, based on production reports released by Umpire Paul Grimm.

Adds New Producer

The Doyle Petroleum Company yesterday added a new producer to its list at Maricopa Flat through the completion of Son-Crail No. 6 for approximately 1800 barrels of clear 23.5-deg. gravity oil per day from a depth of 2823 feet. It is the company's fifth completion and increases its daily flow to about 4100 barrels of oil.

Doyle's Son-Crail No. 6 is located on a forty-acre government prospecting permit on the northeast quarter of Sec. 8, 11-23, at Maricopa Flat. It is adjoining another forty-acre government prospecting permit which is being developed by the Doyle-Clune Petroleum Company.

Doyle completed the first producer at Maricopa Flat six months ago. Its Weir No. 1 now puts out 400 barrels of oil per day. The company's Weir No. 2 is yielding about 400 barrels daily and Son-Crail No. 5 is flowing 1780 barrels daily while Weir No. 3 is good for 300 barrels daily.

To Consider Plans

The Kettleman Hills oil and gas-conservation committee meets at 3 p.m. today in the offices of Judge E. D. Reiter, chairman, to discuss the possibility of putting into effect one of two plans for the orderly development of the Kettleman Hills oil field.

Today's session of the conservation committee is the direct result of the introduction of the Carl Beal plans, one for the unit development and another for the co-operative development of Kettleman Hills. At present, reports state that the unit plan of development will probably become effective since it has the approval of a number of the principal companies.

Completes Another

The Standard Oil Company has just brought in Bonynge No. 2 on Sec. 9, 21-23, at Maricopa Flat for about 130 barrels of oil per day from a depth of 3522 feet. It is near the company's Bonynge No. 10, which was completed recently for 200 barrels of oil per day at 3501 feet.

Standard's Bonynge No. 1 is drilling below 4650 feet and is one of the deepest tests at Maricopa Flat, while Bonynge No. 5 at 3469 feet and Bonynge No. 9 at 3650 feet are drilling ahead. The company's leases are just north of the Doyle Petroleum Company's government prospecting leases and near the most productive portion of the field.

Making Progress

The Ohio Oil Company's Recreation Gun Club No. 2, southeast of Venice, yesterday was drilling below 3450 feet and making rapid progress toward the sand formation which proved so productive in the company's Recreation Gun Club No. 1.

According to company officials, Ohio's Recreation Gun Club No. 1, which was putting out about 1900 barrels of oil per day, will remain shut in indefinitely, or until there is a demand for oil on the market. Before its suspension it put out 50,000 barrels of 34.8-deg. gravity oil from a depth of 6199 feet.

Additional development near Ohio's discovery well depends entirely upon the action of the City Council, which is considering the requests of operators to drill for oil on town-lot acreage. A number of operators await permission to start offsetting projects, and when that is given considerable activity is expected. Ohio is rigging up its Howland No. 1 on a tract due southeast of the discovery well.

Conservation Effective

The result of conservation of oil and gas in the Ventura-avenue field is well illustrated by the report just released by Umpire Paul Grimm for that field. According to the report, an average daily curtailment of 112,450,000 cubic feet of gas has prevailed for the past two months, which means that the gas production has been cut 40 per cent, and 82 per cent of the former blow-off has been eliminated.

The report shows that conservation of gas brought about a 22.5 per cent decrease in oil production. Most of the gas conservation in the Ventura-avenue field was accomplished by the complete suspension of wells having excessive gas-oil ratios, the report states. It shows that of the 217 wells capable of producing, only 137 now are actually on production, eighty having been shut in.

COLISEUM PLAN MADE REALITY

Supervisors Back County's Outlay of $225,000

City Will Spend Like Sum on Improvements

Seating Capacity Increase to 100,000 Assured

Negotiations for the eventual transferring of the ownership of the Coliseum from the Community Development Association to the city and county yesterday became a reality when the Board of Supervisors authorized Chairman McClellan to sign a contract calling for the expenditure of $225,000 by the county for improvement of the structure.

E.W. MATTOON.

Under the terms of the contract the city will spend a like amount in improvement work and the city and county in 1933 will become joint owners of the Coliseum.

The Community Development Association agrees to relinquish title to the structure in return for the improvement work, but will continue to manage and operate the Coliseum as tenant until January 1, 1933, at which time the city and county jointly will assume full responsibility.

The Coliseum was built by the Community Development Association under a contract effected ten years ago.

MORE SEATS

Plans for the improvements call for replacing the wooden parts of the stadium with concrete and enlarging it to a seating capacity of 100,000 persons.

It is believed the improvements will be sufficient to take care of the Olympic Games, which will be held in the Coliseum in 1932.

Construction work provided for in the contract will be carried on by the city, which will present bills to the county for the latter's share of the expense.

The City Council already has approved the agreement and actual work on the improvements will get under way as soon as necessary legal formalities are disposed of.

County Counsel Mattoon, who directed the board's legal work in connection with the venture, said that all the proposed improvements will be completed prior to the beginning of the Olympic Games.

The Sixth District Agricultural Association, owner of the land on which the Coliseum stands; the organization sponsoring the Olympic Games and the State are parties to the contract, as well as the city, county and Community Development Association.

REVENUE AGREEMENT

It is agreed that whatever revenue is received from operation of the Coliseum by the Community Development Association during the period of its tenancy will be used for maintenance and improvement. Provisions also are made for use of the Coliseum by the city, county and Sixth District Agricultural Association at times during the balance of the Community Development Association's management. The city and county, during this period, will not be permitted to charge admissions for any events in the structure sponsored by either or both of them, while whatever revenue is derived after January 1, 1933, will be employed to maintain and improve the structure.

Two Brothers May Die Due to Gasoline Fire

Possibly fatal burns were suffered by [illegible] K. Masters, 28 years of age, resident of 5110 Sixth avenue, and his brother, William, 25, when gasoline with which they were cleaning a sweater ignited in the [illegible] home at 3020 West Forty-[illegible] street, yesterday. They were taken to the Georgia-Street Receiving Hospital. The damage to the residence was nominal.

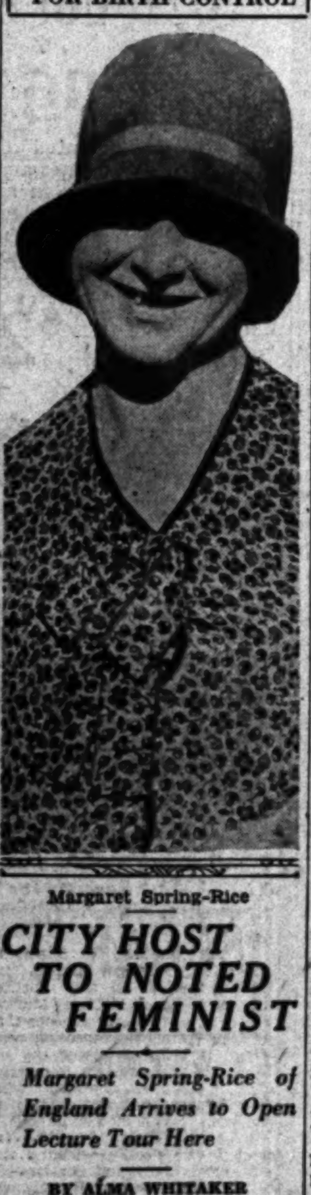
CHAMPION OF MOVE FOR BIRTH CONTROL



Margaret Spring-Rice

CITY HOST TO NOTED FEMINIST

Margaret Spring-Rice of England Arrives to Open Lecture Tour Here

BY ALMA WHITAKER

England will be the last country to forswear monarchy, but she herself is an ardent republican. So said Margaret Spring-Rice, niece of Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, former British Ambassador to the United States, who arrived in Los Angeles yesterday.

She is in the United States to lecture on conditions in England, particularly as appertaining to women, beginning her itinerary here. She comes of feminist stock, Dame Millicent Fawcett, famous as the non-militant suffrage leader, and Mrs. Garrett Anderson, Britain's first woman doctor, being her aunts. She is married to Dominick Spring-Rice, one of England's prominent bankers, who also is an authority on German war finance. And he prefers that she shall be known as Mrs. Spring-Rice, without the use of her maiden name. Mrs. Spring-Rice has three sons and one daughter, the oldest son about to enter Cambridge University. Which is interesting because she will be guest of honor at the birth-control national conference banquet on the 20th inst. at the Roosevelt.

BIRTH-CONTROL ADVOCATE

"And I am chairman of the birth-control committee of North Kensington in London," she revealed, "and there has never been a time when one of our members was not about to become a mother."

"Birth control," she said, "is legal in England but our clinics are not supported by the government."

The visitor, who will address numerous clubs while here, is a member of the Left Wing of the Liberal Party in England, of which Lloyd George is the titular head. It holds the balance of power in Parliament. "But we are not quite Labor," she smiled . . . "Just the liberal wing of the Liberals, who rarely support the Conservatives."

"Because of my political views I declined the honor of being presented at court," said Mrs. Spring-Rice.

FEW FLAPPERS VOTE

"No," she admitted in answer to a question, "comparatively few 'flappers' took advantage of the vote at the last general election."

Pretty well all professions and trades are open to Englishwomen now, but it doesn't do them much

PANTAGES TRIES AGAIN FOR BAIL

Third Appeal Launched by Theater Magnate

Fourteen Doctors Back Up Freedom Plea

Discretion Abused by Judge, Says Convicted Man

Making his third bid for freedom, Alexander Pantages, millionaire theater man convicted of an attack upon Eunice Pringle, dancer, yesterday filed with the District Court of Appeal an application for release on bail.

Pantages sets forth that his physical condition is bad in that he is suffering from heart disease that may cause his death at any time. He also charges that Superior Court Judge Fricke in denying two appeals "abused his discretion."

SET HEARING TODAY

The application was filed with Justices Craig, Works and Thompson of Division Two of the Second Appellate District. Justice Craig announced that a hearing will be set today and that the application will be assigned to one of the two appellate division at the same time.

Testimony and affidavits of fourteen physicians were included in the application. Of these, eight were of Pantages's choice. They were: Drs. Henry Listner, J. Norton Nichols, Shuler P. Fagan, William H. Leak, Ernest C. Fishbaugh, O. M. Justice, Robert W. Mangley and Aaron J. Rosanoff.

ON OTHER SIDE

Four physicians summoned by the District Attorney at the first Superior Court bail hearing are represented by testimony or affidavits in the application. They are: Drs. V. R. Mason, Charles F. Nelson, Edward M. Pallette and Earl Sweet.

Two physicians summoned by Judge Fricke at the second bail hearing, Drs. J. V. Barrows and G. F. Boehme, Jr., are also represented.

The application was filed by Attorneys Jerry Geisler, Earle Daniels, W. I. Gilbert and LeCompte Davis.

MRS. PANTAGES MAY BE ALLOWED TRIP

Permission for Mrs. Lois Pantages to leave the State in quest of health was sought last evening by Carmen Pantages, daughter of the wealthy woman convicted of manslaughter and later released on probation.

Miss Pantages, accompanied by Mrs. Pantages's nurse, went to Dist.-Atty. Fitts and asked if Mrs. Pantages would be permitted to go to Pueblo, Colo., for several weeks to recruit her health. Fitts said that he will not oppose her leaving the State if the consent of the Probation Department is obtained. Mrs. Pantages had been granted probation by Superior Judge Hardy following her conviction of manslaughter. Joe Rokumoto, a Japanese, died of injuries received in a collision between his car and Mrs. Pantages's automobile.

Plane Sets Fast Time on Flight From Portland

Three miles a minute was averaged between Portland, Or., and Los Angeles yesterday by a Lockheed-Vega monoplane carrying four passengers and Pilot Wiley Post.

The dazzling speed of 182 miles an hour for the 975-mile hop was turned in for an elapsed time of 5 hours and 12 minutes. One stop was made at Redding for gasoline.

Pilot Post said he was not aided winds. The plane is a standard seven-place cabin ship powered by a 425-horsepower Wasp motor and fitted with a speed cowling.

Those aboard—their first trip aloft—were L. B. Menefee, Victor Brandt, J. S. Ball and Miss Frances Cornell.

CITY CLERK SIGNS MANY DAM BONDS

City Clerk Dominguez yesterday notified the City Council that he has completed the signing of 500 St. Francis Dam refunding bonds, each of the denomination of $1000, and that they have been delivered to City Treasurer Powell. The bonds already have been sold to the Anglo London Paris Company.

BAY CITY BID LURES SHULER

Trinity Methodist Pastor Will Take Better Offer if Survey of Field Appeals to Him

Rev. R. P. Shuler, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church, will accept the offer of Mrs. Lizzie Glide, wealthy Berkeley resident, to head a church in San Francisco which she will build for him if a survey and inspection he will make of San Francisco next week indicates that he will be able "to put something over" there.

"I have made no decision and no promise to Mrs. Glide," Mr. Shuler said yesterday, "and I will not make up my mind until after I have had a chance to look the situation over in San Francisco. I will leave here on the 11th inst., and if everything looks promising and I believe that I can put something over up there, I will take the church."

Shuler explained that Mrs. Glide proposes to merge the present Fitzgerald Memorial Church in San Francisco with the church to be built and said that his sponsor has already purchased a lot for the building at a cost of $270,000. The church itself will represent an outlay of $1,000,000 and, in addition, the institution will be endowed with a fund large enough to care for the $10,000 yearly salary for himself, payments for all church workers and current expenses of the church.

"If the congregation wishes to make any contribution to the church the funds received will be used for outside work, for, with the endowment fund, all of the running expenses, including salaries, will be cared for," Mr. Shuler said.

In addition to the yearly salary of $10,000, which Shuler says is the same amount he is receiving in Los Angeles, the pastor stated Mrs. Glide has offered to build and furnish a home for himself and family. He explained that this was the only difference in the return from the two pastorates.

"I have been in Los Angeles for ten years," Mr. Shuler said, "and it is quite true that after such a term of years a man may not be able to accomplish as much as when he

Lindbergh Examines Lost Aileron

AMBROSE HONORED BY JUDGES

Unanimous Ballot Cast for Him as Presiding Municipal Jurist

As the unanimous choice of the twenty-six Municipal Court judges, Judge Thomas L. Ambrose, last night was elected as presiding judge of the courts to serve the remainder of the year.

JUDGE THOMAS L. AMBROSE

The formal selection of Judge Ambrose was made last night in the chamber of Presiding Judge Turney, vacated the position after incumbency of a year.

The new presiding officer of the Municipal Courts was unopposed for the position, and his election was only a formality.

Judge Ambrose is a graduate of the University of Southern California law school, and has been on the bench since his appointment to the Justice Court bench of Los Angeles in 1923. He was appointed Municipal judge when the courts were formed in 1926, and was elected for a six-year term in 1927.

The fourth annual report of the Municipal Courts was presented by retiring Presiding Judge Turney. He gave a brief resume of the work that has been accomplished since January 31, last year. Attached was the report of business for the year.

It showed a total of 364,252 cases filed, made up of 61,537 civil and small claims suits, and 302,715 misdemeanor cases. The misdemeanor cases, covering both city and county, included sixty-nine for contempt of court, 956 for failure to provide,

LINDBERGH ON LAME GLIDER

Colonel Lands Craft Safely After Losing Wing Tip; Flyer Has Birthday Today

With one wing-tip control gone, Col. Charles A. Lindbergh piloted the American endurance record-holding motorless glider to a safe landing yesterday afternoon on a hill-side of the Antelope Valley, fifteen miles northeast of Sandberg's Lodge.

Col. Lindbergh walked back up the hill smiling—just another experimental flight, he said.

The wing tip, employed on the sail-plane of Hawley Bowlus, American glider champion, to aid in keeping the light craft on an even keel, fluttered earthward a few seconds after Col. Lindbergh had been shot into the air on his first flight of the day.

REMAINS AT CAMP

A group of ground observers shouted to him. He did not attempt to land immediately, however, and piloted the little ship steadily for nearly a mile over several hills and finally set it down as easily as though all the controls were intact.

He had not returned to the home of J. L. Maddux here last night, indicating that the glider was not put out of commission, and that he and Bowlus will carry out their plan—that of camping in the Antelope Valley hills until Bowlus finds the winds favorable for his attempt to break his own record of six hours, nineteen minutes and three seconds.

BIRTHDAY TODAY

Today Col. Lindbergh will be 28 years of age. At the Maddux home last night it was stated that nothing special has been prepared in the way of a celebration and that he likely will celebrate it in a typical way—experimenting with something that flies.

Col. Lindbergh recently qualified for a first-class glider pilot's license in the same sail-plane at San Diego. Mrs. Lindbergh also qualified in the same little ship for a lower-grade license.

Groceries were purchased by Col.

MAYOR AIRS WATER AIMS AT PARLEY

Porter and Old Citizens' Committee in Conference on Proposed Bond Issue

Mayor Porter yesterday afternoon met in conference with a number of members of the old Citizens' Water and Power Committee, under the chairmanship of Watt Moreland, to discuss the proposed bond issue for water and power which is to be submitted to the voters at a special bond election this spring.

At the session in the Mayor's office, it was announced that the executive committee of the citizens' organization, which was appointed some years ago by former Mayor Cryer, offered their resignations, which were refused by Mayor Porter.

It was agreed to appoint a subcommittee, consisting of Mr. Moreland, Joseph Scott and Mrs. Shelley Tolhurst, to meet with the Water and Power Commission, the Cham-

PLANE BECOMES AIR AMBULANCE

Pilot Makes Quick Flight to Arizona Scene of Wife's Auto Crash and Brings Injured Woman Back Home With Him in Unique Feat

Speeding over 420 miles of desert and mountains with his wife in the cabin of his airplane, suffering from a broken rib and serious cuts and bruises, Pilot C. W. Gilpin landed last night at Los Angeles Metropolitan Airport. He took off from a rough canyon landing field near Ray, Ariz., on which his was the second ship ever known to have set down.

Gilpin received word here that Mrs. Gilpin had been injured seriously in an automobile accident near Ray. He took off in a standard trimotored Bach transport monoplane and was at his wife's bedside by noon.

Although everything possible had been done for Mrs. Gilpin in the small hospital at Ray, the pilot decided that his wife should be removed immediately.

He removed the seats in the cabin of the plane, placed a mattress on the floor and carried Mrs. Gilpin to the ship. The so-called landing field at Ray, Gilpin said last night, is merely a canyon bottom and flyers usually avoid landing there—especially in a large ship. He succeeded in landing, however, so he decided he could get out—and did.

Gilpin opened the ship's motors and covered the 420 miles in three hours and fifty minutes—better than an average of 100 miles an hour.

Mrs. Gilpin said she felt no discomfort during the air ride, less, in fact, than the short

WOMAN UPHELD IN 'LOVE THEFT'

Mrs. Taylor Wins Verdict in Dramatic Contest

Mrs. Hutchinson Denied Plea for $300,000 Balm

Lawyers Quote Scripture as They Sum Up Case

It took only twenty minutes' deliberation for the jury of four men and eight women to reach a verdict in the $300,000 heart balm suit of Mrs. Mattie Deane Hutchinson against Mrs. Edith P. Taylor and the verdict was for the defendant.

A poll of the jury disclosed that only one member, Simon T. Olson of 687 West Fourth street, Pomona, favored a verdict for Mrs. Hutchinson, who asserted that Mrs. Taylor lured from his home, and kept enthralled for twenty years, Samuel S. Hutchinson, wealthy film distributor of Chicago and Hollywood. Under California law, a three-fourths verdict is possible in a civil case.

Most members of the jury shook hands with Mrs. Taylor after the verdict. Some of the men congratulated Hutchinson. R. B. Graham, 930 South Kingsley street, foreman of the jury, said that a verdict of 11 to 1 for the defendant was reached on the first ballot, but a second ballot was taken at the request of Olson, the dissenting member.

SCRIPTURE QUOTED

Most of yesterday's court session was occupied by the addresses of the attorneys, Byron Hanna for the defendant, and Benjamin F. Bledsoe for the plaintiff. Both lawyers freely quoted scripture in defense of their clients' cases. Bledsoe invoking passages from the ancient Mosaic law of the Old Testament and Hanna referring to more liberal doctrines of social ethics as expounded in the four gospels.

"Mrs. Taylor is a love thief, who wrecked her home by her conduct," declared Judge Bledsoe. "She took from this man Hutchinson the money that rightfully belonged to his wife and children. By all the laws of society and religion, she is guilty, and should be made to pay.

"You jurors in this case are the conservators of home and family. By your verdict you will say whether the bulwarks of our civilization, our social laws and customs, are sound and lasting, or whether they may be changed at the whim of every passing fancy, and each light and vagrant passion."

Judge Bledsoe had qualified the jurors by asking them if they "believed in this new-fangled companionate marriage." All answered that they did not.

EDIBLES MENTIONED

Attorney Hanna, in his address, pictured the modest and quiet home life that Hutchinson said he enjoyed with the defendant.

"We are not concerned with the fate of Mrs. Hutchinson's home in this case," said the defense counsel. "A home is where love is, and there was no love in that half-million-dollar mansion on the shore of Lake Michigan. They lived in walls hung with draperies of silk, but they did not know what love was. That place on Sheridan Road was a mausoleum—the tomb of a dead love."

The attorney read letters written by Mrs. Taylor, in which she mentioned sweet corn and fried chicken.

"My client was a good housewife and a good mother, worthy of any man's love," said Hanna. "Cleopatra couldn't fry a chicken, Jezebel couldn't make tomato salad, nor could the Queen of Sheba shuck roastin' ears, if the records of history are straight."

Attorney Hanna then described how Mrs. Taylor suffered in trying to keep from her mother the facts of the birth of her love child. It was at this point that two women members of the jury buried their faces in their hands, and appeared to sob in sympathy.

Approval Given to Mrs. Johnson

The City Council yesterday confirmed Mayor Porter's nomination of Mrs. Ilot Johnson as a member of the Civil Service Commission to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of H. C. Fryman. The action was unanimous. Mrs. Johnson is a former teacher in the Minneapolis schools and has held offices in the Ebell Club.

FINE PORCELAINS ACQUIRED

Los Angeles Museum Gets Munthe Collection as Result of Months of Endeavor

Acquisition of what connoisseurs declare is one of the most magnificent collections of rare and ancient Chinese porcelains ever assembled has been achieved by Los Angeles Museum, it was learned yesterday. It comes as the result of many months of work on the part of various public and semipublic bodies.

The pieces, 118 in number, comprise the entire porcelain part of the celebrated Gen. J. W. N. Munthe collection, evaluated in art circles as of $1,000,000 worth. The porcelains constitute about one-third of the whole Munthe collection and were procured for $200,000. They have been in the museum for about two years.

"The opportunity to gain the collection," Director Bryan of the museum said, "of itself was a bit of rare good fortune. I can think of no place in the country where such a collection of Chinese art would be more advantageous than in Los Angeles, destined to be so closely connected with the Orient. It was an opportunity that came perhaps but once for all time. Its museum value to those who would understand the Orient, to students of art and to lovers of the beautiful is very great and I deem the acquisition one of the crowning bits of my work for the museum."

"It would be a great thing if they could stay in this country," Langdon Warner, Harvard University museum curator of oriental art, wrote in support of their purchase.

Berthold Laufer of Field Museum, Chicago, in urging American retention of the collection, said:

"It would be difficult and probably an impossible task to attempt to bring together such a collection."

"Retention of this collection," say records of the Chamber of Commerce harbor and foreign commerce committee, "would have great influence in making Los Angeles a center of oriental art and culture in Western America and be of great

by Harry Carr

IF IN their quest for blood these brave patriots who are mobbing the little Filipino boys happen to pick on a Japanese or a Mexican or Navajo Indian by mistake, the subsequent events may be interesting.

HELPLESS

The Federal government would seem to be under a moral obligation to act in these Northern California Filipino cases. Having been denied citizenship—yet under the rule of the United States—it would seem that our brown brothers are wards of the nation to a peculiar degree.

BUCK-PASSING

One phase of these riots has never been brought out. The Filipino boarding-houses where much of the rioting has taken place are just across the line from Watsonville. This gives an elegant chance for the police to pass the buck to the Sheriff—and the Sheriff to pass it back.

OLD STUFF

There is nothing surprising in the announcement of Capt. Riiser-Larsen that he has been able to use seal blubber as fuel for his boilers on the Antarctic exploration ship Norvegia.

Whale blubber was used for generations as fuel on the New Bedford whaling ships. Whales were always "tried out" on their own fat. There was no other fuel. The next radioed bulletin that may be expected to come whirling in over the ether from Capt. Riiser-Larsen will doubtless announce that sea water is salty.

STARVATION JOB

To young novelists, burning with inspiration, there is no encouragement in the news bulletins from the alimony suit of Sinclair Lewis.

No living American novelist can duplicate his list of popular successes. "Main Street" and "Babbitt" have added two new word meanings to the English language. Yet he appeals to the court to save him from his alimony bills, asserting that his present income is less than $10,000 a year.

Comparing this with the financial returns of other world's champions, novel writing wouldn't seem to be much of a job. Theodore Dreiser, who stands near the top of the heap, stated that—until he sold the screen rights of "An American Tragedy" for $85,000—his average income throughout the years of his novel-writing was about $35 a week.

NECESSITIES OF LIFE

Chicago can't dig up money enough to pay the school-teachers; but the $100,000 gang bombings go merrily along.

TAXES

Former Gov. Lowden of Illinois advocates a State income tax to ease the burdens of farmers and other real estate tax payers.

The burden should be eased. Land pays an unreasonable share of taxations. The possible earnings of real estate average about 6 per cent. Of this at least 25 per cent goes for taxes—not counting assessments.

But alas, a State income tax would probably mean everything except a reduction in the amount of taxation on real estate.

GLAB'S MURDER MAY BE SOLVED

Mystery Witness Supplies Tips, Officers Say

Hit-and-Run Death Suspect to be Requestioned

Ex-Policeman Admits Gift from Slain Man's Wife

Possibility that the Glab murder mystery of almost three years standing may be solved by newly discovered evidence and the finding of a "mystery witness" by the Van Nuys police, was admitted by the Sheriff's office and the police homicide detail yesterday.

The "mystery witness" was kept in seclusion by Capt. Cato, who also refused to reveal the witness's identity, except to admit that he is a man about 25 years of age. According to Cato the man gave them several important leads which may bring several arrests in the murder of John R. Glab, wealthy retired druggist, on the lawn of his Ventura Road home.

GIRL RELEASED

Additional facts that were not brought out at the original investigation were obtained from W. R. McIntyre, formerly a Los Angeles policeman, who is held in jail on manslaughter charges in connection with the death of a woman in a hit-and-run accident on New Year's Day.

In the car at the time was Miss Ruby Burroughs, sweetheart of McIntyre. McIntyre and Miss Burroughs were questioned jointly by the police and Capt. Bright yesterday.

Following the questioning Miss Burroughs was ordered released on the suspicion-of-manslaughter charge, upon which she, McIntyre and F. C. Simmons were held in connection with the death of a woman January 1, in a hit-and-run automobile accident. McIntyre, asserted to have been driver of the car, was ordered held on a manslaughter charge and Simmons as an accessory after the fact.

McIntyre's arrest revived the hopes of the police to solve the murder in 1927 of John R. Glab, wealthy retired druggist, who was shot in front of his Ventura home.

McIntyre was questioned by the police at that time but they were unable to connect him with the case.

TELLS OF GIFT

To the officers yesterday McIntyre said he did not actually know that Glab and Mrs. Glab were married until the druggist was murdered. He admitted to Jordan that Mrs. Glab had urged him to marry her after Glab had transferred the home to her name. In his statement yesterday McIntyre asserted Mrs. Glab once gave him $1000.

Other statements that did not connect with the evidence as gathered by the police at the time of the murder caused Capt. Cato to announce that he believes the case can be solved. Chief Taylor detailed Capt. Cato and Detective Lieutenants Jones and James to the new investigation. A complete check of the records will be made and the witnesses will be requestioned, Taylor asserted.

All the evidence gathered by Deputy Sheriffs Vejar, Penprase and Nettie Yaw will be turned over to the homicide detail.

PAY FOR DAM STRUCTURES AUTHORIZED

Supervisors Order $92,779 Given Contractors for San Gabriel Buildings

The Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized the payment of $92,779 to Fisher, Ross, MacDonald and Kahn, contractors, for buildings constructed at the San Gabriel dam site in San Gabriel Canyon.

The buildings were erected by the contractors to house workmen who were to have been employed on construction of the dam, recently abandoned. Last week the board authorized the payment of $737,986 in settlement of the claims of the contractors arising from the abandonment of the plans to build the high dam.

The buildings to be purchased under yesterday's action will be used as headquarters for any future flood control work in the canyon, it was announced by Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton.

SELECTION OF MARZEC JURY BEGUN

Asserted Robber of Banks Placed on Trial Accused of Two Large "Jobs"

Selection of jurors for the trial of Pete Marzec, was started in Superior Judge McComb's court yesterday afternoon by defense and prosecution attorneys.

Marzec is accused of robbing the Merchants' National Trust and Savings Bank at 2412 South Hoover street, of $8400 on March 30, 1927, through the aid of a fake confederate. Officers charge that Marzec for several days lay in wait in the attic until his opportunity arrived.

While robbing Phillip Simon and William McCartney, tellers, officers charge, Marzec called their attention to an arm and hand protruding through a slot in the ceiling menacing them with a gun. After the bandit escaped it was discovered that the arm was a mere prop constructed of odds and ends by the robber. The hand gripped a toy pistol.

Marzec also is charged with burglarizing and robbing the Merchants National Trust and Savings Bank branch at Twenty-fifth street and Central avenue on August 17, 1928. According to the complaint, $12,600 was taken from A. Levinson, a teller.

Lindbergh at Lebec, on the Ridge Route, and he returned to the trailer camping outfit that Bowlus brought from San Diego. The pair expect to camp out in the hills for at least a week, they previously announced.

Bowlus had made two flights yesterday before Col. Lindbergh went up. His were short hops, the wind evidently not being strong enough for him to climb on them for more than a few minutes.

NEW AILERONS ORDERED

Col. Lindbergh had helped in assembling the craft, also brought by automobile from San Diego.

The flights were started by four men jerking on elastic cords attached to the nose of the graceful sail-plane. As soon as flying speed, or air pressure was enough to raise the ship and pilot, the cords were cut loose.

A new set of ailerons will be dispatched from San Diego today, a set with new-type metal tubing that holds them in place. It is doubtful if the glider gets into the air today.

Although it was remarkable that Col. Lindbergh made a safe landing, it was pointed out by pilots here last night that the right aileron was reversable in action and that an average flyer would not be endangered by the loss of either tip while in the air.

Many of the pieces are from the imperial palaces and they run the gamut of articles for needs and luxuries to ritualistic uses. They are resplendent in all the wizardry of Chinese enameling. Some of them were made as far back as 2200 years before the birth of Christ.

"Their purchase," Dr. John A. Comstock, assistant director, said, "drew perhaps the widest indorsement of any purchase ever made by the museum."

Allied Architects' Association "most strongly urged the desirability of acquiring the collection." Ebell Club wrote that the club urged its purchase and commended the efforts of those who were trying to effect its acquisition. So also did Art Teachers' Association of Southern California and many other organizations.

"The collection could not possibly be replaced if we fail to get it," said Director Moore of University of California at Los Angeles. Indorsements were received also from Presidents Von KleinSmid of University of Southern California, Blaisdell of Claremont, Bird of Occidental and others.

Gen. Munthe, an officer in the Chinese army, effected the collection. It came here about two years ago from Peiping to the museum. Ever since then local art enthusiasts have been trying to keep it from getting away.

SUSPECTS TAKEN IN POLICE RAIDS

Week-End Crime Reprisals Bag Wanted Men

"Strong-Arm Mob" Believed Broken by Arrests

Quartet Accused as Drug Peddlers Also Jailed

In the wake of a week-end series of burglaries and robberies in which one woman and one man were probably fatally injured, three other women attacked and a dozen persons robbed, police struck back at the criminal element in the city and scored heavily yesterday.

Reports filed by detectives disclosed four suspects under arrest for more than thirty strong-arm hold-ups, four others charged with violation of the State poison law, one negro suspect identified in a recent cafe robbery and one man held on suspicion of burglary, and a second man held for investigation.

Suspects said to be responsible for the strong-arm robberies were booked as Henry Alquin, 19 years of age, of 516 East Jefferson street; Perferio Lopez, 19, of 712 Kohler street; Jacob O'Brien, 22, of 624 1-2 North Soto street, and Henry A. Uzeta, 18, of 746 Kohler street.

All four, according to Captain of Detectives Vernand have been identified by victims and under questioning admitted their participation in the robberies. Alquin Lopez and O'Brien were taken into custody at Seventh street and Ceres avenue late Saturday night by Detective Lieutenants Stone, Donohue, Kofford and Murphy.

THREE AT LARGE

Uzeta's asserted connection with the so-called "strong-arm mob" was then discovered and he was taken into custody at 8614 Sunset Boulevard. His identification by several victims and confession followed, according to Capt. Vernand. Three more members of this asserted gang, Capt. Vernand stated, are still at large.

Alquin was also held as an escaped prisoner, having departed A.W.O.L. from the Lincoln Heights Jail, January 29, last, after serving a part of sentence for a Wright Act violation, according to Capt. Vernand.

Those arrested for violation of the State poison law were Henry Vasquez, 26, a cigar maker of San Pedro; Ellisor Goldesworthy, a cook, 40, of 337 1-2 South Hill street; Everett Nutter, 30, seaman, of 590 Thirty-sixth street, Manhattan Beach, and Nick Acosta, 30, cigar maker, of 621 West First street.

MARIHUANA PEDDLER

Officers Wise and Boehme reported finding the quartet in an automobile at Temple and Flower streets early yesterday morning with a jar of marihuana in their possession.

James W. Adams, 19, negro, of 811 East Thirty-first street, arrested by Officer Clark, was identified by Miss Odessa Washington, waitress, as one of three negro bandits who, on the night of January 28, last, held up Louie Wing's cafe at 2916 Compton avenue and escaped with $332 in cash, according to the officer's report.

Following complaints from Miss Cleo Leherer and her sister, Mrs. Fay Andis, of 1016 South Grand avenue, that John Kelly, 34, of 333 South Bunker Hill, had threatened them with a gun, Detective Lieutenants Gorman, Sanburn and Filby of the Georgia-street division, arrested Kelly in his room on suspicion of burglary.

Kelly, the detectives reported, had a fur neck piece in his possession which had been taken from Miss Leherer's room.

A score of other suspects rounded up by patrolmen and detectives are being held in the City Jail because of suspicious actions or resemblance to bandits who have been operating in the city during the winter season. They will be exhibited to robbery victims in a series of public show-ups at Central Police Station.

great courtesy, Judge Westover could have gone further in his plan to shorten the time of lawsuits. The taxpayers of this State—and all other States—are under appalling expense for courts. Two-thirds of this expense would be unnecessary if lawyers were not so long-winded—and didn't make so many grand-stand speeches in court for the dazzlement of their clients. No lawsuit was ever tried which could not have been settled in one day—if the oratory and aimless repetitions of lawyers could have been restrained.

COUNCIL TIES CAN ON LIZZIES

Dumfounded Onlookers Hear Economizers Give Up Their Official Cars as Bicycle and Scooter Salesmen Get Ready to Peddle Wares

The City Council now is fair game for salesmen of bicycles, sole leather, roller skates, scooters and puddle jumpers, for yesterday morning, while fifty spectators sat aghast and dumfounded, the members voted away from themselves their automobiles and their chauffeurs and their motoring expense accounts.

The economy wave thus became a tidal wave, sweeping everything before it, but cynical City Hall observers, who have viewed such astonishing spectacles before, are already alert for the receding of the tide.

The special automobile of Council President Sanborn was not eliminated. Sanborn raised opposition at this unwelcome generosity, but did not protest with sufficient vigor. Later on he said he won't use the car.

"I'll walk with the rest of them," he announced.

This particular Council has been very kind to itself. The members voted themselves about $10,000 to spend in giving each member a private office (with a heel-cooling anteroom for lobbyists and constituents) which includes a $100 ventilator over each door to release the hot air, $25 extra for their secretaries, seven automobiles and a platoon of policemen as drivers.

This display of magnificence has not set well with Councilman Williams, who has been tilting the bucket and spilling, one by one, the well-known and justly famous beans. So last week the Councilmen decided to send three of their cars back to the City Hall motor pool and allow each member who uses his own car a monthly expense account of $86. When the matter got on the Council floor yesterday morning there was a pyrotechnical display of wit, repartee and wisdom, in the best Councilmanic manner, with the eventual result that Councilman Cooke made the motion rubbing out all Council cars and expense accounts except that of President Sanborn and, face to face with the harsh fact, with the wide world looking on, the aldermanic transportation system was abolished.

Six members opposed the motion. They were President Sanborn, Barthel, Ingram, McAllister, Martin and Webster.

Councilman Lewis tied the tail to the kite. Said he:

"There's a monkey show out on Washington Boulevard. I move we recess, to reconvene there."

DR. ESTES SUED BY FIRST WIFE

Health Lecturer Charged With Desertion

[illegible] Asked for Alimony and Heart Balm

Counsel for Accused Says Plaints Groundless

[illegible] suits containing demands for [illegible] were filed in Superior [illegible] yesterday by Mrs. Clara N. [illegible] of Denver, Colo., against Dr. St. Louis Estes, local health lecturer, and the present Mrs. Estes, named in the legal action as Dr. [illegible] Moran, who is the mother of the lecturer's six youngest children, one of whom was born last month.

[illegible] Mrs. Estes of Denver asks [illegible] of $100,000 separate maintenance in the suit against Dr. Estes, and an additional $300,000 heart-balm damages against Mrs. Estes the second, in a separate suit. The complainant asserts she is the mother of Dr. Estes's first three children, Lucille, 21 years of age; [illegible], 19, and St. Louis, 16. Children of Dr. and the present Mrs. Estes are named as Marion Susanna, St. Louis II, 6; Dixie Lou and St. Louis III (twins,) 3; St. Louis IV, [illegible] months, and St. Louis V, born last month.

In the suit Dr. Estes is asserted to be earning $100,000 a year as a health lecturer. Mrs. Estes, the [illegible], says she was deserted in Chicago in January, 1924, and that she went to Denver in 1927. She says she only recently learned Dr. Estes was practicing successfully in Los Angeles and immediately came here to file her suit.

For a while after he left her Mrs. Estes says the lecturer periodically sent her sums of money, but later [illegible] ceased. She charges [illegible] with having met "Dr. [illegible]," or the present Mrs. Estes, [illegible] and in 1924, after the birth of [illegible] children, she says "Dr. [illegible]" enticed Estes away from her.

At his home, 6421 Iverene, Dr. Estes yesterday denied many of the allegations in the suit, and while in conference with his attorney preparatory to filing a reply chose to withhold a detailed denial of the charges.

Last night Attorney Arthur C. [illegible], counsel for the lecturer, although not served with a copy of the complaint, issued the following statement:

"Dr. Estes and his present wife, [illegible] Estes, are now living happily together with their six children in Hollywood. The charges came as a complete surprise, because since their voluntary separation in 1917, Dr. Estes has at all times amply provided for his former wife and three children. Dr. Estes and his former wife had not lived together for many years previous to his meeting with the present Mrs. Estes, and therefore I am unable to understand the charges. However, when this matter comes to trial in Superior Court we will prove that all the charges in the complaint are groundless."

The complainant could not be located yesterday for further interview on her suit. Her lawyers, [illegible] and J. C. Davis of [illegible], said she was moving and [illegible] not know her whereabouts.

TRIAL OF DR. CITRON DOPE CASE DELAYED

YUMA BODY STILL IN DOUBT

Authorities Now Opine Corpse Not Baumgarteker's; Officers Sent from Here to Settle Query

Identity of the body of a man found in a shallow grave near Cuervos, Mex., last week, and at first identified as W. Paul Loveland, missing architect of Pasadena, and later thought to be that of Frank Baumgarteker, wealthy vineyardist, remained unsolved yesterday after Yuma (Ariz.) authorities announced that it is not Baumgarteker's.

In an effort to clear the matter Capt. Allen and Sergt. Nord of the police department went to Yuma yesterday to attempt to settle definitely whether the body is that of the missing wine merchant who disappeared November 25, last.

Nord is a close personal friend of Baumgarteker and has been engaged in the hunt for him many weeks. Nord and Allen were dispatched by Chief of Detectives Taylor at the request of Sheriff Hunter of Yuma.

Hunter explained that he was unable to identify the body as Baumgarteker's from the description and dental charts that had been forwarded, though he said that the measurements corresponded to those of the missing vineyardist.

The Arizona official based his opinion that the body is not Baumgarteker's on his failure to discover a gold wire said to have been placed in the collar bone of the missing man several months ago, following injury in an automobile accident.

The Yuma undertaker removed both bones yesterday, according to Hunter, but failed to find the surgeon's strand.

Previous belief that the body was that of Loveland was exploded Sunday by Otho Behr and other friends of the missing architect, who refuted the early identification.

NATIVE SONS PLAN EVENTS

Events scheduled for this month by Hollywood Parlor No. 196, Native Sons of the Golden West, were announced yesterday by E. J. Reilly, secretary. They are as follows: 10th inst., business meeting 5402 Hollywood Boulevard; 15th inst., benefit dance for homeless children at Elks' Temple, Sixth and Parkview streets; 17th inst., Gene Murphy's open meeting; 20th inst., interparlor committee's dance, El Patio ballroom, Third street and Vermont avenue; 24th inst., business meeting and initiation.

KANSAS ALUMNI TO DINE

Kansas University alumni will gather at a banquet at 7 o'clock on the evening of the 10th inst., at the Alexandria. The dinner has been arranged by the district alumni association. Those present at the conference yesterday included Mr. Moreland, Mr. Scott, Mrs. Tolhurst, Emerson Spear, O. M. Souden, E. J. Fleming and Miss Mary Workman.

A further announcement was promised in a few days by Mayor Porter.

The Mayor conferred with the Board of Water and Power Commissioners on two occasions last week, with another conference with the directors of the Chamber of Commerce scheduled for this week.

While the principal purpose of the bond issue is regarded as acquisition of land and water rights in Owens Valley and the Mono Basin, and also dam sites, the matter of floating power bonds was inject-

Bay Chambers Hold Banquet

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

SANTA MONICA, Feb. 3.—More than 300 Santa Monica Bay district residents and visitors assembled at the Miramar Hotel this evening for the annual banquet of the Santa Monica-Ocean Park Chamber of Commerce. The festivities started at 6 o'clock, and speakers introduced by Louis Livingstone of the United States Chamber of Commerce, toastmaster, discussed developments and problems of vital interest here.

An elaborate musical and entertainment program interspersed the speaking. President Pratt, Secretary Cook and chamber directors officially opened a membership drive, and among the speakers who urged support of the organization were Mayor Michel of Santa Monica, and the City Commissioners. Guests included city-and-county officials and representatives from many Southland commerce bodies.

SETBACK LINES APPROVED

The City Council yesterday adopted a resolution of intention establishing setback lines of fifteen feet in Cazador Drive between Cazador street and Avenue 33, at the same time abandoning the intention to establish five-foot setback lines.

[illegible] putting a new soap on the market what would you call it? [illegible] give it some name—either simple or fancy—what would [illegible]? I know you have a name in mind now, or you can suggest [illegible] after a few moments' thought. The very name you select may [win the] $1000.00 I am offering. It makes no difference whether you live [in the country] or city, if you are educated or not, if you are rich or poor, [I want you] to help me by suggesting a name for my new soap. We have [paid thousands] of dollars to prize winners and in almost every instance [the person] who least expected to win received a prize. You, too, may [win by] sending a suggestion. It costs you nothing to try. You have [everything] to gain and nothing to lose, for any name may win. This [soap is] lathers freely, promotes a smooth soft skin, is excellent [for] the bath, washing the hair, etc. A coined word such as [illegible], Clean-All, or the name of flowers, trees, etc., or any other [name you] think of may be submitted.

YOU CAN'T LOSE

[Even though] other contestants submit the winning name first, because [we will give] duplicate prizes to all who send the winning name. If the [name you send] wins, you will receive $1000.00 regardless of how many [other people] have submitted the same name. This means you can't [lose by] not submitting the winning name first.

$100 Extra For Promptness

[illegible] we are going to pay the winner an extra $100.00 for [illegible] at all—to send your suggestion AT ONCE

DOCTOR TO FACE MEDICAL BOARD

Lanterman Appears Today in Dancer Death Case

Trial Scheduled on Charges Arising Out of Tragedy

Ten Others to be Arraigned During Current Week

Charges growing out of the case of Delphine Walsh, 22-year-old Hollywood dancer, whose death in a Glendale hospital brought about the arrest of two Glendale physicians on manslaughter charges, will be taken up at a meeting of the State Board of Medical Examiners, beginning at 10 a.m. today at 1329 South Hope street. Dr. Roy S. Lanterman will face charges of unprofessional conduct growing out of the case. He was acquitted of the manslaughter accusation in the Superior Court.

Ten other physicians are scheduled to face the board to answer to various charges during the week. Eight of those accused are from Southern California and the rest from Northern California.

THOSE ACCUSED

Among the medical men who are due to appear before the board is Dr. William A. Lang, Long Beach physician and surgeon, charged with two counts of performing illegal operations.

Others slated to face the board and the charges against them follow: Dr. Francis James Bold, Whittier; Dr. Fay E. Kramer, Inglewood, violation of narcotic law and aiding and abetting an unlicensed practitioner; Dr. George E. Darrow, Azusa, illegal operation; Dr. Bennett C. Anderson, Barstow, aiding and abetting an unlicensed practitioner; Dr. Wilson MacHenry Mine, Los Angeles, violation of probation; Dr. Sumner J. Quint, Los Angeles, violation of narcotic act; Dr. O. W. Devaughn, Oakland, two violations of the State Medical Practice Act; Dr. C. E. Edwards, San Francisco, two violations of State Medical Practice Act, and Dr. D. D. Johnson, Grass Valley, violation of narcotic act.

AGENTS TO TESTIFY

Evidence will be presented by Special Agents J. W. Davidson of San Francisco and Alfred Carter of Los Angeles. Attorney Ray M. Lyman of San Francisco and Otto Emme of Los Angeles will aid in the prosecution of the cases. William Byrne, assistant special agent, also will appear in the trials.

The board opened its meeting yesterday. It disposed of routine business and took under advisement the cases of a number of members of the medical profession seeking renewal of licenses revoked for infractions of the State Medical Act.

Dr. P. T. Phillips of Santa Cruz, president of the board, is presiding. Dr. Charles E. Pinkham of San Francisco is board secretary.

is in fresh territory. Therefore, if I do accept the post in San Francisco, the main consideration will be being able to perform a greater work there."

Shuler explained that he had talked over the proposal to go to San Francisco with the church board here, but had given them no definite decision and said he will make no move to resign from Trinity Methodist until after his return from San Francisco.

He also declared that the question of the transfer of the radio station at the church had not been discussed, but said that if he thought the station will serve a better purpose in San Francisco he will take it with him.

NO PASTOR CHOSEN, SAYS BENEFACTRESS

BERKELEY, Feb. 3. (AP)—Mrs. Lizzie Glide, Berkeley philanthropist and wealthy widow of Joseph Glide, Sacramento cattleman, today announced plans for the Glide Memorial Church to be built in San Francisco in memory of her husband.

The memorial, to be built at Taylor and Ellis streets, will contain two church auditoriums, apartments for working girls, stores and offices and headquarters for the Pacific division of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South. The church itself, however, will be interdenominational. The cost is expected to be within $1,000,000.

NO PASTOR CHOSEN

The foundation has been incorporated, Mrs. Glide said, but the plans for the buildings are uncompleted and no pastor has been selected.

The nine trustees include Rev. Robert Shuler of Los Angeles, Mrs. Glide, Dr. W. J. Sims, superintendent of the San Francisco district of the Methodist Episcopal Church, South; Rev. G. C. Emmons, pastor of St. Paul's, Fresno; Rev. F. W. Roland of Fitzgerald Church, San Francisco; A. W. Cotton, San Francisco business man; Miss Ethel Jackson, superintendent of Mary Elizabeth Inn, boarding home for working girls here, founded by Mrs. Glide; Chief Justice Waste of the State Supreme Court, and Rev. A. T. O'Rear, pastor of St. Paul's, San Jose.

CONFERENCE CALLED

On the 20th inst. the trustees will hold a conference in Oakland with Bishop Samuel R. Hay of Houston, Tex., in charge of the western division of the M. E. Church, South.

Mrs. Glide became a millionaire when oil was struck about three years ago on grazing land owned by her husband in Kern county. She is founder of Wesley Hall for Girls and Epworth Hall for Boys, both at the University of California.

RITES FOR LEE INFANT TO BE THIS AFTERNOON

Funeral services will be conducted today at 1 p.m. from the W. A. Brown Mortuary for 8-months-old Gilbert Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy G. Lee, Salvation Army workers, 1231 El Sereno avenue. Because of the similarity of names, many inquiries by friends were made at the home of Gilbert C. Lee, president of the Insto Company. Mr. Lee resides at 2274 Hidalgo avenue.

Film Actress Reveals Plans to Wed Broker

Alice Day

A friendship beginning five years ago is to culminate in the marriage of Alice Day, film actress, and Jack Cohn, broker. The engagement was informally announced yesterday by Mrs. Irene Day.

The couple have tentatively set the latter part of April or the first part of May for the nuptials, Mrs. Day said. They will honeymoon either to Honolulu or to Havana.

It was five years ago that Miss Day and Cohn were introduced while the latter was visiting at the Fox studio. Not until a year ago, however, was the friendship renewed, and then followed the presentation of an engagement ring to Miss Day.

Miss Day is a popular young film actress of Hollywood. Marceline Day is her sister. Mrs. Day said her daughter will not give up her picture career.

Gentry Takes Capt. Farrell's Place at Port

Detective Lieutenant A. L. Gentry yesterday was placed in charge of the harbor-detective bureau, relieving Capt. A. J. Farrell, who has retired after twenty-two years of continuous service with the Los Angeles Police Department.

Both men have been members of the port police division for a greater portion of their police careers. Gentry began duties at the harbor in 1918 as patrolman, rising through the grades of motorcycle officer and sergeant to appointment as detective-lieutenant in 1924.

Both were officially commended for their work at the harbor during the marine strike of 1921 and the I.W.W. strike of 1923, Gentry being largely responsible for suppressing of the Liberty Hill disturbance during the height of the I.W.W. troubles.

HAPPY-HOMES SHIP LAUNCHED

Institute Will Chart Sea of Matrimony

Eugenics Marriages Will be Promoted

Specialists Will Diagnose Domestic Ills

Promotion of successful marriage and parenthood through timely prevention of factors that lead to broken hearts and homes is the announced aim of the Institute of Family Relations, a nonprofit organization recently incorporated by a group of Southern California educators, jurists and sociologists, which will open its doors for public service today in Room 591, Chamber of Commerce Building.

The institute will disseminate eugenics information and endeavor to aid persons contemplating marriage to make a success of their venture. Premarital examinations of applicants for help, with special consideration of their personal and family history, will be made.

DOMESTIC ILLS

In addition, diagnosis and counsel will be offered by the institute's group of specialists to persons already married who are confronted with problems needing adjustment.

The institute will be in general charge of Dr. Paul Popenoe, eugenics specialist, and author of several standard volumes on heredity. He will be assisted especially in the field of the physiological aspects of the work by Dr. John Vruwink, and in the department of psychology by Dr. Kate Brousseau, formerly professor of psychology at Mills College; Dr. Barbara S. Burks of Stanford University, and Dr. Jessie Chase Fenton of the California Bureau of Juvenile Research. Legal matters presented for solution will be worked out in co-operation with the legal aid clinic of University of Southern California.

TO CHARGE FEE

It is expected by its founders that the institute eventually will prove self-supporting; and to this end a nominal fee will be charged applicants who can afford to pay for the service.

STORE MANAGER GOING EAST TO CONVENTION

T. C. Palmer, vice-president and general manager of Walker's department store and president of the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association, is scheduled to leave by Western Air Express for Kansas City early this morning as the first leg of a trip to New York, where he will attend the national convention of the dry goods merchants this week.

Mr. Palmer will be gone three weeks, during which time he will study merchandising methods in various metropolitan centers, returning by way of Seattle. He will be accompanied eastward by Thomas Adams, merchandise manager of the floor-coverings department.

WEBB BACKS FITTS'S STAND

Attorney-General Calls Election Suit "Politics;" Prosecutor Holds Office Legally, He Says

Charges that Dist.-Atty. Fitts is holding office illegally were characterized yesterday by Atty.-Gen. Webb as "probably the result of a political squabble." The statement of the Attorney-General was brought about by the filing of a suit Saturday before the State Supreme Court in which the legality of the election of Fitts and Supervisor Wright was questioned by County Registrar Kerr.

Kerr seeks to have a ruling from the high court on the validity of the issuance of election certificates to the two officials, whose names did not appear on the ballot at the general election. It was held by county officials that both candidates had received a majority of all votes cast at the primary and it was therefore not necessary that they be voted on again.

The question, which has been under discussion for some months, has now reached a point in law as to whether provisions of the county charter take precedence over State laws governing elections.

Atty.-Gen. Webb expressed total indifference to the controversy when it was called to his attention at his San Francisco office. He said he is satisfied that Fitts has met all the State requirements of his office. In any event, he added, Fitts is now de facto District Attorney of Los Angeles county and as such his every act is legal.

Fitts declined to comment on the statement of Webb but said that he is preparing to enter into the suit when it is heard before the State Supreme Court. He declared that he is not disturbed about the final outcome but believes that the ruling of the higher court will settle the matter, which has been agitated since shortly after his taking over the duties of District Attorney.

Miss Swanson Again Denies Divorce Plans

Because Gloria Swanson, film actress, is in Hollywood and her Marquis-husband, Henri La Bailly De La Falaise, is in Paris, does not mean divorce, the former declared last night in denying reports from New York that such action is imminent.

She would make no comment on further reports that her husband had been seen often in the company of Constance Bennett in the French capital.

According to the New York dispatch the husband of Miss Swanson not only was seen often in Paris in the company of Miss Bennett, recently divorced from Phil Plant, but that following the return of Miss Bennett to New York many trans-Atlantic telephone conversations between the pair had taken place. This was explained by the Marquis as pertaining to songs he had been purchasing for Miss Bennett's new picture, according to the dispatches.

Miss Swanson stated she could only repeat her answer to former rumors of impending divorce, namely, "Such an action is not contemplated."

Today's Bible Text

Unto you first God, having raised up his Son Jesus, sent him to bless you, in turning away every one of you from his iniquities.—Acts iii:26.

GLOBE GIRDLERS

With the aid of a yardstick and a piece of string a scientist now supplies proof that our earth is twenty-six miles thinner around the poles than it is at the equator. Ambitious aviators can save thirteen miles by flying from the North to the South Pole instead of going halfway 'round the world's waistline.

CATCHING WHALES

Another whaling fleet consisting of a factory ship and four auxiliaries or killers is being formed at the harbor and will be ready for the blowing season around Magdalena Bay. One of the outfits here had a turn over of more than 15,000 barrels of whale oil last season. The Eskimos would think this great stuff to run through a soda fountain, but most of it goes to the makers of soaps and cosmetics.

INDIA DEMOCRATS

In connection with the recent gathering of the national Congress in India the organization of a Democratic party was announced with Srinivasa Aiyengar and Subash Bose as leaders. Democrats in this country might shy at these names, but the question arises, why a Democratic party? According to Will Rogers it isn't getting anywhere in America although it has been running for more than a hundred years. Why spring it on India now?

WAS NEVER LOYAL

Now there are old-time Republicans who would bar Senator Norris from the Republican primary in Nebraska. The assertion is made that Norris votes with Democrats more than with Republicans. He himself admits that he is independent and it is pointed out that the primary law makes ample provision for a candidate running as such. But on the other hand Senator Norris insists that any man has the right to select his party at any time. This is the time he chooses to be a Republican and, therefore, he will claim the right of way in the Republican primary. But the average citizen cannot deeply respect a politician who recognizes his party tie only when it can be used to his personal advantage in a primary election.

MORE MACHINES, MORE JOBS

In the face of all the evidence to the contrary, pessimists often are heard to deplore the installation of so much labor-saving machinery on the ground that it results in unemployment. The fallacy of this is shown by Dr. Julius Klein, Assistant Secretary of Commerce, who says that workers displaced by machinery are gaining rather than losing, as they "are being forced into more profitable walks of life."

Dr. Klein says that at first thought this displacement of workers might seem discouraging to men who contemplate entering our industries. Many people ask the question, "If factories can produce the same output with half as many hands, doesn't that mean fewer jobs?" The answer is that in the factories themselves it does. But there are other and larger aspects of the subject, and one of them lies in the vast expansion of what Dr. Klein calls "mass servicing," while another is the equally extensive growth of mass distribution.

This new line of argument in favor of labor-saving machinery as a real economic aid to mankind, saving it much drudgery, has been heard before, but it never has been so convincingly brought forth as by Mr. Klein. He points out that as soon as a car rolls out of the factory it begins to require servicing. The mechanic who has been displaced by new machinery in the factory is now needed in the garage and service station. Then, too, more cars mean the building of more factories for making accessories, greater demand for tires, more workers in the oil fields, more tax receipts for the building of highways and so forth.

Also it means that the worker has more money to spend, as he is receiving higher wages, thus building up the restaurant, theater, radio, phonograph and many other industries. So that it is idle for anybody to say that machinery is a curse rather than a blessing to labor. It is widening the whole scope of industry and commerce and creating a demand for the worker everywhere.

WHERE THE TROUBLE IS

Where the trouble has been in the California delegation to the Colorado River conference of lower-basin States is made plain by the result of the meeting at El Centro, where a demand was framed that Imperial, Coachella and Palo Verde valleys be guaranteed 4,400,000 acre feet of the waters of the Colorado River, or practically the whole of California's share. This demand, dictated by Mark Rose and his political satellites, would be enough to wreck any conference, and if it is persisted in means serious danger, if not destruction, to the whole Colorado River project.

It is highly unlikely that this absurd demand is backed by the genuine sentiment of the majority of the sensible people of the Imperial Valley. Mark Rose, a director of the Imperial Irrigation District, is quoted as saying characteristically, that he would rather see the construction of Boulder Dam postponed indefinitely than yield an acre foot of this water to any other portion of the State.

What Rose and his like are likely to see, in that event, is a good deal more than 4,400,000 acre feet of water in Imperial Valley remaining there permanently and covering the whole area. This is a practical certainty if the construction of Boulder Dam or some other flood-control work is "postponed indefinitely," since the control of the Colorado by levees has its limits and these are being approached rapidly.

Los Angeles and her sister cities of the Metropolitan Water District are asking only for a comparatively modest allocation of domestic water. To speak plainly, however, since the great bulk of the money to build Boulder Dam will have to come from Los Angeles if it comes from anywhere, this city is in a better position to issue ultimatums than are Mark Rose and the small part of Imperial Valley which he represents.

The Metropolitan Water District cannot come before the people of the coastal plane of Southern California asking for the bond issue necessary to finance an aqueduct, or the city cannot ask for public financing of a power plant and transmission line—on which two issues the dam project is contingent—if all the water it can possibly get is the 800,000 acre feet from a theoretical surplus which would remain after the Imperial Valley's demanded 4,400,000 acre feet is taken care of. The Metropolitan Water District will eventually require something over 1,000,000 acre feet annually, and it might well take a chance on getting part of it from surplus. It is obvious that it would not be justified, however, in financing the project unless most of this requirement is guaranteed.

The ridiculous unreasonableness of the stand of Rose and Pound can be seen by a glance at the requirements of the present irrigated area. This amounts to 430,000 acres in Imperial Valley, 15,000 in Coachella Valley and 32,000 in Palo Verde Valley, or 477,000 acres in all. During 1928, the last year for which the district's irrigation figures are available, there actually was applied to this land 4.05 feet of water per acre, or a total of 1,931,850 acre feet. Assuming 2,000,000 acre feet as the present demand, Rose and Pound are asking for a guarantee of 220 per cent of this ar an absolute minimum! Irrigation engineers declare that 4.05 acre feet per year is a high figure and that 3.5 is about what Imperial Valley land should have, allowing for wastage.

When the All-American Canal scheme was first broached in 1919 the very liberal estimate was made that it was possible to irrigate 895,000 acres, under full development of the Imperial, Palo Verde and Coachella valleys and including the East Mesa lands, development of which by most people is regarded as chimerical. These 895,000 acres would require at the 1928 rate of consumption 3,624,750 acre feet of water and leave a surplus of 875,250 acre feet if the district had 4,400,000 available. Rose and his cohorts, to justify their demand for this amount, now declare it may be possible to irrigate 1,175,000 acres, which undoubtedly is an absurd overstatement. This would require 4,758,750 acre feet at the 1928 rate.

In their gross exaggeration of their probable future needs—a common error of irrigation districts—the Rose-Pound obstructionists ignore that fact that, in the past few years more than 40,000 Imperial Valley and 12,000 Palo Verde Valley acres have gone back to desert after being cleared, leveled and put under ditch. This tremendous economic waste—it costs an average of about $60 to put an acre under irrigation—has been due to improper drainage facilities, high cost of cultivation due to district mismanagement and a variety of other factors. At present, therefore, it appears that, so far from having vast areas of arable but arid land whose owners are ready and eager to put it under cultivation, the Imperial Irrigation District is not even irrigating all the land which has been prepared for the purpose.

The Rose demand is further absurd because in all water supply projects domestic use has priority over irrigation use. The California coastal plain, therefore, has two perfectly valid reasons for insisting upon a fair share of water; first, because it will put the water to its highest use, and second, because it will have to pay practically all the bill for the dam.

It is useless to attempt to provide in detail for circumstances more than fifty years in the future, since no one can possibly tell what conditions will be then. What is needed is to settle today's problem today. The fact is, that in all human probability there will be plenty of water for everybody for the next fifty years and the quarrel about allocations is about the possible pinching of a shoe some time in the 1980's—in other words, a quarrel about nothing of present interest.

Rose and his followers also pretend to believe that the prime interest of the Los Angeles district is in power, just as they ignore that their own prime interest is in protection from floods. The fact is that Boulder Dam power at 1.6? mills per kilowatt hour is about 25 per cent higher than the cost of power produced on the seaboard and that Los Angeles would be money in pocket by letting the Boulder power go to other buyers if any can be found.

The primary concern of the seaboard is in getting water for domestic use; the primary concern of Imperial Valley is flood control. To get water, Los Angeles is willing to pay more for power than it is worth, and let Imperial Valley get flood control as a by-product—for which, incidentally, Imperial Valley will not only pay nothing but will be relieved of its present burden of levee maintenance besides.

Los Angeles might possibly get water elsewhere, but Imperial Valley cannot get flood control elsewhere. It is Imperial Valley and not the seaboard that will benefit most in the bargain that has been proposed and to which Rose and Pound object.

The Times is aware that its enemies in the valley and elsewhere will endeavor to construe this statement as one unfriendly to Imperial Valley and its irrigation needs. As a matter of fact, every possible interest of the valley, even to its very existence, depends on an attitude which will help make possible quick and united action for river control and conservation. The Times and everyone else wants Imperial Valley and all other parties at interest to get everything to which they are legitimately entitled. The history of years of river conferences has sufficiently shown that, when any party to the negotiations tried to hog more than its share, a deadlock follows, nothing at all is accomplished and everybody suffers.

"THE STAR-SPANGLED BANNER"

No doubt finer and more famous voices have been heard in American cities than those of the two young matrons who made the corridors of the Capitol ring with the stirring strains of our national anthem. But we venture to say no singers ever inspired an audience to a nobler pitch of sentiment and no orator ever aroused finer patriotic feelings in a House Judiciary Committee room.

The occasion for this display of patriotism was to call attention to an omission to which Congress should have attended long ago. It was to obtain the official O.K. of our government on "The Star-Spangled Banner" as the one, only and indisputable national anthem for the American republic.

Of course for all practical purposes Francis Scott Key's immortal song has already been adopted by the nation along with the music—no matter what its origin—with which the words of the poem have always been associated. It is already ours de facto; it must also be made ours de jure. A signed petition by 5,000,000 citizens, indorsed by twenty-five State Governors, serves sufficient notice on members of Congress how the people at large feel about it.

There is only one dubious feature in connection with the demonstration. It is said that the singing of the song is not difficult "as revised." Americans don't want any "revising" done on the tune or the words. They want it officially sanctioned "as is." "The Star-Spangled Banner" is not so difficult to sing or play for any American to whom its spirit transcends its technic. It is far less complicated than the "Marseillaise." We would like to see what would happen to a Frenchman who suggested any change in that national air. We don't want a single high note eliminated from the well-known score of "The Star-Spangled Banner." Many even resent the omission of the extra high grace note at the end of the last line but one.

If Congress had placed its official ukase on "The Star-Spangled Banner" years ago, as it should have done, none today would have been permitted to tamper with it, even though unable to rise to the sublimity of its higher ranges.

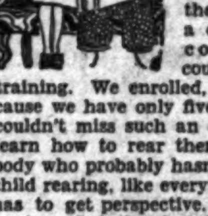
School for Parents



Recently every child in the Ourville public school received a slip of paper to take home to his parents, inviting them to enroll in a class taking a correspondence course in parent training. We enrolled, of course, because we have only five children and couldn't miss such an opportunity to learn how to rear them from somebody who probably hasn't any. For in child rearing, like everything else, one has to get perspective. And we must confess that the first lesson pointed out fully a dozen wrong things we have been pretty much in the habit of doing, and we hope to be a much better parent as a result of this course, which we intend to study earnestly.

The important thing is that we are only one of thousands in this county, we believe, who are taking this course for parents, and we also assume that all over the State—perhaps all over the country—similar courses are being started. The course we are taking comes from "the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, Inc." It looks as if somebody might be making good money out of it, and we don't care if somebody is. We think the fact that a great number of parents are enrolling to learn how to be better parents is the most encouraging sign of the times to which we can point. The only reason in the world why there are so many hell-bent children is because there are so many damphool parents. No child ever was born bad. Children learn impatience, selfishness, trickiness, deception—and from whom? They develop malice, envy, spite and mental dishonesty. Dr. Anderson, one of the wise men in the Los Angeles Child Guidance Clinic, tells us that undoubtedly parent guidance is the first step toward child guidance—that many good children are being ruined by the neglect and mishandling of parents who otherwise are good people. Get one of these parent-training lessons and you may discover you are one of those parents.

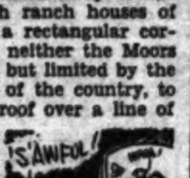
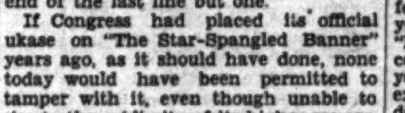
Marvels of the Talkies

Leeside: Last night saw a preview—a tryout on the dog—of an unreleased "western." It opened with the runaway stage bearing the New England schoolmarm, in poke bonnet and hoop skirt, straight to destruction at terrific speed—when the lead horses were pulled down by the opportune hero!

My eye! was there no old teamster or mule skinner idling about Hollywood who could save them from that bonehead play? Fancy stopping a runaway six-hitch to a Concord coach by pulling down the lead horses!

I got a better movie than that. Starts in Santa Ana in one of those windstorms originally called "santanas," which is what they call blows on the Nubian Desert. Then the imperiled lady is whisked away to one of the old Spanish ranch houses of romance—that is, a rectangular corral borrowed from neither the Moors nor the Spaniards, but limited by the building materials of the country, to four walls with a roof over a line of box stalls adown each side, with a door apiece and perhaps a window and no other ventilation. I drove stage on the Berthud Pass in '85 and snowshowed it in winter. But I am kinder weak on the movie screen and continuity and stopping runaway coaches by necking the lead horses.—H. A. Smith, Santa Ana.





THE ALLIGATOR

By James J. Montague

The alligator's skull contains
A quarter of a pound of brains,

But these suffice to catch the prey
Which in his maw he stows away,

And to enjoy the sun that beams
Upon him as he basks and dreams.

His puny mind is never fraught
With troubled and distracting thought;

Ambition's masterful behest
Can never rob him of his rest;

Nor does he ever speculate
About the mystery of fate.

Although his intellect is crude,
He always has abundant food.

And room to swim and brood and bask,
And that is all that he would ask.

Man battles hard for happiness
And place and power and success,

But all his struggles are in vain,
Despite his large and massive brain,

And I sincerely doubt if man
Has got much on the saurian.

About Drinking Water

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 27.—[To the Editor of The Times:] A writer in The Times makes the direct, positive statement that the best drinking water for all purposes is distilled water. He also states that the objection to ordinary water is that it contains "minerals and bacterial impurities.

The United States Geological Suvey, which has charge of all public water supplies in the United States and which has more data on the health quality of water than any individual or other organization, states that the presence or absence of ordinary amounts of minerals usually found in drinking water has no appreciable effect on the public health. The United States Public Health Service permits minerals in drinking water up to 1000 ppm—fifty-seven grains per gallon.

Dr. W. D. Sansum, an accepted authority on dietetics, with a national reputation, states in his book, "Normal Diet," that water for babies and children should contain natural iodine, absent in distilled water, mountain water or water from surface sources; Dr. Sansum specifically states that distilled water is not suitable for drinking purposes. He recommends natural drinking water containing iodine in excess of twenty-three parts per 100,000,000,000 which, he states, can only be had from deep artesian wells.

Harmonious Milkmen

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 30.—[To the Editor of The Times:] The Times recently stated the milk distributors were seeking "harmony." Residents of the two blocks along Plymouth just north of Beverly think they can assist the search. Out of three milk deliveries in our district daily, between 4 and 6 o'clock a.m., two of the milk boys have talent. One whistles and the other sings. At least they are under that impression and occasionally they seem to hit real notes.

Two of these before-dawn trucks are of the w. k. Detroit oracle's early production and carry Klaxon brakes, obviating the need of a horn. Any slumberers who fail to hear the brakes arriving are awakened by the croupy motors, which are left running and grunting while the milk is delivered to customers, in disregard of the law. The third truck is a hay-burner type and the animal having three good feet and one fallen arch, rendering three klops and one klump to four steps. Singularly, all three of these milkmen combined seem unable to deliver good milk. This may be due to working in the dark, or possibly they deliver in the dark because the milk looks better without light.

Harmony is a concord of sounds, and if the milk distributors will take these three noises as a nucleus and adjust them to other sounds, they will have genuine barber-shop harmony with barnyard obbligato.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Auto Valuation?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

To meet the needs of prospective automobile purchasers the Central Evening High School, 469 North Hill street, is offering a free class in auto inspection and valuation. There are real cars in the shop in various stages of depreciation. Students who have no autos of their own study these cars, estimate the necessary repair work on them and have actual practice in making the repairs. They learn to place a proper valuation on a used car and to know just what it will accomplish, and how to increase its value.

Men and women are admitted to this class without charge of any kind, and there is no age limit. The class meets on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings from 7 to 9.

WHEN DRYS GO DRY

BY ALMA WHITAKER

The order of Atty-Gen. Mitchell that persons intrusted with "dry" enforcement must themselves refrain from patronizing bootleggers or drinking will cause no end of indignation among the job-hunters and among some job-holders, too. Its chief drawback is that it does not reach enough officials.

I recall the astonishment of a visiting Englishman here, who attended a party where several of our county officials and a judge or two were all indulging in strong liquor with easy nonchalance. One judge was even discussing his disposition of several recent prohibition cases held before him. "But . . . but . . ." the Englishman gasped. And even when the situation was jocularly explained to him, he couldn't seem to grasp the inner niceties of the logic involved. A great many foreigners have proved equally uncomprehending.

When Count Keyserling demanded his pint of champagne a day and was publicly chided therefor, he looked quite bewildered. He said he had met so many of our law-enforcement officials, don't you know, and—er—well, there must be some mistake somewhere.

I met one of our local municipal judges soon after prohibition came in . . . at a cafe, where he was very drunk, indeed. But that did not prevent him replying to a question from the floor by a member of the W.C.T.U. at a club meeting, that "I have never taken a drink in my life." He was running for election at that time. Now think what an interesting difference it might have made, not only to this judge, but to enforcement generally, if his private habits had been investigated carefully beforehand.

A man who was head of our local dry squad here at one time was rarely quite sober during the whole of that time. He would, however, talk quite bombastically about who he would and would not have prosecuted. I recall asking meekly for information anent this situation from higher quarters, only to create uproarious laughter. And, of course, it was a hilarious joke. One realized that—without being satisfactorily amused.

So while the Federal officials are being required to "abstain from alcoholic beverages," it might prove quite interesting to apply the same idea to local officers. The case is not wholly hopeless. Another local judge, who formerly drank at will, took his oath of office so seriously that he has neither indulged himself since nor remained at any function where liquor was served. The general effect of this one man's abstinence has had quite tremendous results in the circle he moves in. A great many men anxious to remain in his good graces have discovered that abstinence has marked advantages . . . even, I mean, when they rather like a drink and don't approve of prohibition.

VOCAL ANACHRONISM

BY LANNIE HAYNES MARTIN

After listening to a number of poets read their own creations I have come to the conclusion that sonnets, like small children, should "be seen and not heard."

Take the case of a well-known poet I heard recently in recitation. She has a natural, naive voice, as wholesome as a May morning when she talks about her poems and tells you what she is going to read. Her voice is as clear as a bell, there seems to be no effort whatever in reaching the furthest corner of a large auditorium, and the audience is instantly attracted to her by the freshness and unaffected quality of her conversational tones. Until—she begins to read or recite the first poem on her program.

The throwing back of her too-long, bobbed, bright red hair does not seem significant the first time she does it, but you soon learn that something clicks then, this gesture, which in its continued repetition becomes an annoying mannerism, synchronizes with the change of voice. The change of voice, from the delightfully simple, natural tones, to the tragic, tremulo, solemn, sepulchral affectation, in the twinkling of an eye, transforms the personality.

Here stands an ancient priestess chanting a sacrificial ceremonial hymn; here stands a mid-Victorian elocutionist ba-a-a-a-ing in the best Delsartian manner. This continual falling of the hair over the face, this eternal trailing of a too-long gown, which the speaker must lift with her hands before she can step forward, sideways or rearward, makes one forget the poet is a human being.

Some one writing of this hair-pushing mannerism spoke of it as "a pathetic, little gesture." Now there being nothing anemic, pathetic or even anything suggesting helplessness about red hair, the idea seems incongruous. Why should a poet whose virility of verse would often make her sex uncertain, affect a flagrant femininity?

A FORESTRY LESSON

Germany, a country that probably leads the world today in the practice of forestry, was once so devastated of trees by wasteful cutting that in certain regions she adopted drastic measures to ward off timber famine. The cutting of May trees was prohibited, says the American Tree Association. The number of wooden houses in a community was limited. Fences were supplanted by hedges and ditches. Extreme measures these, and only justified by absolute forest poverty.

Then forestry came into practice and the German forests have been brought to a high state of productivity. But in spite of all she can do Germany is unable to produce enough timber for her people. Each year she is forced to import millions of tons of lumber. It is simply a case of needing more wood than her available forest lands are able to produce.

LOVE SUIT ON TRIAL TODAY

Dolores Salazar to be in Court to Press Balm Action Against Artist Earle

A jury in the court of Superior Judge Archbald today will listen to two versions of the love affair of Ferdinand Pinney Earle, artist, and Dolores Salazar, beautiful dancing girl, when the latter's suit for $180,000 against the artist goes to trial.

Dolores Salazar

Miss Salazar asserts that Earle "swept her off her feet" by his love making, that he promised to marry her and then left her in Paris after she accompanied him on a trip across the Atlantic.

Earle, in his answer to the dancer's charges, asserts that she "fell into his lap like a ripe peach" and that she left his hotel in Paris against his will.

The jury in court will not hear the story from the artist, as he is now in Paris. His testimony will be presented to the court in the form of depositions.

Miss Salazar, however, is expected to be in court with her counsel, Attorney Roger Marchetti. She will base the major portion of her suit on a collection of love letters asserted to have been written to her by the artist.

Earle, it is asserted, is living in Paris with Danise Loncin, the French girl he married soon after his parting with Miss Salazar. He will be represented in court here by Attorney Sam Steelman.

Miss Salazar is suing the artist for $50,000 for asserted breach of promise to marry; $30,000 for asserted breach of promise to star her in motion-picture films; $50,000 for asserted betrayal and $50,000 for punitive damages.

The dancer's complaint asserts that Earle beat her and drove her from their hotel in Paris.

CONFERENCE SERIES OPENS

Salvation Army Leaders Assemble to Discuss Plans Vital to Organization's Future

Plans vital to the future growth and development of the Salvation Army were discussed at a meeting yesterday noon at the Los Angeles Athletic Club of members of the local advisory board and regional executives of the organization. Col. Andrew W. Crawford, chief secretary of the twelve western States and second in national command, said the subjects discussed cover such a wide range that several follow-up conferences will be necessary before definite announcements concerning plans can be made.

In addition to Col. Crawford, other territorial executives at the meeting were Lieut.-Col. Albert E. Widgery, financial secretary; Brig. Arthur Hopkins, field secretary; Ensign C. W. Burr, special efforts secretary; Brig. James C. Bell, divisional commander of Los Angeles, and Col. William Gooding.

Members of the advisory board are Harry Haldeman, chairman; William May Garland; Harry Chandler; Henry W. O'Melveny; Joseph B. Dabney; Charles F. Hutson and Charles H. Toll.

In connection with the Golden Jubilee Crusade, which was opened officially by Col. Crawford on Sunday at the Citadel, 125 East Fourth street, a series of divisional meetings started there yesterday with Maj. Edward R. Gifford, territorial young people's secretary, in charge. They will continue throughout the week and leading Salvationists are to be speakers. There will be special music by the Salvation Army band, led by Adjt. Ballington Rogers.

At the opening meeting, where corps cadets of the twenty-three Salvation Army corps of the Los Angeles and South Coast division were especially honored, Col. Crawford told the cadets of the great opportunity before them in the Salvation Army's need of young people to carry on the work of the future.

County Airport Warning Given

Warning to the public to go slow on acquiring the ground known as site No. 8, El Monte, for a county airport was sounded yesterday by Paul Ferron, Paul Richter, Jr., and N. M. Lyon, all of the American Legion. Ferron is chairman of the Department of California's aeronautical committee, Richter heads the county council's committee, and Lyon is commander of aviators' post. Stating that they are interested in the advance of aviation, the legionnaires assert that they want to apprise taxpayers of certain facts.

They assert that it is problematical whether there is need of a county airport. The legionnaires say the terms and conditions of the lease of the site above mentioned seem disadvantageous to the taxpayers, and that the lease is being entered with too much speed considering the costs.

SITE NEAR DUARTE OFFERED FOR AIRPORT

An eighty-acre site near Duarte Boulevard and Vincent avenue yesterday was offered the Board of Supervisors for use as a county airport. The parcel is located near Azusa and Duarte, and the offer was made through M. P. Phillips, real estate operator said to be representing a group of property owners of the district. The eighty acres is part of a 160-acre tract and is free of all incumbrances, it is said.

The board, which has been considering the proposal to lease a 968-acre tract near El Monte as a county airport, took the offer under submission.

CHEF WYMAN PLANS DISTINCTIVE DISHES

One of the most interesting features of The Los Angeles Times' free cooking school is that demonstrations are seldom repeated. However, there are certain dishes that are exceptions, among them omelettes and sponge cake. Three times a year Chef Wyman shows exactly how to prepare the perfect omelette. Today she will demonstrate a wine-jelly omelette and show how easy it is to make sponge cake. Unusual dishes will include a mock tamale pie in timbales and a stuffed egg salad with sour cream salad dressing. There is no charge for the classes which are held every Tuesday and Friday at 2 p.m. in the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

CUPID USED TO LICENSE LAW

Record Shows Marriages Up to Normal Again, Despite Three-Day Banns

People are getting used to the idea of giving three days' notice before applying for a marriage license, according to Miss Rosamond Rice, deputy County Clerk in charge of the license bureau.

In the month of January just ended 1349 licenses were issued. This is just ninety-nine more than were issued last year and slightly more than the normal increase, Miss Rice said. It indicates that people are becoming reconciled to the idea of giving three days' notice, in Miss Rice's opinion. Last year a considerable number of local couples went out of the State to be married, according to records.

LECTURER GIVES SUCCESS RECIPE

Christian Scientist Talks on Business Affairs

Depression Declared to Be Unnecessary Factor

Way to Make One's Way in World Pointed Out

Peter V. Ross, C.S.B., of San Francisco, member of the Board of Lectureship of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, in a lecture delivered yesterday under the auspices of Second Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles, spoke in part as follows:

"Another belief, scarcely less persistent than disease, is lack or want. The fact is that God supplies man bountifully. He withholds no good thing from those who walk uprightly. This must be so. A God who is Love, a God whom Jesus characterizes as Father and Mrs. Eddy as Father-Mother, cannot do less than know and meet every need His children can experience. The individual who holds to these truths instead of giving way to the fears of failure and want will find his supply made adequate. The person who is ill tries, in Christian Science, to realize the in-dwelling presence of eternal Life, and the necessary absence of disease, with the result that his beliefs and fears of distress melt away. In this manner the word is made flesh. So the man whose business is sick or whose position is in jeopardy realizes that God supplies man with all things needful and sustains man in all emergencies. In this way divine law is made to operate in human affairs to the annihilation of poverty and failure.

DOORS OPENING

"It is repeatedly said, by thoughtless people, that the doors of opportunity in these days are all but closed. Nothing is further from the truth. Even from the human standpoint the doors are opening rather than closing. Never before have there been such opportunities offered to people for education and preparation for the duties of life. Never have there been such opportunities in the world of business and industry as are now at hand.

"All the individual needs is the vision to see the opportunity and the willingness to embrace it; and this vision will come, in such measure as he needs, to the person who tries to realize that the divine Mind is expressed through man and gives man the ability to discern what God has for him to do and equips him with the capacity to perform the work.

"Opportunity is not only here, but it is boundless. The exploration of its realms has only begun. Hence the success of one person does not mean the failure of another, but quite the contrary; and enterprises, small or great, can be launched without disturbing existing ones. There is room for all and no excuse for elbowing or jostling.

REAL OPPORTUNITY

"The man in business, under the influence of Christian Science, discovers that business, instead of being a means simply for making money, is an opportunity for supplying people with the things and commodities they need. As he puts his heart and soul into the enterprise, with this purpose in view, God sees to it that his income is made adequate.

"When confronted with problems and difficulties he realizes that the divine Mind imparts to man the intelligence wherewith to meet all situations. He realizes that divine Principle governs all things and all people. Then the affairs of his business take on a more orderly and normal condition; his employees and patrons conduct themselves toward him as men and women of Principle."

Lincoln Club to Hear Professor From Scotland

Republican leaders of Southern California associated in the Lincoln Club will hold their annual dinner on the anniversary of Lincoln's birthday, the 12th inst., at the California Club with Prof. J. Arthur Hhomson of the University of Aberdeen, Scotland, as the principal speaker.

Dr. Thomson is scheduled to speak on a comparison of the lives of Lincoln and Darwin and the influence of their lives upon civilization.

Dr. E. C. Moore, president of the University of California at Los Angeles, the president of the club, will preside at the dinner as toastmaster. Other officers of the club include, William M. Garland, vice-president; Edward D. Lyman, vice-president; Charles H. Toll, treasurer and John C. McFarland, secretary.

BUSINESS IN "HIGH" SAYS AUTO MAKER

George M. Graham Visits City on Inspection Trip to Pacific Coast

America's middle class provides the greatest market in the world . . . trend toward two or more cars to a family will increase and this tendency will bring vast expansion in the automobile industry . . . business is improving . . . The United States is too strong to worry over setbacks in the stock market . . .

George M. Graham, vice-president and in charge of sales of the Willys-Overland Company, Inc., of Todelo, O., uttered these comments yesterday at the Biltmore following his arrival on an inspection trip to the Pacific Coast.

GEORGE M. GRAHAM

"The market consisting of Americans with incomes between $2500 and $10,000 a year is a market without parallel," declared Graham. "Although foreign business is showing a considerable gain, we continue to look to the great middle class as the greatest field for expansion, particularly since the two-car-per-family movement gained momentum.

The visitor declared that business is improving steadily and that he looks for it to be in full swing by April 1, or by May 1, next, at the latest.

"It is true," Graham admitted, "that we are holding our schedules close to the demand, expanding as business develops—but I believe that to be sound business procedure, removing the danger of overstocked dealers' warehouses and the possible necessity of taking losses in sacrifice sales."

Graham said that he is viewing the Los Angeles Willys-Overland plant for the first time and that he is enthusiastic over it. He planned to leave today for San Diego.

Dr. Baumgarten, Leading Seattle Physician, Dies

Prominent in the medical profession of the Northwest, Dr. Roy C. Baumgarten died yesterday in Seattle, according to word received by his relatives residing in this city, including Emily B. Baumgarten, mother; Dr. W. L. Baumgarten and W. A. Baumgarten, brothers; his widow and Elza B. Schallert. Dr. Baumgarten passed away as a result of complications following an operation for acute appendicitis.

DR. BAUMGARTEN

Mrs. Baumgarten and Mrs. Schallert left for the northern city immediately upon hearing the word of his illness, Mrs. Baumgarten having been here on a visit to her relatives, with her 4-year-old daughter Mitzi.

Dr. Baumgarten was born January 12, 1889, in Davenport, Iowa. He attended the University of Iowa for three years and completed his medical course at Jefferson Medical College, Philadelphia. He became county physician of Scott county, Iowa, upon completing his course, and later moved to Seattle where he was police surgeon for a year. For the past twelve years he had specialized in Roentgenology, and had charge of the X-ray work at Camp Travis, Tex., during the war. He was a first lieutenant, Medical Corps, and at the time of his death was post surgeon for the Washington post of the American Legion at Seattle. His X-ray work both in examinations and treatment of diseases is widely known throughout that region on the Coast and elsewhere.

Funeral services of Dr. Baumgarten will be conducted under the auspices of the American Legion in Seattle, and the body will then be brought to Los Angeles. Announcement will be made of the services in this city later.

In addition to the daughter, Dr. Baumgarten leaves a son Jay, 7.

MRS. BALL SUES DU PONTS

Ex-Wife of Attorney Here Asks $1,000,000 Balm in Florida Action Against Millionaire Pair

The threat uttered almost two years ago by Mrs. Mary Ball, former wife of Thomas Ball, local attorney, that she would sue her former sister-in-law, Mrs. Jessie Ball Du Pont, and the latter's millionaire husband, Alfred I. Du Pont, for alienation of Ball's affections, was carried out yesterday, according to word from Jacksonville, Fla. Such a suit was filed there, asking for $1,000,000 damages. Although Mr. Du Pont is named as a joint defendant with his wife, the twelve assertions in the bill of complaint are made only against his wife.

Mrs. Ball declared she would sue her sister-in-law while Ball's action for divorce was pending. The trial of the divorce case took place in this city, beginning on February 29, 1928, and ending with the granting of a decree to Ball on March 16, 1928, by Superior Judge Wilson, on the grounds of mental cruelty. Mrs. Ball was not granted any alimony, as Ball was shown to be $26,000 in debt due to expenses incurred for treatment of serious injuries he received in an automobile accident in May, 1927.

In her answer to the divorce action Mrs. Ball asserted that her marriage had been broken up by Mrs. Du Pont and it is a similar assertion which is the basis for the suit she filed yesterday.

Mrs. Du Pont also is asserted to have "maliciously poisoned and prejudiced the mind of Mrs. Ball's husband against her by telling him false stories about Mrs. Ball, treating the plaintiff with disrespect in the presence of plaintiff's said husband and by charging her, the plaintiff, with being poor white trash, extravagant, wasteful and suspicious of her husband."

When Ball was notified of the filing of the suit yesterday the only comment he would make was, "I had expected it. Today was the last day for filing it." He was referring to the fact that on December 10, last, Mrs. Ball's Jacksonville attorney had filed notice of intention to bring the suit and the time limit under that notice expired yesterday.

Formal announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Baskerville of 1156 West Fifty-fifth street of the engagement of their daughter, Miss Mary Baskerville, to Millard Owen Sheets, son of J. G. Sheets and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Owen of Pomona. No date is set as yet for the wedding, which, however, will be an event of the late spring.

Mr. and Mrs. Baskerville entertained with a party at their home Saturday evening, January 18, when the news was told, and the following evening Miss Baskerville announced the betrothal to fifteen of her sorority sisters at an informal tea at her home. Miss Baskerville is a student at University of California at Los Angeles and is president of the Kappa Alpha Theta Sorority. Her fiance is an artist who has just returned from a six months' sketching tour of Europe.

Several Affairs

Among intimate dinner parties given recently at the Huntington were those at which Mr. and Mrs. James A. Darsie of Pasadena and Mr. and Mrs. Stanley W. Tucker of Cleveland were hosts, taking place last Thursday evening.

Mrs. Tucker, recently recovered from a long illness, gave the dinner to celebrate her thirty-fifth wedding anniversary, the guests including many Cleveland friends, among whom were Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Porter, Capt. and Mrs. C. L. Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson, Mr. and Mrs. J. Lee Wallace, James Newcomb, Mrs. M. C. Alexander, Mrs. Frances Treadway, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wigmore and Mrs. James Mathers.

With Mr. and Mrs. Darsie were Mrs. Ada Reis Murphy, Mrs. James A. Ducey, Mrs. Elizabeth Eberle, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Reis, Mr. and Mrs. J. Harrington Sickee, Mr. and Mrs. James G. Jeffreys, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McLaughlin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Suffel, Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Hull, Mr. and Mrs. Crook Whatley, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney F. Heckert, Jr., Walter Wallace and Parker Lyon.

University Club Affair

Mrs. John Polkinghorn and Miss Irene Read were co-hostesses at a bridge-luncheon given Saturday at the University Club in compliment to Mrs. Steen Fletcher.

Bidden were Mesdames Fletcher, Earl Read, Fred Gates, Earl Livingston, Charles Guest, Charles Taylor, Thomas Touslay, Lowell Hutchason, Hugh Conroy, Edgar Heintz, Harold Rossiter, Robert Hunsaker and Charles McConnell and Misses Patricia Carey, Virginia Giuli, Kathleen Murphy, Amy Du Pont Phillips, Marie Marlow, Bernice Erickson, Virginia Hill, Helen Keane and Ruth Keane.

Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher are here from Boise, Idaho, to participate in the winter polo. For several years they have been passing their winters in California, making their home at the Arcady. As Mr. Fletcher is a prominent polo player of the Midwick Country Club, the hostesses made polo their motif for the occasion in the selection of favors and appointments.

Dancing and Bridge

The hillside home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Fenn Kimball on El Contento Drive, Hollywood, was the setting Saturday evening, January 25, for an informal affair at which the diversions were dancing and bridge, Mr. and Mrs. Percival H. Hawley being hosts with the Kimballs.

Bidden were Messrs. and Mmes. C. S. Vidor, Carl Benning, J. Furlonge, Horace P. Babson, Frank Purkett, K. Hughes, R. Marshman, H. Rice, Dr. and Mrs. Orville Olson, Dr. and Mrs. Lambert, Miss Alma Richards, Miss Wanda Tuschock, William Scripps and Melville Short.

Attractive Affair

Roscoe Bell and Mrs. Elizabeth Laird Kuzell, entertained members and guests at a Gamma Phi Beta bridge musicale Saturday at the sorority house in Westwood. Margaret Schirm sang a group of songs, accompanied by Betty Purcell. Other members who entertained included Miss Kate Frost and Mrs. Lee Spencer, pianists.

More than fifty bridge tables were filled, the proceeds from which are to be used by the active chapter. Mrs. Nell Brooker Mayhew, well-known landscape artist, donated original sets of bookplates as table prizes and a colored etching as grand prize.

Mrs. Gail Hall Wright and Miss Veeda Reese were in charge of the party, while Mrs. T. L. Berry received. Assisting were Mmes. J. H. Kuhl, Charles King, Brewster Stevens, Harold Galbreath and Misses Hazel Plate, Aileen Taylor and Jessie Duggan.

Pink snapdragons, ranunculi, narcissi and yellow roses were used to carry out the color scheme of pink and yellow throughout the living-room, library and dining-room. The tea table was beautifully adorned with a long basket of the flowers and was presided over by Mrs. John Downey and Mrs. Collier. Assisting in the dining-room were Mmes. B. J. Dickson, B. O. Greening, Stewart Harris, D. Y. Kibby, B. W. Marsh and Misses Jean Paulsen, Hazel Plate, Damaris Smith, Barbara Douglas, Grace Hall, Patsy Palmer, Janet Wiley, Marion Wiley and Fredrika Monten.

Mr. and Mrs. Beecher J. Dickson of 921 Schumaker Drive entertained a number of Gamma Phi Beta friends at dinner and contract bridge Friday. Those making up the two tables included Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Greening, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Kuhl, Mr. and Mrs. C. Hugh Wright and Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Dickson.

Marriage Announced

The marriage of Miss Margetalice Park, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew E. Park of 1227 North Crescent Heights Boulevard, to Paul M. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Smith, Long Beach, was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents January 26, with Rev. Dr. Nealy of Crescent Heights Methodist Church officiating. Only relatives and a few close friends were bidden.

The bride was graduated from Hollywood High School in June, 1927, and since has been a student at University of California at Los Angeles. She is well known in Southern California tennis circles.

Mr. Smith was graduated from University of California at Los Angeles last June and is a member of the faculty of Bancroft Junior High School, where he is instructor in physical education.

Approaching Wedding

The marriage of Miss Ruth O. Meredith of Buffalo, N. Y., formerly a teacher in the public schools of the eastern city, to Arthur L. Line of this city will be solemnized the 26th inst., the ceremony taking place at the home of Mr. Line's sister, Mrs. Rey W. Neville in Glendale.

After the wedding trip Mr. Line will bring his bride to make her home here.

For Bride-elect

Mrs. George H. Thompson of 616 South Virgil avenue entertained with a luncheon and bridge at the Mary Louise, honoring Miss Alice Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Anderson of Beverly Hills, whose wedding with the hostess's son, Paul De la Vergne, will be an event of the 14th inst. in Beverly Hills Community Church. Twenty guests were bidden and the hostess was assisted by her sister-in-law, Mrs. Richard Lee Kennedy of St. Paul, Minn., and by her daughter, Mrs. Chester Bryant (Marjorie De la Vergne.)

WE DON'T SUGGEST ICE WATER, BUT . . .

—it's entirely true that you can use White King in cool or lukewarm water and still get quick, rich suds—thorough cleansing. Never again need you irritate the skin of tender hands with scalding water.

White King Granulated Soap is light, and fine, and surpassingly pure. That's the reason. It dissolves instantly, does its work quickly, and then swiftly rinses away. It can't injure anything that water won't injure—you will find that it leaves lingerie soft and smooth, heavy woolens fluffy.

Because White King is condensed, a little goes a long, long way. A teaspoonful for the wash basin, a cupful for the washing machine. You won't need more. Sold by your grocer.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STUFFED ROLLED STEAK

Two pounds of round steak, one-half a cupful of suet, one cupful of bread crumbs, eight ripe olives, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley, a seasoning of salt, paprika, and two eggs, chop the olives, chop the suet fine, mix with the crumbs, parsley, salt and paprika. Beat the eggs and combine with the mixture, spread the mixture on steak, roll up, tie securely, roll in flour and brown in butter; place in a baking pan, add a little water to the pan, cover tightly, and bake for three-quarters of an hour. Serve with the gravy in the pan.

SCALLOPED EGGPLANT

Take two medium-sized egg plant, peel, cut in dice, cover with boiling water and boil for ten minutes, season with salt and pepper, make a sauce with three tablespoonfuls of butter, three tablespoonfuls of flour, and slowly add to it one cupful of milk, and stir until thick and smooth. Boil three eggs hard, put the yolks through a sieve, add them to the sauce, and a few grains of nutmeg, one teaspoonful of onion juice, beat well. Place a layer of the eggplant in a buttered baking dish, then a layer of the sauce, and continue until all has been used, having the sauce on top, cover with bread crumbs that have been mixed with a tablespoonful of melted butter. Place in the oven and bake for thirty minutes.

BAKED ORANGE PUDDING

One cupful of sugar, one-fourth of a cupful of butter, one-half a cupful of orange juice, six eggs, grate the rind of two oranges, cream together the butter and sugar, beat the yolks of the eggs in one at a time and beat well, then add the orange juice and grated orange rind, beat the whites of the eggs until stiff and dry, and fold into the mixture, line a pie dish with a flaky pastry, pour the mixture into it, and bake in a moderate oven until the custard has set.

ITALIAN MACARONI PIE

Cut half a pound of cold lamb into thin slices, peel, and thinly slice one onion, boil until tender, three-quarters of a pound of macaroni, cool the macaroni, drain and cut in small pieces, line a buttered baking dish with the macaroni, arrange in it the slices of meat, cover with the onion and one-half a cupful of solid tomatoes, season with salt, pepper and a few grains of nutmeg, cover with the remainder of the macaroni, add a little more of the tomato juice if necessary, sprinkle with grated bread crumbs and grated cheese. Bake for thirty minutes.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from 6 weeks to 6 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of nursing, cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, prune juice, lime water, rupture, styes and boils and cradle cap. Before asking a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

HOW CAN WE DEAL FAIRLY WITH OUR CHILDREN'S PLAYMATES?

The question of how one shall handle the problem of the "demanding" neighbor child is a vital one. Few of us escape it. The neighbor child comes over to play. We are anxious that our child shall learn to be unselfish and a good host. The result is that we make our child a martyr to the child who wants everything he sees and can't be pacified unless he has it.

Mrs. S. S. L. is the victim of an acute case of neighboritis. She says: "My little girl of 3½ years is good as gold when she is alone, but when the small neighbor child comes to play they fight like cat and dog. The mother of the playmate will take my girl's toys away from her and give them to her daughter, so she won't cry. When my daughter takes her nap this child stays in the house and plays with her things. When I take my little girl over there I notice that the neighbor puts her child's toys away so my girl won't ask for them. Should I teach my child to fight and bite back when this child does it to her?

When children arrive at the fighting and biting stage it is time to separate them. If you do this consistently, saying: "If you can't play together nicely you had better play alone," and always send the child home, they will learn to make a valiant struggle to play without fighting.

UNSELFISHNESS CANNOT BE FORCED

In your efforts you should have co-operation from the neighbor. There must be a mutual give and take. Let the neighbor child bring her own toys to play with and avoid friction. Your daughter isn't helped to be unselfish unless sharing her toys is a personal joy, not one that is forced upon her. Learning to be unselfish is a long, slow process. Many adults haven't learned it, notably this child's mother. She shows herself to be inconsiderate when she allows her child to play at your house when your child is asleep. Why should not these hours be yours to do with as you please, instead of spending them taking care of her daughter?

To teach a child to be unselfish and to share his toys with others, he must first appreciate the fact that we respect his right to them. Unless he wishes it, toys should not be taken from him. Small children have to learn the joys of possession before they can learn the more subtle joy of dividing their toys with others.

The child is quick to imitate us, too, for if he sees us eager to divide a good cake with a neighbor, or to offer her an extra concert ticket, or invite her over to use the piano if she has none, he feels a great satisfaction in holding out his own favorite toy and saying, "You play with it." There would be very little incentive in doing this if the one child did it all; it has to be a fifty-fifty proposition.

Worth Knowing

Skim milk will keep linoleum glossy and new-looking.

The center decoration on the dinner table should not be too high.

A stool tucked under the work table in the kitchen might end the complaints of some of the women who are "always on their feet."

Vegetable stains on your hands will disappear if you will hold your fingers in very strong tea for a few minutes. Then wash with soap and water.

BLACKY CALLS A CONFERENCE

In unity is always strength,
And thus are ends attained at length.
—Blacky the Crow.

Blacky the Crow had been very much frightened. In fact, he had had the worst fight he had had all winter. He had visited his old nest in the Green Forest and had found Mrs. Hooty, the Great Horned Owl, on the edge of it and Hooty sitting close by. He had waited for nothing more. But now that he was safely away, he was becoming very brave. Many people are like that. His fright was over. Anger had taken its place. Muttering to himself, he began looking around for Mrs. Blacky. Failing to find her, he took up his position in a certain favorite tree and began to caw. "Caw, caw, caw, caw!" he screamed just as loud as he could.

The first to answer him was Mrs. Blacky. She came hurrying over to find out what all the fuss was about. "I'll tell you, my dear," said Blacky, "as soon as the others arrive. You might help me call them."

So Mrs. Blacky joined in with Blacky and how they did make the Green Forest ring with their caws! Pretty soon from every direction crows came hurrying up. Of course, each crow right away wanted to know why he or she had been called. But Blacky wouldn't tell until all the crows had arrived.

When Blacky was satisfied that no more crows were within sound of his voice he told his story. "It's Hooty the Owl and Mrs. Hooty," said he. "You remember what a good time we had tormenting Hooty the last time I called you?"

"We remember!" cried all the crows.

"Well," said Blacky, "that time I was merely getting even with Hooty for having tried to catch me for his breakfast. This time it is another matter altogether." He turned to Mrs. Blacky. "My dear," said he, "you remember that once several years ago Hooty and Mrs. Hooty took one of our old nests?"

"Indeed I do!" exclaimed Mrs. Blacky. "I have never forgiven them for it. I wanted to use that

Age Saves Youth from Being Sent to State Prison

Escaping sentence to State prison only because he is a few weeks less than 21 years of age, James Thornton Rodgers, 20-year-old clown, yesterday was sentenced to the Preston School of Industry at Ione by Superior Judge Hardy. The youth was ordered to serve a term of fourteen months.

Young Rodgers was charged with escaping from the prison ward of the General Hospital with another prisoner, Carl H. Howe, on November 1, 1929, after the two men had beaten C. C. Stevens, one of the guards, into unconsciousness and robbed him of his keys.

According to Assistant Probation Officer Roberts, Rodgers met his mother, Mrs. D. M. Rodgers, for the first time in fourteen years while confined in the County Jail.

BROADCASTER HAS HARD TASK

Satisfying Radio Public Still Trying Problem

Women's Aid Necessary for Proper Solution

Greater Appeal to Men Also Need in Programs

The Times Forum, KHJ, at 10:30 a.m. presents Dr. Philip Lovell. World-wide news at 12:30, 4:50 and 10 p.m.

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

What is this "public" that broadcast stations, artists and advertisers are earnestly endeavoring to please?

It is largely feminine, perhaps 75 per cent female and 25 per cent male. A further analysis, admittedly a conjecture to provide a working basis, and indicating the preference of the 75 per cent, might read as follows:

Children to 16 years of age, 15 per cent, stories and lighter music; school girls, 16 to 21 years, 15 per cent, jazz, blue singers and humor; women, 21 to 35, 10 per cent, highlight features and fancies; women, 35 or older, 35 per cent, classical and educational.

It is a notable fact that as age increases the interest among women turns from the new to the old in song and music and develops an increasing hunger for educational subjects.

WOMEN IN HOME

Naturally, the radio is principally a home installation and the home is frequented chiefly by the lady of the house. Mankind generally permits women to do the selecting, particularly of pleasures.

All of which means please the lady of the house and the question of radio entertainment is solved. Needless to say, this is a noble task and suggests an interesting picture of the broadcaster first endeavoring to understand his own wife.

A key to this trend is the radio advertisement showing an attractive piece of furniture attended by a gloriously gowned hostess—just as our automobile advertisements show a comely lady stepping from a limousine. One seldom sees a man pictured, calmly smoking before a radio. As a matter of fact, if his wife disliked the music or the style of cabinet he wouldn't rest a minute.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED

Woman, therefore, has a serious problem to solve and must co-operate with the broadcaster in his endeavor to please the greatest number in what are termed "balanced programs." Thus far, woman has been relegated to "the daylight hours" by the broadcaster, who makes the mistake of believing that a few beauty, fashion or health talks and discussion of home problems will satisfy her. However, she does not propose to be appeased by daylight hours. She still dominates at night. Younger children are hurried to bed after they have had their good-night story; school children are ordered to their studies under the library lamp, with the door closed to the sitting-room where the radio is generally located, and the evening entertainment for grown-ups proceeds.

The situation is unbalanced. Radio will never achieve a maximum success until the male members of the household are drawn into the fold. Such is not the case today. I believe the answer is that dad is "sick and tired" of too much jazz and extended high-brow musical and ensemble combinations. While evening is held to be the favorite broadcast period and, while it brings much higher rates from program sponsors, it is not commanding the attention of the male citizenry. A fifty-fifty basis should be the aim of program directors, at least for the evening hours.

Adjustment Pair Must Face Trial

M. B. Martin, head of the Equitable Adjustment Company, and his son, Berwick L. Martin, were held for trial by the Superior Court on charges of bribing and conspiring to bribe a witness following the conclusion of their preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Ballard yesterday. Similar charges against Roland Barnett, a codefendant, were dismissed by the court.

Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman called witnesses who testified that the Martins offered Richard Machado, 10725 Glenn avenue, $100 to sign a statement which Stahlman contended they intended to use in a damage suit pending in Superior Court. Machado declared he was paid $20 of the promised $100 and that he signed the document in question. Bail on the two men was set at $5000 each.

Health and Diet ADVICE

by DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

CELERY

Although celery has been used for thousands of years as a table decoration or as an herb for flavoring soups, it is only within the last century or two that its value as a vegetable for cooking and salads has been recognized. Celery is one of the finest of all salad vegetables, as it combines well with any other food. It is of a class of foods known as a protective food, as it is a growth promoter and fine for children. Because of its bulk it acts as an intestinal cleanser. It also contains vitamin B, and is known to have much mineral content, holding large quantities of potassium, calcium, sulphur and chlorin.

Although most people consider that celery is one of those things which is to be "taken with a grain of salt," I advise that no salt be added to it. Many people digest the bleached celery better than they do the unbleached. This is because of the volatile oil which is present in the green celery. This oil is not injurious but is slightly irritating.

Every stalk of celery should be carefully washed and scraped before being used, as it is sometimes customary for celery farmers to protect the celery against pests by spraying it with poisonous substances. Here are a few celery recipes:

Vegetable soup — One-half cupful of chopped celery, one-half cupful diced carrots, one-quarter cupful diced turnips, one cupful diced potatoes, two tablespoonfuls of chopped parsley, one quart of water. Cook the vegetables until soft, then add the parsley, and season with butter.

Stewed celery—The celery should be washed well and cut into small pieces. The best flavor is brought out by cooking for two hours. Allow the water to evaporate as much as possible, then add cream and butter just before serving.

Tomato and celery salad—Four large tomatoes, one cupful of finely chopped celery, one-half cupful grated carrots, and oil dressing. The tomatoes should be scalded quickly and peeled. The pulp is then scraped out, leaving a tomato shell. Mix the celery, carrots, dressing and a small amount of the tomato pulp and fill the shells. Serve on lettuce leaves.

Stuffed celery—In stuffed celery the groove of the stalk is filled with any desired filling, such as the following: No. 1, sardine stuffing: Remove the bones, fins and tails from sardines and mash finely. No. 2, cheese filling: Mash a package of cream cheese, smooth by adding a small amount of cream.

LEGION TO HAVE INITIATION

Initiation of twenty members of Downtown Post, No. 336, American Legion, will be conducted at 8 p.m. tomorrow at 246 South Hill street. The Inglewood drill team will officiate. The program will include addresses by Deputy City Prosecutor Hornaday, State Athletic Commissioner Moran, and an illustrated lecture on "China, the South Sea Islands and Other Countries" by William Wolf, "the man who sang his way around the world." All members of the American Legion and their families are invited.

10,000,000 Women Use This Toast Test

to Choose the Bread They Serve

Unusual "Timed Toast Test" proves slo-baking of ingredients results in better bread quality.

By ALICE ADAMS PROCTOR

Ten million women have discovered a new way to select the bread they buy. Right in their own kitchens they learned how to judge true bread quality. You can do the same.

Even with many brands of bread on your grocer's shelves, you can easily choose correctly the bread which is most nourishing . . . the bread that is slo-baked . . . in short, the bread most suited for everyday use in your own home.

Choose Bread This Way

Make the famous Timed Toast Test. It takes but a few moments of your time, and your choice is made. Because only from a bread containing the finest ingredients, perfectly baked, can perfect toast be made every time.

How You Can Make It

You, too, can be your own bread judge by making this simple test. Just take a slice of Wonder Bread and a slice of the bread you have been using. Place both in your toaster.

See which slice is toasted first. Which is an even golden brown from edge to edge? Which is crisper, with a new delicate toast flavor and a delightful aroma? And which slice is unevenly browned and burned . . . with just the ordinary disappointing toast taste?

YOUR GROCER has it fresh every day!

Why Wonder Bread Makes Better Toast

The better toast you get from Wonder Bread is due to the extra-fine ingredients used and the special slo-baking process, which eliminates all excess moisture and gives you a bread of fine, delicate texture.

So toasting starts the instant you slip Wonder Bread into the toaster. With ordinary bread, your toaster actually has to finish cooking the bread before toasting starts.

We have won ten million women with this test. If you find the results of your toast test convincing, we believe you will want only Wonder Bread hereafter. Your grocer has it fresh twice daily. Will you make the toast test today?

Anti-Saloon League Speaker Denies Group's Death

Case for Prohibition Argued by Methodist Minister

Lincoln Day Pogram Slated by Spanish-Americans

Reports of the death of the National Anti-Saloon League are as "greatly exaggerated" as was the report of the passing of Mark Twain, according to Dr. A. L. Baker, who, in his address before Methodist preachers at First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday, said that the liquor-selling and consuming element hate and fear the league more than any other organization in the country.

RESULTS SHOWN

"During the ten years under national prohibition, 350,000 convictions for violations have been obtained, resulting in fines of more than $57,000,000 and prison sentences aggregating more than 34,000 years," said the speaker. "More than 245,000 illicit stills have been put out of business, 22,000 padlock injunctions obtained and 45,000 automobiles and 14,000 boats seized.

"In Federal enforcement only 206 persons have been killed," said Dr. Baker. "Of this number, fifty-eight were of prohibition agents enforcing the law and 148 other agents were seriously injured. All the other persons were shot in self-defense or by accident or misadventure. If America had the same percentage of automobile accidents according to population that obtains in wet Great Britain today last year we would have had 150,000 instead of 30,000 deaths from automobiles."

CHURCH SOUND

While criticising many modern churches for their "dogmatic slumber," Dr. A. C. Stevens, president of the Spanish-American Institute at Gardena, told his audience that the heart of Christendom is pure and sound and predicted that all churches one day will unite in a cause greater than the maintenance of any and all churches, the salvation of humanity.

Dr. Stevens announced that the eighty-eight students at the Spanish-American Institute will give a Lincoln Day program on the 12th inst., beginning at 1:30 p.m. Features of the program will be numbers by the Glee Club, an oratorical contest, a cadet drill, selections by the band and addresses by Joel Quinones, Mexican Vice-Consul; Mayor Porter, Councilman Henning, members of the Board of Education and Dr. R. N. Merrill of First Methodist Church at Long Beach. The public is invited.

HEARING ON JULIAN CASE POSTPONED

Attorney's Illness Causes Putting Over for Week of Lewis's Testimony

With S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation, ready to "tell it all," taking of depositions in the $15,000,000 stockholders' suit against the Los Angeles Stock Exchange and a group of stock brokers, was continued yesterday morning for one week. The case went over when it was announced that Walter K. Tuller, one of the defense counsel, was sick.

Lewis yesterday was to have completed his deposition which got under way a week ago and was then continued and was in court ready to take the stand. When he first began to testify last week he told of the early days of the Julian overissue which wrecked the company and at the time announced that he would name the various stock brokers asserted by him to have made millions of dollars by dealing in the worthless stock.

FEDERAL CASE GOES OVER TO JURY

Appearance was made yesterday in United States District Judge James's court by S. C. Lewis, former president of the Julian Petroleum Corporation; Jacob Berman and E. H. Rosenberg. The three are accused of devising a scheme to defraud various investors by using the mails.

Otto Christenson, attorney for Berman, speaking on behalf of all defendants, asked that the defense be given ample time in which to prepare. He said several months will be needed.

Judge James announced that he will continue all cases until July 28, to be set for trial, because of the present crowded condition of the calendar.

SOVIET TO BUY PLANES MADE HERE

Russian Commission to Inspect Factories Before Making Purchases

A commission of eight representatives of the soviet government arrived in Los Angeles yesterday for a survey of airplane manufacturing plants in Southern California and for the purchase of airplane engines and parts. Included in the party was Prof. A. N. Toupoleff, designer of the plane, Land of the Soviets, which completed the long flight from Moscow to New York last year.

The group, known as the aviation commission of the soviet government, includes two members of the Amtorg Trading Corporation, which purchased American commodities valued at approximately $120,000,000 last year. L. G. Gershevich, spokesman for the visiting delegation, said last night at the Alexandria that while no estimate can be made of purchases of airplane equipment the party will make in Southern California he declared that the volume will be large.

Today the group will visit a number of the factories in Los Angeles.

Mr. Gershevich said that commercial aviation is making rapid strides in Russia and that approximately 8500 miles of regular mail and passenger routes are flown daily. He said that one aviation club alone includes 5,000,000 members.

The party arrived December 23 in New York and visited Pittsburgh, Detroit, Chicago and Seattle before coming to Los Angeles. In Detroit the group purchased two automobiles which will be used for a tour of the Southern States before their return to their own country.

MRS. DALTON RITES TO BE TOMORROW

Pioneer Woman of City Dies After Living Here More Than Half Century

Funeral services for Mrs. Hattie Ellen Dalton, pioneer of Los Angeles, will be conducted at 2 p.m. tomorrow from Pierce Brothers' mortuary. Burial will be in Evergeen Cemetery.

Mrs. Dalton died Sunday at her home, 1436 East Washington street, where she had lived for fifty-seven years. She was 74 years of age, and was the widow of E. H. Dalton, who died in 1921.

She crossed the plains to Los Angeles during the Indian uprising of 1866. She leaves ten children. They are L. C. Dalton, B. H. Dalton, Mrs. Maude I. Prince, Mrs. Ethel E. Barnett, Mrs. Helen G. Moxley, Mrs. Ittata J. Marks and Mrs. Jeanette O. Wilson, all of Los Angeles; A. E. Dalton of Bakersfield, J. T. Dalton of Yuma, Ariz., and G. W. Dalton of Santa Barbara. She also leaves sixteen grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

STAGE PAIR ARRIVE TO FILL FILM JOB

Beth and Betty Dodge

"Golly, but we're glad we learned French!"

This was the first utterance by the Dodge sisters on their arrival in Los Angeles to start their talking-picture contract with Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer.

As soon as they left the train they were informed that their talents as a singing and dancing team were to be utilized in both the English and French languages.

Their first appearance will be an English one, in a new revue, but after that they will be featured in productions specially made for Paris.

The Dodge sisters are American by birth, but won recognition in Paris before their own country appreciated them.

OFFICIALS GUESTS AT OLD ADOBE

Council Members, Mayor and Others See Progress Made in Olvera Street

While guitars strummed the tunes of Mexico and senoritas tripped a fandango, members of the City Council, the Board of Public Works and Mayor Porter forgot the destinies of the city for a few brief hours yesterday when they were transported to a corner of early California as the guests of the Plaza de Los Angeles Association at a luncheon in the Avila Adobe, 14 Olvera street.

The purpose of the gathering was to acquaint the guests with what already has been done at the adobe and with what the association hopes to accomplish there in the future in the way of preserving for this city one small bit of its historical background. Mrs. Christine Sterling, a member of the board, acted as hostess for the occasion and was assisted in receiving the forty guests by James R. Martin and W. D. Longyear, both members of the board.

F. A. Pesqueira, Mexican Consul, also was present and spoke briefly on the interest shown by the Mexicans of the city in the work at Avila Adobe. He believes that its preservation and rehabilitation will bring about a better understanding between Americans and his own people.

Jose Arias and seven musicians, dancers and singers provided the entertainment during luncheon, which was served in the patio in typical Mexican style.

INCOME TAX FRAUD CASES POSTPONED

Trials for Tom Mix and Others Given July Dates by Federal Judge James

Date for the setting for trial of two income tax advisers of Hollywood was continued again yesterday by United States District Judge McCormick until July 28. It is expected a trial date will be agreed upon at that time probably to be sometime in December.

Those for whom appearances were made were Tom Mix, actor, and John D. Hill, who are accused in one indictment of assisting in the making of false and fraudulent income tax return. Miss J. Marjorie Berger, income tax adviser, also accused in this indictment, now is under sentence of two and a half years at the Federal women's prison at Alderson, W. Va., on a similar charge. This case was continued until July to be set for trial.

Others who appeared are Eleanor Boardman, Raymond McKee and Raymond Griffith. These cases were also continued until July. Charges in another indictment against Mix, Eugene J. Forde, his brother-in-law and former manager, and Miss Berger, also were continued until July.

Charges against Edward H. Hayden, income tax adviser, was set for trial April 30.

WARNERS SIGNING REX BELL

Universal Plans to Film "The Czar of Broadway;" Member of "Journey's End" Cast With M.-G.-M.; Director and Bride on Honeymoon Trip

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

The leading man for "Courage," to be produced by Warner Brothers, has at last been signed, we are informed.

REX BELL

He is that engaging young actor, Rex Bell, who is under contract to another organization, and who has been loaned to play the role. Bell started his career as a western star, but has lately and more successfully been playing conventional juvenile roles.

Belle Bennett has one of the leading parts, while Marian Nixon has the other leading feminine role.

Archie Mayo is to be the director, and the picture is a special.

CRAFT TO DIRECT UNDERWORLD YARN

"The Czar of Broadway" is the intriguing title of a story of New York gambling dens which Universal is to put into production shortly.

William H. Craft was assigned yesterday as director of the picture, which promises a lot of thrills. Jean Towne wrote the story as an original for the screen.

Joseph Schildkraut was originally slated for the star role, but it is said he is protesting against playing any more gambler roles. Since his success in "Show Boat" in a gambler role, he has had few other kinds to play, and he told us not long ago that he didn't intend to play any more gamblers.

So it is likely that Universal has listened to his pleas and has excused him from this part, although it is said to be an excellent one. In fact, Universal told us yesterday that there was no one as yet set for the role.

Edwin Ellis with M.-G.-M.

EDWIN ELLIS

While no contracts yet are signed, we hear on good authority that Edwin Ellis, who plays a leading role in "Journey's End," the war play that is packing them in at a local theater, may have a part in Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's production of "Oliver Twist." The part will probably be that of the Artful Dodger. The actor who plays the part must, of course, be capable of delivering a cockney accent, and as Ellis is English, this will not be difficult.

Ellis has appeared in many pictures made by British concerns and has a lengthy stage career besides.

Dorothy Burgess Leaving Fox

DOROTHY BURGESS

Dorothy Burgess, who created such a fine impression with her first role as the Spanish dancer in "Old Arizona," is leaving the Fox organization.

Miss Burgess has several notable offers, and is considering which one to accept.

The young actress, as will be remembered, is a niece of the noted Broadway star, Fay Bainter. It is just possible that Miss Burgess, who made a noteworthy impression in "Lulu Belle," may accept another stage part before returning to pictures.

Al Jolson Returning

She inveterate gadabaut, Al Jolson, is back in town, having returned to Hollywood on Sunday, following his concert tour.

People must really like their mammies down South there, where Jolson was traveling, inasmuch as they flocked to see him in droves.

As soon as Warners secure a story for him, Jolson will be back in pictures.

Millard Webb and Wife Travel

Millard Webb, just having completed his current picture, and having no other story in view at the moment, may shortly, he told us yesterday, take his bride, Mary Eaton, to Honolulu for a honeymoon trip.

"I was so busy at the time we were married that we didn't get a chance to have a honeymoon," the director said, "so we are looking forward to taking this trip just as soon as we can."

Schertzinger Originator of Theme Songs

Victor Schertzinger, according to Paramount, started this theme song business. His latest compositions are featured in "The Love Parade," now at the Paramount Theater. They are sung by the star of the French stage, Maurice Chevalier; his leading lady, Jeanette MacDonald, and the comedy team of Lupino Lane and Lillian Roth.

Schertzinger set the pace when he wrote "Just An Old Love Song" for "Robin Hood," several years ago, it is said. Numbers from "The Love Parade" include "My Love Parade," "Dream Lover," "Paris, Stay the Same" and "Nobody's Using It Now."

"The Love Parade" is creating a sensation at the Paramount, it is said. Other outstanding members of the cast include Edgar Norton, Eugene Pallette, Ben Turpin and Lionel Belmore.

Robert McWade Likens Self to Rip Van Winkle

"My father starred for years in his own version of 'Rip Van Winkle'," says Robert McWade, now appearing as guest star in "It Pays to Advertise" at the Hollywood Playhouse.

"When I was a young actor I played the juvenile in the piece. At that time it seemed rather absurd to me. I could not believe that such a character as Rip Van Winkle could exist.

"Now I'm finding myself a regular Rip Van Winkle. I'm always being surprised to find the changes that are taking place in my own profession. When I went on the stage it seemed to me I knew practically everyone of importance in the theatrical world. Nowadays I find stars of whose names I am totally ignorant."

Birds Serve as Extras in New Paramount Film

Volunteer extras, serving without pay, contributed an important part to outdoor romantic scenes for Charles Rogers's new picture, "Half Way to Heaven," starting at the Million Dollar Theater tomorrow. They were birds, who provided an unconscious song accompaniment to love scenes played by Rogers and Jean Arthur.

Scenes for "Half Way to Heaven" were taken in a secluded mountain canyon. Birds were plentiful in the willow trees. They were in full chorus when the film unit arrived and obligingly continued their songs for the benefit of the picture.

Nancy Carroll in "Sweetie," the campus romance now screening at the Million Dollar, will close its run tonight.

John Farrow to Turn Director

John Farrow is soon to take over the duties of a director. Farrow's film activities heretofore have been focused entirely on the acting and writing end. His ambitions, however, have always been aimed at motion-picture directing and he has planned his film career toward that end. His most recently released opus is "Seven Days' Leave."

Farrow's present writing contract with Paramount has but two more months to run and at the termination if it he will affiliate himself with a well-known company as a director.

CAPTURED NIGHT SHIRT WRAITH FLEES IN NUDE

Several hours after he had returned to the Angelus Hospital after leading a pair of police officers a spectacular chase from Thirty-sixth and Main to Seventy-first and Main streets, clad only in a nightshirt, Abe Weston, 25 years of age, of 151 East Sixty-third street, escaped a second time yesterday and was not recaptured until he paused for breath at Fifty-eighth and Olive streets.

And this time he did not even have the nightshirt, according to police.

Weston, a patient in the hospital, first took French leave about dawn, it was reported. Unable to find the missing man around the hospital grounds authorities of the institution notified police. During the search which followed, numerous citizens telephoned that they had seen a man flitting like a phantom in his nightshirt through alleys and over their back fences.

Following the trail of telephone calls Officers Lindsey and Schlagel in a police automobile came upon the missing man leaning against a light post at Thirty-sixth and Main streets. The officers pulled up to the curb. As they stepped out Weston leaped away and sprinted south. At the intersection of Seventy-first street, approximately two miles beyond Thirty-sixth street, Weston stopped and the officers took him into custody.

Later in the day Weston again escaped, leaving behind the nightshirt. This time there was a flood of telephone calls from citizens suffering from shock. Half a dozen patrol squads were dispatched to search for the missing man.

Weston, running between houses, across rear yards, and through alleys, eluded the searchers until he arrived at Fifty-eighth and Olive streets. Here officers took him into custody. His feet were severely lacerated from running on stones and broken glass. He was taken to Georgia-street Receiving Hospital for emergency treatment. According to police Weston is apparently a mental case.

EX-BOSS OF SHIP BRIDGE KING ABOARD PINTO NOW

From the bridge of a tanker to the hurricane deck of a cayuse, whence he runs a railroad and a lumber domain, is the four months' transformation of Capt. J. F. Bird, former master of the tanker Vaba.

Capt. Bird flew down from Albuquerque, N. M., Saturday in a T. A. T.-Maddux plane to see his old ship, in port, and flew back yesterday morning.

Up in the town of Bernalillo, N. M., this 33-year-old man of parts is little less than a king. He is superintendent and general manager of the Santa Fe (N. M.) and Northwestern Railway, and manager of the White Pine Lumber Company. The line has 500 miles of track and the lumber is logged from 180,000 acres by several thousand men.

Not only has the skipper made good ashore with a vengeance, but he drafted the chief engineer of the tanker Cedarhurst and made him master mechanic of the railroad, and pressed into service the first assistant engineer of the Vaba as chief engineer of the lumber company. Capt. V. H. Casey, present master of the Vaba, says Bird is trying to make him wood manager, but Casey doesn't know what that is.

"It sounds like a lot of work, doesn't it?" he suggested.

Capt. Bird's eyes filled up when he caught his first glimpse of his old ship and he said: "I may buck lumber and boss railroads, but my heart is back on my old tanker at sea." He rides horseback twelve hours a day.

'BAMBINA' BEST IN ITS MUSIC

Nancy Welford and Others Win With Songs

Staging and Costumes Lure in Mayan Show

Comedy and Plot Deficient in Venetian Fantasy

BY EDWIN SCHALLERT

The rose is flavored just as sweetly no matter what its name. And so also the musical show. For which reason we have a "merry operetta in two acts" yclept "Bambina" at the Mayan Theater. And a bouncing "Bambina" it is as to costumes, settings, and chiefly music.

One author's name appears only under the caption of this piece, namely Myrta Bel Gallaher. That is remarkable in view of the usual roll call with a musical piece. But perhaps the roll call is after all appropriate, because while costumes, settings and music rate high in "Bambina" there is a word or two less encouraging to say of plot, situations and above all humor.

"Bambina" has the aspects, however of a very excellent entertainment of the type, and if, as I believe is now being done, a play doctor is engaged to set some of the comedy right, it may be a class to please a very large popular audience. The spirit of both the piece and its production is a variation from the musical play normal. There are really operetting moments in this little affair of a Venetian locale, and carnival spectacle. A slow start is materially redeemed by an exceedingly colorful finish, the second act being much better in its general qualities than the first.

TUNES APPEAL

However, the tunes are unusually good all the way through. "Starry Night is Calling" starts the melodic brightness, the "Bambina" number is lightly clever, and "Deep in Your Eyes" is a hit that was several times encored. "Inspiration Waltz," "Cavaliers" and "Pitter Pat" introduced with glittering garb and for no particular reason are all worth while. The music is sweet and melodious in character—more Rombergian than Gerschwinian. Indeed, there is little or nothing introduced in the way of jazz numbers, and a long-skirted chorus in bouffant, princess, semidirectoire and other habiliments of the semihistoric kind are conspicuous by their presence. The one outstanding exception is the "Pitter Pat" which is very ultramodernly done by comparison.

I would say that in large part "Bambina" harks back to the "Lilac Domino" variety of European operetta that was favored some perhaps fifteen or sixteen seasons ago, but don't let the mere mention of the large time equation deter you from seeing and particularly hearing it. If the comedy is revised the general character of the operetta will seem distinctly novel and will probably even make the music ingratiate itself upon one just about twice as much as it does. The loveliness of the investiture of this production unquestionably gives it class.

NANCY CAPITAL

The company is more than creditably good, with the singers winning attention in several instances. Nancy Welford, it is, though, that makes the outstanding hit and it is more than voice alone with her for her personality shines out in a role inclined to comedy. It is her best opportunity easily since "No, No, Nanette."

Manifestly capable is the vocal work of Wilbur Evans and Laurel Nameth, who has some unusually attractive tones. Mr. Evans should achieve a very considerable impression by his style and tonal volume. He and Miss Nemeth both garnered considerable applause for their efforts last evening—long in the instance of "Deep in Your Eyes."

Ernest Wood is the most successful comedian, although Al St. John has his moments. He does far too many funny falls, but some of his slapstick is amusing enough. It is a regrettable thing that Wood and St. John do not have more opportunities to work together. Some of Wood's later scenes are very genuinely funny, especially those with Miss Welford.

Marie Wells reappears in her inevitably vampish role, and plays with that assurance for which she can always be relied on. She definitely "puts over" her numbers. Marjorie Moore, a violin-playing dancer, is well received. When have we last seen a violin-playing dancer?

Pictorial additions to the cast are Victoria Alden, Lorrayne Du Val, Margaret Oliver, Evelyn Deffon and Dorothy Dix.

With the addition of a name or two to its roster of writers "Bambina" may prove popular. It isn't in the cards nowadays for anyone to write both the book and the music, not to speak of the lyrics. But the music is a commendable attraction in this piece, as is the staging by Edward Royce.

'Behind Make-up' Will Have Run at Boulevard

"Behind the Make-up," with William Powell, Fay Wray and Hal Skelly, comes to the Boulevard Thursday for its first local showing.

This story of back-stage and movie-extra life is an adaptation of Mildred Gram's story, "The Feeder," and is said to be an actual incident of real people. Hal Skelly, who scored as "Skid" in "The Dance of Life," is seen as the third-rate vaudeville comedian who tries his luck as a movie extra.

Newest Screen Hero Sings Love

"NANETTE" INCLUDES NEW TEAM

Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray Cofeatured in Film at Orpheum

With all indications pointing to a successful engagement, "No, No, Nanette," the First National's version of the musical-comedy success, will have its Pacific Coast premiere at the Orpheum Theater tomorrow morning.

"No, No, Nanette" will bring to the screen for the first time the newest team of film lovers, Bernice Claire and Alexander Gray, both of whom were recruited from the New York musical-comedy stage especially for the picture.

Plans are now being made for a gala midnight showing of "No, No, Nanette" on Saturday night, at which time Bernice Claire, Alexander Gray, Louise Fazenda, Lucien Littlefield, Jimmy Tolson, boy singer, and other stars will be present.

"COCKEYED WORLD" TO OPEN SOON

Loew's State Announces Popular Run of Picture Starting Thursday

"The Cockeyed World," in a popular run of one week, is announced by Loew's State Theater as its next attraction starting Thursday.

The picture reveals the further adventures in love and war of Quirt and Flagg, as created by Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen in the screen version of "What Price Glory," and continued by the same pair in this production. Raoul Walsh directed from the story by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson.

Lily Damita is the chief feminine lure and El Brendel, Lelia Karnelly, Jean Bary, Joe Brown, Stuart Erwin, Ivan Linow and other favorites are cast.

Many Song Hits Create Interest in 'New Moon'

It seems to be the consensus of opinion that "The New Moon" is a worth-while exposition of a beautiful and romantic operetta, it is said. Years ago the local audiences would sally forth whenever a Victor Herbert light opera came to town. Now Romberg asks them to step up in line to understand his advanced score, and Los Angeles responded with social elegance and musical intelligence. The operetta is offered by Lillian Albertson and Louis O. MasLoon at the Majestic.

Film of Negro Life to Leave Palace Theater

"Hallelujah," King Vidor's vivid drama of the lives of the cotton plantation workers in the South, is establishing records for attendance at the Fox Palace Theater, according to an announcement.

This film, which features a cast composed entirely of colored players, ends its run Wednesday, and will be replaced Thursday by "Romance of the Rio Grande."

'WEDDING RINGS' BOOKED

"Wedding Rings," a sophisticated drama of the screen, will be the attraction at Warner Brothers Theater in Hollywood for one week only starting Friday.

This picture version has been taken from the novel, "The Dark Swan," by Ernest Pascal, which enjoyed popularity in the United States and Europe, and follows the original story closely. It relates the efforts of a feminine charmer to win her sister's lover away and the plot is said to be both subtle and thrilling.

H. B. Warner and Lois Wilson have the leading roles in this First National production. The cast also includes Hallam Cooley, James Ford, Kathleen Williams and Aileen Manning. William Beaudine directed.

FINE MUSIC HEARD IN RECITALS

Modest Altschuler Offers "Boris;" Chamber Music Also Pleases

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

Russian music had another day here yesterday. Modest Altschuler conducted his concertized version of "Boris Godounow" in Glendale and Olga Steeb closed an afternoon of fine chamber music at Marlborough School with a brilliant performance of the Gretchaninow trio, aided by Ilya Bronson and David Grocov.

The concert by the Glendale Symphony Orchestra and the singers, Frank Baken, Ruby Ohman and Lillian McNally, was a rare musical event. Moussourgsky's great opera is quite often given at the Metropolitan in New York, but it has only been sung once in Los Angeles—several years ago by the Russian Opera Company. The concert version, used by Altschuler so effectively, was arranged by himself.

Frank Baken, a young basso, sang the part Chaliapin has made famous more than creditably. He has a voice of attractive quality and good articulation and resonance, and his dramatization of the role added decidedly to the worth of the performance. Miss Ohman's voice did not carry very well in the high-school auditorium where the orchestra concerts are held, but a marked rhythmic sense and flexibility of voice colored her singing.

The orchestra outdid itself in the difficult music of "Boris." The popular little Russian conductor obviously loves this opera and he managed to imbue his orchestra and his audience with his own enthusiasm. He was well repaid, however, for the long hours of rehearsing by the beauty of this noble music. For compelling drama expressed in dignified and richly harmonized music, Moussourgsky has traveled leagues ahead of most operatic composers.

The chorus was proficient in the final scene. The singing came from back stage and combined with the tolling of the bells gave an eerie effect quite unforgettable.

"Dance of the Hours" by Ponchielli, was played by the orchestra and Max Bruch's concerto by Duci de Kerekjarto with orchestral accompaniment closed the concert.

Trio Heard at School

Olga Steeb's Trio gave the third annual concert in Mary S. Caswell Hall at Marlborough School yesterday afternoon. An audience of young girls of the school and several hundred visitors enjoyed the program of the Mozart Trio in C major, three small piano numbers by Miss Steeb, three dances from a Bach sonata played by Ilya Bronson, violoncellist, and a closing trio by Gretchaninoff.

Miss Steeb's playing of the Mozart was a revelation of character. Her steady, rhythmic balance kept the three instruments in perfect accord, and while she felt the beauty of many lovely phrases, she did not once allow herself to linger over them long enough to disturb the equilibrium of whatever followed. For clear, crystalline Mozart playing with the right measure of emotion, there are not many who equal Miss Steeb.

The Gretchaninoff Trio is modern in mood, but not a dissonance mars its Russian romanticism. Its melodies are easily enjoyable and the blending of the instruments so equal that each one has rich opportunity. The work is especially grateful for these three artists, Steeb, Crocov and Bronson, and they gave it with delightful freedom and pleasure.

Not having been exposed to music of this sort very often, the young ladies of Marlborough were rather perfunctory in their listening to the solos, and it is true they were not as interesting as the trios. Miss Steeb played the Schumann-Liszt "Dedication" pensively, the Debussy "Clair De Lune" abstractedly and the Albeniz "Seguidilla" dispassionately. Mr. Bronson's choice of ancient dances from the Bach sonatas for violin alone, was unfortunate. He would have had more applause had he played the Saint-Saens "Swan."

Gigli Tonight

The Italian Metropolitan favorite, Beniamino Gigli, arrived from San Francisco yesterday and will give a characteristic program of opera and folk-songs of Italy at the Auditorium tonight. He has been negotiating with Merola in the northern city over operatic matters. Gigli is to sing here and in San Francisco this fall with the California companies.

Whispers in the Wings

BY MURIEL BABCOCK

STORIES are legion of this or that stage player being snatched by a motion-picture company and put under long-term contract. Just occasionally, comes a tale of a film player going Broadway with a fat contract. Here's one:

Just before Sam H. Harris left for Florida yesterday, he persuaded Miss Nancy Dover, who has had most of her training in slapstick comedies, to affix her name to a five-year agreement to appear under his management.

Rumor is that the first thing Miss Dover will do will be a part in "June Moon," the Ring Lardner-George S. Kaufman play, headed toward the Belasco.

She will probably appear in a Harris show in New York later in the spring or perhaps summer.

Miss Dover was at one time leading lady for Harry Langdon. She has played any number of feature parts in various straight productions, but perhaps is best known for her work in comedies.

Lenore Ulric Lead

The story is that Reginald Sharland, not long ago one of London's bright young leading men, is to have a featured part in "East of Suez," in which Lenore Ulric is to star at the Belasco Theater.

While no announcement has yet been made, it is known that Sharland was called for rehearsal yesterday. This actor, who recently finished "The Girl of the Port" for Radio Pictures, has had all manner of good parts in England. He was at the Hippodrome for two years, appeared in "The Peep Show" and "Brighter London," giving command performances in both of these for the King, costarred with Edith Day in "Jenny," starred in his own right in "Poppy" at the Gaiety, and in "Cartoons" at the Criterion.

"East of Suez" follows "Journey's End" at the Belasco. And, incidentally, by mistake this column carried a note Saturday that "June Moon" would arrive here about March 17. It arrives in San Francisco at the Curran on that date, coming here perhaps a month later.

Revue For Mason

A song-and-dance revue, with many chorus numbers, called as it well may be, "Les Folies Rouge" is dickering for the open time at the Mason. According to plans, the revue, now in Seattle, would come here about the middle of this month, just preceding the Waring musical, booked for the middle of March.

Corinne Ross Heard From

When "Rebound," Donald Ogden Stewart's new play, produced by Arthur Hopkins, opened in New York last evening at the Plymouth Theater, there was a familiar Hollywood face in the cast. Miss Corinne Ross, daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Ross, the composer, was to be viewed in a feminine role second in importance only to that played by Miss Hope Williams, opposite Stewart.

Extra Now Noted Pianist

A rather unusual personage appearing tonight at the Philharmonic Auditorium is Miss Margaret Shotwell, who plays the piano interludes on the Gigli program. Miss Shotwell, some years ago, played extras in the movies, then rose to leads opposite Jack Pickford. Next, she inherited a large sum of money and went abroad to study. She became an outstanding pianist—she is the only woman ever to have appeared as soloist in the Paris National Opera-house.

After triumphs abroad, she came back to America last fall and lost a cool million in the stock market crash—about all the money she had, it is said. Although now she appears as a coartist with Gigli, the Metropolitan tenor, there are rumors that she is casting her eye toward pictures again—the same pictures in which she started as an extra long before she had wealth.

VINE STREET SCHEDULES 'NUT FARM'

New Farce Will Follow "Sun-Up;" Comes Direct from Chicago

The next attraction scheduled for the Vine Street Theater is "The Nut Farm," a comedy of tourist life in Hollywood, which will have its Pacific Coast premiere directly after the close of "Sun-Up."

This farce, by John Brownell, was one of the few plays in New York which stood up under last summer's theatrical slump, it is said, when it played at the Biltmore Theater. It comes to Hollywood directly from a successful six months' run at the Cort Theater in Chicago.

William E. Smith, producer at the Vine Street, will start rehearsals immediately, so that "The Nut Farm" will be ready to replace "Sun-Up" at the conclusion of the latter's limited engagement. The opening date for the new play is as yet undecided.

McCAREY FINISHES PARAMOUNT FILM

Coincident with the filming of the final scene in "Let's Go Native," a musical extravaganza in which James Hall, Jack Oakie, Jeanette MacDonald appear. Leo McCarey terminated his association with the Paramount studios.

Borrowed from Pathe, to whom he has been under contract, following the box-office success of his directorial achievement, "The Sophomore," McCarey launched into actual production with his usual avidity, it is said. As yet no definite announcement has been made by Pathe as to McCarey's next assignment.

CANYON SURVEY FUNDS SOUGHT

New San Gabriel Project Before Supervisors

Engineer Asks $25,000 to Find Low Dam Sites

Resolution Ordered Drafted to Appropriate Money

The Board of Supervisors yesterday authorized County Counsel Mattoon and County Flood Control Counsel Dowds to draw up a resolution providing for the expenditure of $25,000 for a survey to determine the feasibility of building a number of low dams in San Gabriel Canyon to replace the recently abandoned proposed high dam.

The money, if voted by the Supervisors when they consider the authorized resolution Thursday, will be transferred to Chief Flood Control Engineer Eaton's account from the San Gabriel High Dam fund. A four-fifth majority of the board will be necessary to effect the transfer.

If the appropriation is granted Eaton plans to use it to make a complete ground and aerial survey of the canyon. Some survey work has been done but it was halted recently for lack of funds.

The board also is scheduled to consider Thursday the proposal to transfer sufficient money to the flood-control engineer's account to extend the San Gabriel River channel from its present terminus in Alamitos Bay directly into the ocean.

It is claimed by proponents of such an improvement that it would relieve the Alamitos Bay district from possible floods during periods when the river carries an unusually large volume of water and would also prevent filling in of Alamitos Bay with silt deposited by the river. Proposal to use the bay as the scene of the water sports incident to the Olympic Games in 1932 also figures in the plan to extend the river channel.

Engineers have estimated the proposed improvement would cost approximately $700,000.

THIS JURY CALL TO BE IGNORED

Summons Follows Former Los Angeles Resident to Maryland Home

Adelbert R. Bradshaw, formerly of Los Angeles, received at his new home in Princess Anne, Md., a summons from Superior Judge Archbald's court, calling him for jury service.

"If you will pay my transportation to Los Angeles I will gladly come and serve," Bradshaw wrote Judge Archbald.

The judge explained that there is no provision made for such a payment.

STUDY WILL BE RESUMED

Leaders of parent-education groups will resume study Friday in Room 614, Extension Division of University of California, 815 South Hill street, it was announced yesterday by Dr. Gertrude Laws, assistant chief of the State Bureau of Parent-Education. The beginning class will meet at 9:30 a.m. and the advanced class at 1:30 p.m.

AGED PEDESTRIANS INJURED

Five Persons of Advanced Years Victims of Cars; Woman Hurt Month Ago Succumbs

Becoming confused as they tried to pick their way through the maze of traffic, four men pedestrians and one woman, all of them more than 60 years of age and two of whom are octogenarians, were injured seriously yesterday when knocked down by passing vehicles. In addition, four other persons were hurt in collisions between automobiles, and one woman died of previously sustained injuries.

The dead woman is Miss Clara Young, 48 years of age, a nurse of 1409 South Hope street. She succumbed in California Lutheran Hospital as a result of injuries received December 30, 1929, when she was hit by an automobile near her home.

Mrs. M. C. Walker, 85 years of age, of 2002 Sunset Boulevard, was struck at Sunset Boulevard and Bonnie Brae street. She suffered a possible fracture of the skull. Georgia-street Receiving Hospital surgeons reported she probably will die.

Michael F. Sexton, 70, who because of his injuries was unable to remember his address, walked in front of a car at Third and Hill streets and suffered concussion of the brain and serious lacerations.

Neither motorist was held, both accidents being found unavoidable.

Struck while he was walking at Second and Main streets, Frank Homish, 64, of 242½ South Main street, received possible internal injuries. Three of his ribs were broken.

T. J. Farrell, 89, of 724 Wall street was struck by a Los Angeles Railway motorbus driven by J. E. Hill, police reported. The aged man was crossing at Seventh and San Julian streets. He received a fracture of the right hip.

AUTOMOBILES COLLIDE

Charles Chenoweth, 61, of 680 Stanford avenue, received concussion of the brain and lacerations when he was hit by a car while he was walking across the intersection at Seventh and Crocker streets.

George Nichols, 63, of 231 East One Hundred and Eleventh street, received lacerations and shock in a collision of two cars at Avalon Boulevard and One Hundred and Thirteenth street.

In a collision of two automobiles at Twenty-second street and Central avenue Mrs. Edna Becktold, 34, of 525 West Fifty-eighth street received possible internal injuries. One car was driven by her husband, J. H. Becktold, 40, who was injured slightly.

A collision of cars at Figueroa street and Florence avenue resulted in the injury of Frank Anderson, 50, of 7802 Dalton avenue, who received concussion of the brain.

A hit-and-run driver last night injured Earl Oryel, 10, of 1923 West Avenue 30, when he knocked the boy down in front of his home. The lad was crossing the street when he was hit by a blue sedan in which was a man about 25 years of age, with a girl. The driver did not halt but sped away before his license number was noted. The boy received head and hip injuries, it was reported by Dr. Blanchar, who treated him at Pasadena-avenue Receiving Hospital.

Anna Vrin, 35, a school-teacher of 248 San Juan avenue, Venice, received possible internal injuries last night, when she was struck and dragged fifteen feet by an automobile at Avenue 18 and Trolleyway, Venice. She was taken to Santa Monica Hospital in a serious condition. Police reported that the car was driven by John A. Hackett, 15, son of Mrs. Helen Hackett Gerety, wife of former Mayor Gerety of Venice. The youth was released in custody of his mother.

INQUESTS TODAY IN DEATHS OF YOUTHS

Inquests into the deaths of William Brown, 250 East Seventieth street, 16 years of age, and Howard White, 5870 South Los Angeles street, 17, who, with three companions, were killed Sunday afternoon in an automobile accident in San Antonio Canyon, are scheduled for today at 1:30 p.m. from the undertaking parlors of A. J. Hotchkiss, Pomona.

Charles Caldwell, 358 East Sixty-third street, 19, a sixth occupant of the car which plunged over a fifty-foot embankment, yesterday was reported to be in a serious condition at the San Antonio Hospital in Upland.

Four of the six youths in the car were killed outright when the automobile, traveling at a high rate of speed, failed to make a curve while descending from Mt. Baldy. James Hubbard, 329 East Sixty-ninth street, 16, died at the San Antonio Hospital a short while later.

Young Hubbard's body and those of his brother, Arthur, 17, and Melvin Leiter, 315 East Seventy-first street, 17, were taken to the undertaking parlors of Draper & Stone, Ontario. Inquests into their deaths will be handled by San Bernardino authorities, according to the Coroner's office.

EIGHT MOTORISTS FACE INTOXICATION CHARGES

Complaints charging eight persons with driving their automobiles while intoxicated were issued by the complaint department of the District Attorney's office yesterday, according to Bonner Richardson, deputy in charge.

The complaints were filed as a result of a week-end campaign conducted by police against reckless drivers. Those named in the documents are:

J. M. McCann, 4811 South Broadway, arrested at Sixteenth and San Pedro streets Sunday while he was said to have been driving in an erratic manner.

P. H. Zabala, 727 Maryland avenue, Hawthorne; said to have run into a telephone pole and injured a pedestrian.

Frank Mendoza, 3752 Mercury avenue, reported to have hit two automobiles while making a boulevard stop at Alameda Boulevard and Slauson, Sunday.

Roy Bunting, 1942 Ellendale Place, said to have collided with two automobiles at Figueroa street and Florence avenue, Sunday.

Arthur W. Heckner, arrested by police Sunday while reported to have been driving in an erratic manner along Forty-third street.

Andrew I. Conlin, 303 West Avenue 35, picked up Sunday by police who reported him driving on the wrong side of the street.

Barbara King, 430 North Weatherly Drive, arrested by officers Sunday while car was said to have been weaving from side to side.

Philip H. Plumber, arrested Sunday following a minor traffic accident.

Funeral Set for Engineer

Masons will conduct funeral services for Samuel Wesley Garretson of 1842 Outpost Drive at 2 p.m. tomorrow in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Mr. Garretson, a Union veteran and a retired gas works constructor, died Sunday in Hollywood Hospital after a week's illness.

He was 85 years of age. Born in Jersey City, he served in the United States Navy during the Civil War on monitors he helped build. Later he sailed around the Cape of Good Hope to China, where he was consultant engineer of the Chinese navy. He lived in China and Japan six years and took part in opening the port of Kobe to American commerce. He served as chief engineer on steamships and on coming to California fifty years ago, became a mechanical engineer. He built many gas plants on the Pacific Coast and was superintendent for the Los Angeles Gas Company until he retired in 1903. He was a charter member of the City Club, a member of the Casa Del Mar Beach Club, a Mason and a member of the Grand Army of the Republic. He leaves his widow.

Drought in New South Wales, in Australia, did heavy damage to crops this season.

UNIVERSE KEEPS SECRETS INTACT

Mrs. Blackburn's Purported Revelations Vanish

Witnesses Say "Sixth Seal" Shipped from State

Book and Woman Custodian Never Heard From

The "secrets of the universe" probably will never be unfolded in Superior Judge Fricke's court, it appeared likely from testimony given yesterday at the trial of May Otis Blackburn, church organizer, charged with grand theft.

The chance that universal knowledge might be expounded in court was based on the testimony of prosecution witnesses that Mrs. Blackburn had told them that the Angel Gabriel had dictated to her all the secrets, including the location of gold and diamond mines, and that she was about to publish them in "The Great Sixth Seal," a somewhat voluminous document that reputedly took forty-two months to write in longhand.

But yesterday "The Great Sixth Seal" was listed as missing. Several defense witnesses, members of Mrs. Blackburn's flock, testified how they had gathered up the documents, deposited them in a trunk, and shipped the trunk and Mrs. Addie McGuffin, another convert, to Central Station last September. Since then, it was declared, no one had heard of the McGuffin woman or "The Great Sixth Seal."

Production of the book has been demanded frequently by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Ferguson as the best evidence of what Mrs. Blackburn told her followers. Clifford Dabney, complaining witness, testified that he gave Mrs. Blackburn $45,000 on the understanding that revelations would make him rich.

Various defense witnesses denied the woman ever made any such promises. One or two testified they read portions of "The Great Sixth Seal," but were unable to give any coherent details of what they read.

The reason given for shipping the document out of the State was that the Sheriff of Ventura county had attached the visible assets of Mrs. Blackburn's colony in the Santa Susana Hills and it was feared that the volume also would fall into his clutches.

Tung oil is the preservative which has been used for ages on Chinese junks, making possible the immense Chinese houseboat population.

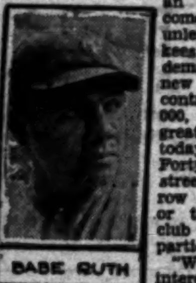
NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Babe Ruth's latest gesture of defiance, in effect a threat to retire and live on an annual income of $25,000 unless the Yankees meet his demand for a new three-year contract at $85,000, caused no great excitement today along the Forty-second street baseball row in general or the Yankee club offices in particular.



BABE RUTH

"We are not interested and we have nothing to say," declared E. G. Barrow, business manager of the Yankees, when advised that Ruth, either personally or through an agent, had broadcast a statement from Florida in support of his salary contentions.

REJECTS CONTRACT

Ruth has rejected the two-year contract at $75,000 a year offered by the Yankees, which sum it is understood, represents the limit the club will go. It is $5000 a year more than the Babe has received for the past three years.

Barrow and Col. Jacob Ruppert, the club owner, not only feel that they have dealt generously with Ruth but that they "should be examined" for risking that much money on the uncertainties of baseball, Ruth in particular.

The circumstances of the Babe's unexpected debut as a propagandist were somewhat mysterious. Sporting editors tearing open their morning mail were just about to toss some mimeographed stuff in the waste basket when they noticed the Ruthian label. It turned out to be a snappy 500-word piece, designed to buttress the Babe's claims to bigger and better wages.

At least one morning paper had the story on its desk last night, but did not print it because of suspicion as to the possibility of a hoax, in spite of the postmark of Palm Beach, where Ruth has been sojourning. Furthermore, the man who has mimeographed most of Ruth's statements, Christy Walsh, is now in California.

"If the Yankees reject my request for an increase," reads the Ruthian statement, "I will remain idle, which, at my age, means retirement from baseball. I mean organized baseball. A few years ago I would not have taken this attitude. I would be obliged to sign at any terms for the same reason

MIDWICK POLOISTS VICTORS IN ROUND ROBIN TOURNAMENT

Midwick Country Club poloists warmed up for their second appearance in the coast open polo championship by winning a round robin lay yesterday at the Monterey Park Field. The Mid-round robin play yesterday at the Monterey Park field. The Midwick riders finished with a total of thirteen points. Laddie Sanford's Hurricanes registered 9 and Cypress Point 6. Tomorrow afternoon at the Purple club's field, Midwick will play the Hurricanes in a coast championship game. The winning four will ride into action Sunday in the finals against Argentina.

DAVIS CUP DRAW GIVEN

United States Squad to Meet Canada in Opening American Zone Contest for Trophy

PARIS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Davis Cup tennis players of the United States will encounter Canada in the opening American zone contest of the 1930 campaign to recover the famous trophy from the French, it was determined today by the official draw.

Cuba and Mexico, also bracketed together for the first-round play, are the only other nations entered in that zone.

The draw was made amid great ceremony at the Elysee Palace by President Doumergue of France, the holding nation, who drew the names of the various challengni countries out of the Davis Cup itself.

By a coincidence Germany and Great Britain, which met in the European zone final last year, were drawn to meet the first round of the 1930 competition. Although the Germans were successful in their memorable last meeting their team has been weakened considerably since by the death of Hans Moldenhauer in an automobile accident.

With the Germans and British clashing at the outset, one of the strongest teams in Europe is sure to meet untimely elimination. These teams are in the lower half, which appears slightly the stronger, also containing Australia and Italy.

In the upper half Japan and Holland are outstanding, challenging this year in the European zone instead of the American. The Japanese open against the Hungarians.

As there were twenty-four entrants in the European section eight drew byes into the second round. The complete draw:

Upper Half:

First round—Greece vs. India, Japan vs. Hungary, Jugo-slavia vs. Sweden, Belgium vs. Spain.

Second round (drew first-round byes)— Czecho-Slovakia vs. Denmark, Holland vs. Finland.

Lower Half:

First round—Australia vs. Switzerland, Monaco vs. Ireland, Poland vs. Rumania, Germany vs. Great Britain.

Second round (drew first-round byes)—Norway vs. Austria, Italy vs. Egypt.

Greece was the first country to be drawn by President Doumergue.

Ambassador Edge of the United States was among the notables representing many nations who were present.

The French President good-humoredly expressed the wish that continued French supremacy would

Three-Cornered Deadlock is Bare Possibility

The 1930 basketball season in the southern division of the Pacific Coast Conference will start waning this week, but with three teams still in the running mathematically, for the title, interest is anything but on the downgrade. So close is the race this year that it is possible for a three-corner tie for the title to occur.

CARL KNOWLES

A triangular tie for the championship would occur if the Southern California quintet, at present leading the league, would lose to Stanford and split even with U.C.L.A., U.C.L.A. would split even with both California and Southern California in two two-game series, and California would split even with U.C.L.A. and take two games from Stanford. Each of the three teams then would have won five and lost four games.

However, at the present writing, Coach Sam Barry's Trojans and Coach Caddy Works's Bruins have the edge in the going. The Thundering Herd five has won four and lost two games, and the Bruins have won three and lost two tilts. This week-end's games will find the Westwooders playing the Berkeley Bears in two feature contests Friday and Saturday nights in the Olympic Auditorium, with the Trojans meeting Husky Hunt's Cardinals in one game Saturday evening in the Palo Alto gymnasium.

The Bruins have heavy sledding before them in the next three weeks. Two games this week with the powerful Bears is a strong dose, with the local quintet just recuperating from two strenuous games with Stanford up north last week-end. A week from Saturday the Bruins will play Southern California

SOUTHLAND'S QUEEN O' GOLF

Mrs. Leona Pressler of the San Gabriel Country Club, who yesterday established a new course record of 77 over the south course of the Los Angeles Country Club to win medal honors in the midwinter championship. Mrs. Pressler held the championship in 1927 and 1928, but did not defend her title last year. A field of 104 noted women stars entered the qualifying play yesterday, and will tee off this morning in the first round of match play.

SHATTERS COURSE RECORD OVER LOS ANGELES LINKS

Women's Par Takes Basting From Brilliant Field; Mrs. Higbie, Mrs. Lifur Break Par

BY EDWARD LAWRENCE

Women's par for the south course of the Los Angeles Country Club felt the sting of Mrs. Leona Pressler's long woods and crisp irons yesterday, when the sensational San Gabriel star slashed out a par-smashing, record-breaking round of 38-39—77 to win medal honors by three strokes in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the seventh annual midwinter invitation championship.

Twice winner of the Los Angeles classic, Mrs. Pressler is again favored to win the crown, despite the finest field in the tournament's history.

MRS GREGG LIFUR

So keen was the competition yesterday that the reliable ninety shooters, who always expect to qualify one or two players in the championship flight, didn't even have a look in.

It took an 88 to make the championship sixteen this time, and four players, Mrs. B. E. Eva of the Columbia Country Club, Portland; Miss Esther Klinck of Flintridge, Mrs. Richard S. Edwards of California, and Mrs. Mark Steele of San Gabriel were forced to play-off for the last three places. Mrs. Edwards, one of the Southland's finest tournament players, was eliminated.

As was expected, Mrs. Gregg Lifur of the Riviera Country Club, Mrs. Pressler's bitter rival for championship laurels, was second low with a well-played round of 40-40—80.

MISS GOTTLIEB STARS

Mrs. Harlow G. Higbie, well-known Chicago star, who is considered the outstanding threat in this tournament, was third low with 44-37—81. Her incoming round, only two strokes over men's par, and three under women's par, was the best of the day.

Miss Beatrice Gottlieb, a newcomer to the Los Angeles Country Club from the Metropolitan District of New York, verified all the nice things that have been said about her game by shooting 42-40-82.

Mrs. Roy Green of the California Country Club, Los Angeles City women's champion, and Miss Helen Lawson of Wilshire both came in with well-played 84's.

Wykoff, Draper and Maurer Ready to Run

Maurice (Red) Guyer, one of the fastest sprinters in this neck of the woods, enrolled at the University of Southern California yesterday and will be eligible for the Trojan varsity team immediately.

DEAN CROMWELL

The red-headed dash star comes to Southern California from Santa Ana Junior College and is therefore automatically eligible for competition as a member of Dean Cromwell's already powerful varsity squad.

Registration of Guyer gives the Trojans an array of sprinters seldom found at one university. The list is headed by Frank Wykoff, hero of the 1928 Olympic Games tryouts, and includes Weldon Draper and Milton Maurer.

The significant fact about these sprinters is that every man of the lot has run 9 4-5s. at some time or other.

Wykoff, of course, has bettered this figure, and I'm not sure but what Draper and Guyer have been

FANS MOURN SANDBERG DEATH

Baseball Loses One of Best-Liked Players in Passing of Veteran Angel Catcher; Burns Received from Gas Tank Explosion Cause Ball Player's Demise

BY BOB RAY

Baseball fans of Los Angeles today were mourning the death of Gus Sandberg, veteran Angel catcher, who passed away at the California Lutheran Hospital early yesterday morning from the effects of burns received when the gasoline tank on his automobile exploded Sunday morning.

GUS SANDBERG

Sandberg's passing is a big loss to baseball, for there was no better-liked or more sportsmanlike player in the national pastime. Gus, who came to the Angels from the Cincinnati Reds in 1925, numbered his friends by the hundreds and he was respected by teammates and rival players alike. The best tribute that can be paid to Sandberg is that he did not have an enemy in baseball. Gus was that way, all who knew him liked him. He was a credit to the game.

Sandberg's death resulted from his doing a favor for his former manager, Marty Krug, who was visiting Gus Sunday night. When Marty left the house he found his gas tank was empty. Sandberg volunteered to drain the gas from his car to enable Krug to drive home. After draining the gasoline, Gus lit a match and peered into the tank to see if it was empty. The tank ignited instantaneously and Sandberg, leaning over the receptacle, caught the sudden blast of flame squarely in his face.

Krug, standing to one side, was not injured, but he suffered burns about the hands in his efforts to extinguish the flames that enveloped Sandberg. Sandberg was rushed to the Emergency Hospital and later moved to the California Lutheran Hospital. He suffered first, second and third-degree burns about the head, face, neck, back and shoulders. Sandberg's condition took a turn for the worse Sunday night and, shortly after, he passed away.

No inquest will be conducted into the death of Sandberg, Chief Deputy Coroner MacDonald declared yesterday. The police report showed it was purely accidental.

Sandberg is survived by his widow and two young sons.

The body has been removed to the Ivy Overholtzer undertaking establishment, but funeral arrangements will not be

JACK DEMPSEY'S AT IT AGAIN---HE MIGHT FIGHT

JOPLIN (Mo.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight champion, might return to the ring "to do my best to bring the heavyweight crown back to America," should it be won by a foreigner, he said in a radiocast talk here tonight.

Dempsey's statement was made in reply to questions put by sports writers.

"I don't think we need to worry about any foreign fighter winning the title, for I think Jack Sharkey can take care of any of them," Dempsey added.

"However, if Schmeling or some other foreign contender should win the championship, and if I were in shape and the people wanted me to fight, I would return to the ring to do my best to bring the heavyweight crown back to America.

"It would take months of training, even when I am in as good condition as at present, and the result of this training might finally determine whether I would fight again."

Dempsey was referee at an American Legion boxing show here tonight.

CALLAHAN'S CROWN REMOVED BY N.B.A.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 3. (AP)—The National Boxing Association met here today in special session, drew match pairings to determine official wrestling championships, suspended Mushy Callahan, junior welterweight boxing champion, for failure to defend his title; appointed new boxing and wrestling championship committees and realigned the ranking boxers in all classes.

Delegates from twenty States and Canada attended. Baby Joe Gans, Los Angeles, was ranked second in the junior welterweight division.

Eddie Mack and Joey Sangor Explode Fistic Fireworks Tonight in Olympic

VETERAN BOXER IN TOUGH SPOT

Milwaukee Fighter Underdog in Feature Tonight

Denver Boy Rules Favorite to Collect Honors

Junior Lightweights Hold Spotlight Here

Joey Sangor

Joey Sangor, one of the most popular Jewish boys Los Angeles fans have ever watched, faces tough opposition tonight when he meets Eddie Mack of Denver in the ten-round main event.

Mack is a slight choice over the freckled-faced boy from Milwaukee. But Sangor is one of those fighters who is an attraction, win or lose.

Sangor holds crowd records both here and in Chicago. He came back after being stopped by Jimmy McLarnin here and sold out the Olympic several years ago.

The same thing happened in Chicago after he was stopped by Armand Santiago who is slated to box Billy Townsend here next week. Sangor came back with Tony Canzoneri and turned hundreds away a short time after the Cuban stopped him.

Sangor inherited a pinched little face which more resembles a student than a fighter. But he is gifted with a finely developed body.

There isn't a fighter in the country who can execute a left hook to the body with more effectiveness and class than Joey. And he has a good mate to it in his right cross.

FOUGHT BEST

The name of Sangor has never been connected with pushovers. From the start he has fought the best. He knocked out Sammy Mandell after only about a dozen professional battles.

He could have made a lot of money barnstorming, but has preferred to stay in the big fight centers, where he has always commanded big purses.

Mack has made good in four starts here, stopping Baby Sal Sorio and Doc Snell and defeating Goldie Hess and Tod Morgan. He is a smaller edition of Gene Tunney in style, but packs more dynamite for his size.

The Mack-Hess bout was one of the greatest battles seen in the Olympic last year. His work against Morgan was not up to standard although he won. His right shoulder was injured and every time he used his right it caused him terrific pain.

Mack has always claimed he was sorry he won from Morgan because when Referee Jack Kennedy hoisted his right hand the pain nearly wrecked him. He fainted in his corner after the ordeal.

The bringing together of Mack and Sangor will develop future fights for one or both. The Olympic is hot on the trail of a Sangor-Fidel La Barba tilt and Goldie Hess is due back here in a few days and will push his claim for a Mack rematch.

MACK IS RANGY

Mack will hold both a weight and a height advantage over Sangor tonight. The Denver Regis College graduate is a rangy fellow on the Bud Taylor order, while Joey is about La Barba's size.

The match was made at 132½ pounds, but Sangor is down to 130. Mack can also do the junior-lightweight poundage when in steady training harness. He hasn't boxed since the Morgan fight.

Sangor last showed here in December, when he beat Santiago Zorilla. He is in better trim now than before.

Two young heavyweights—Harry Beum and Wally Fraser—clash in the six-round semi-wind-up under Mack and Sangor. The winner may be offered a match with the Oakland kayo king, Max Baer.

Beum is handled by George Blake. He is a good puncher. Frankie Campbell stopped him, but since then Beum came back to knock out Walter Hoffman. Fraser is a big favorite from the town of Hawthorne.

Freddie, Tompkins and Willie Fauste meet in the six-round special. The two fours are Pat Cunningham vs. Guy Salerno and Jack Stephens vs. Bobby Flores. Cunningham looks like a prospect.

The Olympic yesterday booked Les Kennedy, Long Beach heavyweight, and Dynamite Jackson for the 18th inst. date. Armando Santiago, the Cuban lightweight, and Billy Townsend of Vancouver go to the post a week from tonight. Santiago is at Soper's ranch, where he will train for the match.

SQUASH-HANDBALL PLAY OPENS TODAY

Play in the annual L.A.A.C. squash-handball championship tournament opens today on the courts of the Mercury Club. Commissioner Hal Vance will not defend the title won last year.

Pairings follow: Maxwell Stiles vs. Dr. D. B. Collins; Richard Collyear, bye; Dr. F. Cross, bye; Bob Ackley, bye; Winks Risley vs. H. H. Wilson; DeForrest Home vs. Dr. R. W. Bassett; Charles Hilliard, bye; R. Brownhill vs. Willard Mullin. Doubles play will be held next week after the singles close on Saturday.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

MR. SHUTE, THE "MUDDER"

IS DENNY SHUTE, as they say on the race track, a good "mudder"? Let's consider the winter's evidence. He won the Los Angeles $10,000 open during one of the worst weather outbursts since this golf classic was inaugurated in 1926. He repeated this victory in the recently concluded El Paso open.

Winning two major tournaments from fields including the best golf professionals in the country is a real feat. There can be no element of luck attached to it.

He won the L. A. open under terrible conditions—conditions that made star golfers like Leo Diegel, Tommy Armour, Walter Hagen, MacDonald Smith, Bobby Cruickshank and others stumble by the wayside. Hagen even quit altogether.

Came the $25,000 Agua Caliente tournament—the richest golf tourney in the world. Denny Shute of Columbus finished in the money, but he was just in. There was no rain, just a blustering gale on the third day.

Then El Paso, and on the second day of the tourney the drizzle started. That was enough to send Mr. Denny Shute off in a hurry. His two rounds on the last day were dazzling, and they brought him to the tape with a total of 277 for the four laps—seven strokes under par.

Mr. Shute has been known to shoot good golf when it wasn't raining, as witness his third in the national open last year. But hereafter when Mr. Shute is shooting in the rain he's a cinch to get a real bet on himself. The evidence is sufficient that he is a good "mudder."

A HOT-AIR STORY

WISH Mr. Tom Lieb would get himself situated so that these hot-air stories about his local associations would stop popping.

There never was any rhyme or reason for the one about his job at U.C.L.A. Lieb was pretty much the whole squeeze at Notre Dame last year, while Knute Rockne was sick abed, and he did well enough to rate consideration as somebody's head coach.

Being head coach at U.C.L.A. would mean the firing of Bill Sapulding, and Bill is on a long-time contract.

And being an assistant to Bill would come under the head of—well, just queer.

Not that anybody who works under Bill would necessarily have to be queer, but there would be no reason for Lieb to bury himself at U.C.L.A. right after gaining national recognition at Notre Dame.

That's what it would amount to because by no line of reasoning is U.C.L.A. yet in the class of the football major leaguers.

Time will come when U.C.L.A. will be very much there, and it's possible that Mr. Lieb might have turned an attentive ear had he been offered a head coach's job. But not as an assistant.

THE ROCKNE SYSTEM

MR. JIMMY PHELAN is certainly going about the business of installing his system wholesale. There will be no halfway business about it at Washington. No remnants of the former Bagshaw regime.

He already had Cotton Wilcox lined up as assistant coach, and now he puts in Ralph Welch of his last fall's Purdue team (Big Ten champions) as freshman coach.

That's the way the Knute Rockne system operates—the way Knute himself handles matters.

This is seen in the departure of Tom Lieb and the subsequent announcement that "Hunk" Anderson, star at Notre Dame when George Gipp was scoring touchdowns, will be Knute's chief assistant next year.

Anderson has been at St. Louis University the past two years.

THE MONEY GOAL

EDDIE MACK, the college boy, and Joey Sangor, the self-made hero of Milwaukee, give us the fistic fireworks tonight.

Mack is the favorite because he is younger and has more ahead of him on the fistic trail than Sangor.

But you never can tell about a guy when he is fighting for that fleeting thing known as fortune.

Freckle-faced Joey met with sad reverses in the stock market last year. He needs money to hold what he has left.

The winner of tonight's bout has a prospective match with Fidel LaBarba as the goal.

That's a money match, and freckle-faced Joey will be looking ahead when he starts slinging the punches.

Benny Bass Finishes Abad

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 3. (AP)—Benny Bass, junior lightweight champion, made a punching bag of Davey Abad, Panama flash, in their scheduled ten-round title fight tonight, Bass winning on a technical knockout in the fourth round after flooring Abad six times. Abad also was sent to the canvas twice in the first stanza.

Referee J. Harry Ertle of New Jersey, who was Bass's own selection as the third man in the ring, stopped the fight when it appeared to him the Panama flash was out on his feet. Abad put up a valiant struggle against Ertle to be allowed to continue the battle.

Bass sent a terrific right cross to the jaw to send Abad down for the sixth time in the fourth frame. The first time Abad smacked the canvas in the final round was for a count of nine, but on the others he jumped up as Ertle began the count.

Joe Cantillon Laid to Rest

JANESVILLE (Wis.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Joe Cantillon, baseball patriarch who gave fifty-two years of his life to the game as a player, umpire and manager, was buried in his home town today after simple services read by the Rev. F. J. Fiss, pastor of St. Patrick's Catholic Church.

He died in Hickman, Ky., last Friday after a stroke of paralysis.

PRO GOLFERS PLAY ON FLUSHING COURSE

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—The 1930 professional golf championship will be decided over the Fresh Meadow Course of Flushing, L. I., September 8-13, according to the announcement made today by the Professional Golf Association. Fresh Meadow is the home course of Gene Sarazen, winner of the $25,000 Agua Caliente tournament.

ROSSIS DEFEAT GOLDS

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (AP)—The Rossi basketball team from San Francisco defeated the San Jose Golds, 43 to 30, at Kezar pavilion tonight.

SCHOOLS PASS UP SCOUTING

CHICAGO, Feb. 3. (AP)—Chicago and Princeton again have agreed not to scout each other next fall for the fourth football game of their series.

WALKER BOUT POSTPONED

DETROIT, Feb. 3. (AP)—The bout between Mickey Walker, middleweight title-holder and Leo Lomski, scheduled for Olympia the 14th inst., was postponed until the 21st inst., today, because of an injury to Walker's hand.

Mercuries Cop Major Honors

A summary released last night of the Southern California A.A.U. wrestling championships, held over the week-end at the Pacific Coast Club, Long Beach, shows that the Los Angeles Athletic Club team won six of the eight championships.

Final results:

112 pounds—Daly (L.A.A.C.) defeated Whitman (Whittier.)

118 pounds—Wrigley (L.A.A.C) defeated Taramuto (Pacific Coast Club.)

126 pounds—Andes (L.A.A.C) defeated Bolton (Hollywood A.C.)

135 pounds—Morehouse (L.A.A.C.) defeated Coffee (Pacific Coast Club.)

147 pounds—Drake (U.C.L.A.) defeated Rivers (L.A.A.C.)

HACK WILSON AGAIN SIGNS UP WITH CUBS

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Lewis Robert (Hack) Wilson, pugnacious centerfielder of the Chicago Cubs, came to terms for the 1930 season with William L. Veeck, club president, tonight. Mr. Veeck declined to say at what figure Wilson had signed, but it was generally expected that he received a substantial increase over the salary he was paid last year. Wilson's new contract is for one year.

COCHRAN WINNER IN REISELT MATCH

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Welker Cochran of Hollywood took the first two blocks of a special three-cushion billiards match with Otto Reiselt of Philadelphia today and was leading tonight, 100 to 69.

Cochran won by scores of 50 to 40 in 51 innings, and 50 to 29 in 31 innings. He had high runs of seven in each block. Reiselt had a cluster of six this afternoon and seven tonight.

RUTH THREATENS TO RETIRE

95 per cent of all players have to sign—bread and butter.

"Well, there's enough bread and butter in our home even if I never touched another baseball in my life. Without receiving 5 cents from the Yankees during 1930 I am assured an income of $25,000 from established dividends and royalties.

"I have saved exactly $150,000 in less than three years, which pays me (an income) every three months. In addition I receive royalties from baseballs, underwear, baseball gloves and equipment, radio talks and the like.

"Take the matter of exhibition games," the statement goes on. "The Yankees have played more in the past ten years than most other major-league clubs combined, and every exhibition contract reads, 'If Ruth does not play, the game is canceled,' and yet Ruth never gets a dime from exhibition games.

"Today I am in fine physical shape. Golf, fishing and hunting have kept me in trim since last October. During the winter I rejected easy money in vaudeville and talking pictures to keep myself in shape, but if the Yankees force me into retirement I will accept some of the many offers, which include a variety of entertainment propositions, exhibition games during the summer and even an offer from a circus. But I prefer to stick with the Yankees at $85,000 per year on a three-year contract."

Play Tricky on Cut Back

AFTER 1 GETS BALL HIS TEAMMATE 2 RUNS BY HIM TAKING BALL
AS 1 IS IN PATH OF 2'S OPPONENT 2 DRIBBLES TO BASKET UNMOLESTED
2-3

BY SOL METZGER

When you see a basketball player, the first through the defense, shake his pesky opponent and break back to the foul line to take the pass, look for this move to occur: One of his team-mates, noting him in action, also breaks down court, usually from the opposite side. Call this one No. 2. His guarding opponent B will not be asleep. B, likewise, will break with No. 2, trying to keep on his basket side. That's what No. 2 wants.

No. 2 rushes close by No. 1 and takes a short pass. He may even be handed the ball. B cannot follow, as to do so would cause him to collide with No. 1. That's illegal. But the presence of No. 1 on this spot with the ball is perfectly legal even though he blocks B from covering No. 2.

No. 2 then dribbles to the basket for a short shot. But no attack can function without variety.

Knowles, the gangling center, has scored 52 points in five games for an average of 10 2-5 points per game, while Wilds has scored 50 points for an average of 10 even.

Wilson Tripp, California forward, is in third place with 44 points scored in five games for a medium of 8 4-5 points per tilt, while Jimmy McCandless, Stanford center, has hit the hoop for 50 points in six games for an average of 8 1-3 points per game. Jack Gardner, forward, is the highest point scorer for the league-leading University of Southern California quintet, with 47 points scored in six games for a 7 5-6 point average.

made until the arrival of his sister, who is speeding here from Long Island and will not arrive until Thursday.

Sandberg's death is a severe blow to the Angels, for Manager Jack Lelivelt was counting on him to do the bulk of the catching for the club this season. Gus was rated as one of the smartest catchers in the league and he received many votes on the Coast League's all-star team.

Gus Sandberg is gone, but he will not be forgotten. His host of friends wish him everlasting peace in the Great Beyond, where there must be rewards waiting for men such as Gus Sandberg.

Risko Signed for Campolo

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3. (AP)—"Little" Johnny Risko, who, according to the New York Boxing Commission, is "too small" to fight Vittorio Campolo, the big South American heavyweight, in the Empire State, has been signed in spite of his mere 196 pounds to fight Campolo at Miami, Fla., the 27th inst.

Danny Dunn, Risko's manager, announced tonight he had accepted an offer of Tom McCardle, Madison Square Garden matchmaker, for the Cleveland heavy to mix with Campolo in a semifinal to the Sharkey-Scott bout.

Annexes Golf Honors in Qualifying Round for Los Angeles Midwinter Championship

cidences of the qualifying play was the failure of Mrs. Vera G. Hutchings, brilliant Canadian golfer, to qualify. Mrs. Hutchings, winner of the first midwinter championship back in 1924, played a practice round on Sunday in approximately 78, but could not find herself yesterday and finished with a 92.

Mrs. Harry Grossman of Hillcrest, former Los Angeles women's champion, and Mrs. C. W. Fellows of the California Country Club did not turn in cards.

The draw turned out exceptionally well, the strong players being well divided between the upper and lower brackets of the championship flight. Mrs. Pressler heads the upper bracket, which includes Mrs. Higbie, Miss Lawson, and Miss Lucile DeLong of San Diego. Mrs. Lifur tops the lower bracket, which includes Mrs. Green, Miss Gottlieb, and Mrs. Steele.

Pairings for the championship matches, scheduled to start promptly at 9:30 over the north course, were announced as follows:

UPPER BRACKET

Mrs. Leona Pressler (77) vs. Mrs. Willie Low (85.)

Miss Helen Lawson (84) vs. Mrs. Chris Raysor (87.)

Mrs. H. G. Higbie (81) vs. Miss Lucille De Long (86.)

Mrs. C. J. Woerner (85,) vs. Miss Esther Klinck (88.)

LOWER BRACKET

Mrs. Gregg Lifur (80) vs. Mrs. J. W. Taylor (86.)

Mrs. Roy Green (84) vs. Mrs. B. E. Eva (88.)

Miss Beatrice V. Gottlieb (82) vs. Mrs. Joe Mayo (86.)

Mrs. F. M. Slade (85) vs. Mrs. Mark Steele (88.)

One of the best matches of the day should result when Miss De Long meets Mrs. Higbie. Miss De Long is one of the grittiest battlers in the Southland, and, although she has played but little golf during the past few months, should give the Chicago woman a tussle.

REMARKABLE ROUND

Miss De Long carried Mrs. Lifur to the seventeenth hole in the midwinter championship two years ago, and came within an ace of eliminating her again at Virginia last spring in the Southern California women's championship. Miss De Long had Mrs. Lifur 1 down, going to the sixteenth hole, but the Riviera ace pulled the match out of the fire on the eighteenth green.

Mrs. Low, wife of the Lakeside professional, is a greatly improved golfer, and may possibly extend Mrs. Pressler—but not if Mrs. Pressler plays as she did yesterday.

In her remarkable qualifying score, Mrs. Pressler scored seven birdies and an eagle against women's par, and was five under for the round. She was even with men's par going to the sixth hole, and only two over at the ninth hole. Coming in she was four over men's par, which was due in large part to a six on the twelfth hole. It was the only six o nher card.

Mrs. Pressler's record supplants the 78 held jointly by Mrs. Dan Jones and Mrs. Vera Hutchings.

Mrs. Pressler's card is presented herewith:

Bowling Stars Here for Tilts

Coming for a long series of matches in Southern and Northern California, a team of British lawn bowlers will arrive in Los Angeles this morning. The party includes thirteen men and five women and will stop at the Roslyn Hotel. The opening match on the schedule will be played Thursday afternoon against the Los Angeles Club, followed by a game at Pasadena on Friday.

What is billed as the most important engagement of the program is that which will send a picked American team against the invaders at Exposition Park on the afternoon of February 15.

The English team includes the following men: Manager A. Male, C. T. Elliott, W. Clarke, A. T. Robertson, I. M. Ferguson, A. Hartston, H. A. Bellamy, R. Brown, H. R. Repko, E. Humphries, W. McDermott, W. Bailey and G. Barnes. The women in the party are Mesdames Prynne, Hartston, Bellamy, Barnes and Miss Brown. This is the third visit to Los Angeles for many of the above party.

The American list consists of the following: Messrs. W. O. Connell, A. E. Hadd, J. Aspinall, Tom Walker, W. Graham, H. Davis, J. Ronelli, J. Clark, W. Armstrong, J. Whitmer, E. Mages and A. A. Millar.

The rival teams will be bowling for the Fox Trophy presented by Charles J. Fox, president of the California Lawn Bowling Association.

Big Bear Cards Winter Sports

Snow sport events will be featured at the winter carnival to be held in Big Bear Valley on the week-end of the 8th and 9th inst., sponsored by the Big Bear Lake Chamber of Commerce and the California State Chamber of Commerce.

Max Green, chairman of the winter sports committee of the State Chamber of Commerce in Southern California, announced that this will be third of a series of snow carnivals as sponsored by his committee.

One of the longest toboggan slides in Southern California has been erected. The ski jump is reported to be in excellent shape, constructed under the direction of F. E. Wadsworth, superintendent of the Los Angeles county recreational department, and comes up to the standards as laid down by eastern ski associations.

The contestants are being secured through the courtesy of the Los Angeles Junior Chamber of Commerce, which is in constant contact with all competitors in the Southland, and in position to speak authoritatively on contests of this caliber. Other co-operating agencies are the Los Angeles city playground department and the Los Angeles county recreational department.

"RED" GUYER ON TROJAN SQUAD

clocked in 9 7-10s. at some time or other. Every man of the bunch has raced 220 yards in well under 22s. flat.

Guyer was a member of the L.A.A.C. relay team which won two races at Denver last summer. One of the victories set a new national record. The team was made up of Charley Paddock, Wykoff, Maurer and Guyer. This outfit set a new record of 1m. 2s. in the 600-yard relay and also won the 440-yard event.

Odd thing about the team is that with the exception of Paddock all of the members will be running for Troy this spring and Guyer will take Charley's place very nicely.

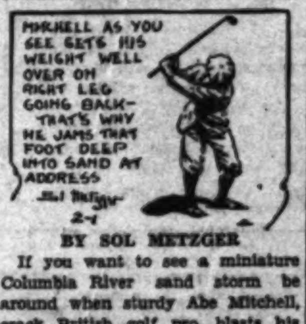
Hector Dyer, Stanford's great sprinter, faces a terrific task in cutting into the points Southern California ought to score in the two dashes with such an array of flyers.

Another Santa Ana Junior College athlete who enrolled yesterday was Blanchard Beatty, javelin tosser of some repute. However, Beatty is best known for his prowess on the gridiron. He played quarter for Bill Cook's Santa Ana eleven and was rated one of the outstanding signal barkers in the Junior College circuit.

Harry Broman, Polytechnic High School pole-vaulter and high-jumper, registered as a freshman. He does 12ft. and 5ft. 10in. William Graber, Chaffey Union pole-vaulter, also enrolled. He has done 12ft. in the pole vault.

There's another day of registration today and additional athletic luminaries may come into the fold. Poor old Dean Cromwell will be forced to break down pretty soon and confess that it looks like a fairly good track season coming up.

Golf Power is Discussed



MITCHELL AS YOU SEE GETS HIS WEIGHT WELL OVER ON RIGHT LEG GOING BACK—THAT'S WHY HE JAMS THAT FOOT DEEP INTO SAND AT ADDRESS
Sol Metzger

BY SOL METZGER

If you want to see a miniature Columbia River sand storm be around when sturdy Abe Mitchell, crack British golf pro, blasts his ball from a bad lie in a trap. Abe dusts the neighborhood.

He has a corking good idea for forcing his club through on this shot. Abe applies all his power with his left arm. He absolutely pulls his niblick through the sand and around to his left with this one arm. No final punch with the strong right for Abe as his club nears the ball in order to insure full power. You have to have a powerful left to play the shot this way.

But what is most odd is that Abe lets the bulk of his weight rest on his right leg as he hits through. If you like the idea, take Walter Travis's old tip. He said no idea was worth anything unless tested several hundred times in practice.

The pivot is the least understood phase in golf instruction. Sol Metzger has prepared a leaflet on "The Pivot" which he will gladly send to any reader requesting it. Inclose a stamped, addressed envelope.

Sarpolis Ready for Mat Battle

"The first time Everett Marshall tries to give me an airplane ride, I will split him into two pieces."

That is what Dr. Karl Sarpolis said yesterday when he was asked what defense he planned to use against Marshall's favorite hold, the airplane spin, when they clash at the Olympic mat tomorrow night.

Dr. Sarpolis demonartated his defense and counter-offense against the airplane spin to a small group of close friends and two veteran mat experts here yesterday in a private workout in the gym.

Sarpolis's counter-offense is believed to be one of the agonizing split holds for which he is noted. With one leg already grasped in his hands, mat experts declare it is but the work of a second for Sarpolis to "split" his foe. Reports of his matches with Dern would indicate this is the way the wrestling physician beats the airplane spin.

Marshall went through his final workout at the beach yesterday, at the conclusion of which he announced himself in perfect condition, and confident he would beat his opponent, although he did expect a little more trouble than either Joe Malcewicz and Stanley Stasiak gave him in his matches with them.

BOXERS IN REMATCH ON THURSDAY NIGHT

John Novarro and Canto Robleto, two of the fastest bantamweights on the Coast, will meet in the eight-round main event at Pasadena Arena Thursday night in a rematch.

Glen Bowers of Alhambra, a great amateur featherweight, will make his professional debut in the four-round semifinal against Harry Wallinder, a fine Hollywood prospect, who was a big hit on a previous ring appearance.

Hymie Rudin and Frankie Abendido, slugging lightweights, will fight the four-round special event. The four-round preliminaries will be: Billy Wager vs. Joe Para, 135 pounds; Glen Dinger vs. Frank Leonard, 148 pounds.

LOYOLA CAGERS TO PLAY H.A.C. TONIGHT

Although a heavy favorite to score a victory, the Hollywood Athletic Club basketball squad may find the Loyola U. Lions a stumbling block tonight because of concentrating more on the game with De Paul U. Wednesday night than that with the Lions. Tonight's game will be on the H.A.C. court, starting at 8 o'clock.

The Elks Club quintet defeated Loyola, 38 to 22, and the H.A.C. won from the Elks, 35 to 30, the common game serving as a basis for comparing the teams. Coach Bill Paige is expected to start his strongest line-up against the Lions, taking no chances of defeat, with McNeece and Young at guards, Kearney at center and McCormick and Cole at forwards.

Film City Hockey Team Shows Reversal of Form in Trimming San Francisco, 6-0

Showing a complete reversal of form the Hollywood Millionaires simply smothered the San Francisco Tigers last night by a 6-to-0 score in a hockey clash staged at the Winter Garden Ice Palace.

The Film City skaters took the jump on the Bay City team in the opening period scoring four goals and from that time on the Millionaires raced rings around the northern squad.

Hollywood went on a scoring jag in the first period. The Film City team swarmed around the San Francisco goalie Broadfoot like a lot of bees. Four goals rattled off their sticks before time was called.

Lefty Comber tallied first on a pass from Peaches Headley. Then Maher scored on a pass from Harris. The same player crashed through again for a score a few minutes later on a pass from Dan Carrigan.

Wolfe Peltier further speeded up the action by skating down the ice for another goal for Hollywood giving them a 4-to-0 lead.

Smoky Harris scored in the second period making it 5 to 0 in favor of the Hollywood team. In the last period O'Connell tallied on a pass from Comber giving the Shieks a 6-to-0 lead. After that score the Hollywood team played on the defense and although the San Francisco players bombarded the net Tommy Carrigan was well able to handle everything that came his way without letting one bounce in for a tally.

'Chili' Walsh Head Coach at St. Louis 'U'

ST. LOUIS (Mo.) Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Charles F. (Chili) Walsh of Hollywood, Cal., who has been assistant coach of football at St. Louis University for the past two years, tonight was named head coach of the Mound City grid eleven, according to an announcement by Rev. J. J. O'Regan, S.J., director of athletics.

Walsh succeeds Heartly (Hunk) Anderson of Calumet, Mich., who was head coach in 1928-1929. The new coach, who, incidentally, will be 27 years of age today, formerly starred for Notre Dame on the gridiron. He battled for Hollywood High during his prep days and entered Notre Dame in 1924. Coach Knute Rockne employed him as a halfback during his freshman year.

University, officials of that institution refused to affirm or deny the report.

"Nothing to say," was the answer to questions.

Bill Driver, coach during 1929, had only a one-year contract, which was not renewed at the close of the last season.

Loyola University, located in the Del Rey Hills, has been threatening to become a major factor in local intercollegiate athletics for some time. The acquisition of Lieb will be a big step in that direction as a coach of his ability and reputation should attract outstanding athletes to the Lion institution.

KENNY LA SALLE TO TAKE ON MANCILLAS

Kenny La Salle is slated to make an eight-round ring debut Wednesday evening at the Ocean Park boxing arena when he meets Joe Mancillas, according to an announcement by Promoter Claude Bridge. La Salle is rapidly climbing toward the position in Southland ring circles held by his brother, Bobby La Salle, the "Culver City Rose."

Joe Arciniega will mix with Howard Frits in a six-heat semi-wind-up.

Russell Brock and Jack Salazar are on the boards to clash in the four-round special event. Both are big, hard-hitting aces. They are to go the four rounds at 170 pounds.

In the two four-round preliminaries, John Crismas will meet Donald Smith at 130 pounds and Dave Leivas will meet Ward After at 130 pounds.

BILL TILDEN TRIMS AUSTRIAN NET STAR

CANNES, FRANCE, Feb. 3. (AP)—Bill Tilden easily defeated Hermann Artens, Austria's second ranking player, in the final round of the Cannes tennis tournament today. The scores were 6-0, 6-2, 6-0.

The American champion was playing in the best form he has shown on the Riviera.

In the doubles semi-finals Henri Cochet and Jacques Brugnon defeated Lyttelton Rogers of Ireland and Erik Worm of Denmark, 6-0, 6-3, 10-8.

MANDELL COPS VERDICT

CLEVELAND, Feb. 3. (AP)—Sammy Mandell, Rockford, Ill., world's champion lightweight, was given the decision in a twelve-round bout with Joey Goodman, Cleveland, at Public Hall here tonight. The title was not at stake.

EISAN WILL ACCEPT LA VERNE GRID JOB

BERKELEY, Feb. 3. (Exclusive)—Lee Eisan, the shifty quarterback of the University of California football varsity of the last three years, has announced to the press that he will accept an offer to coach the La Verne University football team. La Verne is a member of the Southern California gridiron conference. Eisan graduates from California in May. His entire college career has been one of scintillating performance and he never suffered serious competition from any rival for his position. He has exceptional talents as catcher of passes and a returner of punts, also football wise to an extent seldom seen on the gridiron, with the possible exception of the wonder-team days. It is a popular sport with local critics to conjecture just what Eisan would have accomplished with such men as the wonder team players to direct.

HUNT KAYOES MUIR

TULSA (Okla.) Feb. 3. (AP)—Babe Hunt, Ponca City heavyweight, and southwestern championship claimant, knocked out Sandy Muir, Chicago, in one minute of the second round of their scheduled ten-round bout here tonight. Hunt had Moir on the floor three times in the first round.

DE PAUL FIVE VICTORS

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 3. (AP)—De Paul University's basketball team of Chicago defeated the Santa Barbara State College quintet, 35 to 14, tonight, in a sparkling exhibition. Jim O'Connor, De Paul, was high-score man with 14 points.

JADICK IN DRAW BOUT

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 3. (AP)—Johnny Jadick, slugging Philadelphia lightweight, and Gaston Lecadre of France battled ten fast rounds to a draw in the main event at the Arena tonight.

NEW SHIP BUND LEADER ON JOB

Pacific District Conference Chief at Harbor

Sees Intercoastal Situation as Clearing Up

Era of Prosperity Believed Near for Members

BY WALDO DRAKE

Thomas G. Widmyre, newly-appointed Pacific Coast chief of the United States Intercoastal Conference, yesterday paid his first visit to Los Angeles Harbor since assuming his new duties. The intercoastal freight situation, said Mr. Widmyre, is about to enter a period of prosperity, following ten years of rate wars and traffic depressions.

He is in Southern California on the beginning of a tour of all Pacific Coast ports to establish the United States Intercoastal Conference's new policy—closer relations between the shippers and the ship operators.

CO-OPERATION SOUGHT

"The intercoastal operators have come to the realization that it is up to them to carry their service to the shippers and consignees, instead of the old policy of the shipper going to them," said Mr. Widmyre. "We want all of our customers to learn the possibilities of coast-to-coast ship service from every angle; just what ports each line touches and what schedules are maintained. It is apparent that the intercoastal trade is becoming a dominant factor in the American industrial fabric. Therefore, the United States Intercoastal Conference is out to establish a service just as regular and efficient as our railroad system."

MEETING SLATED

Mr. Widmyre, who comes to his new post from duties as head of the Pacific Coast Weighing & Classification Bureau of the United States Intercoastal Conference, was in conference here yesterday with Morgan Huntoon, head of the local bureau. A meeting will be held in San Francisco next week, to be attended by Weighing and Classification Bureau heads from all Coast ports, said Mr. Widmyre, when plans for the coming year will be outlined.

The bureau, he said, has in the first year of its operation given complete satisfaction, both to member lines of the United States Intercoastal Conference and to shippers, in its classification of all westbound intercoastal freight.

WHALERS TRIM SAILS FOR START OF SEASON

Whaling season is opening off Lower California, and the fleet of the California Sea Products Company will depart California for Cape San Lucas within two weeks, it was announced yesterday by Capt. F. D. Dedrick, president of the company. He arrived from San Francisco yesterday to remain until his fleet gets underway.

The fleet comprises the big factory tanker Lansing with approximately 120 men aboard, and four killer boats. The expedition will be in charge of F. K. Dedrick, son of the president.

The fleet finished last season in November with approximately 15,000 barrels of whale oil, the fleet operating both off Lower California and San Clemente Island. The Norwegian-owned Mexico Whaling Company faired poorly off Mexico last year, and this year dispatched its fleet to the Antarctics.

Sea travelers embarking from Los Angeles alone for the Orient and Europe spend $8,000,000 yearly, according to the D. F. Robertson Travel Bureau. During January Mr. Robertson says, more than 500 passengers left here on foreign tours. The figures apparently do not include the vast travel coastwise and to Hawaii. Thirty-one travelers booked by this agency will sail on the Dollar liner President Wilson on a six-months' cruise around the world.

Joe Cluney, vaudevillian, chose the Spencer-Kellogg tanker Vaba, departing last night, for a quiet trip to New York. The tanker was in for bunkers, bound from Manila to Gotham with 6500 tons of cocoanut oil.

In from New York and Central America, the Panama Mail liner Guatemala disembarked more than half her eighty-four travelers here and sailed last night for San Francisco. J. F. Hawly, plantation owner of Guatemala was a passenger. The ship discharged coffee and general cargo, and its first tomatoes of the season from San Jose de Guatemala.

J. A. Wilson, marine superintendent of the Chile Steamship Company, returned yesterday from New York and Jacksonville, Fla., where he superintended the reconditioning of the lake-type steamer Corapeak. The latter was bought by the Chile Steamship Company to transport scrap iron and poles up and down the Chilean coast for the Chile Exploration Company. The steamship company also has re-chartered the tanker British Star, due here March 10, for another year, giving the company a fleet of five tankers operating regularly out of here to Chile, besides an outside tanker, chartered for five trips.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 3. (AP)—United States steamboat inspectors announced here today they will start an investigation into grounding of the steamship West Ira on some submerged object off Point Montara, yesterday afternoon. The vessel, which sailed from here with three passengers and a heavy cargo of lumber and general merchandise, was forced to turn back to San Francisco after striking the object. Officers of the ship said they believed the object was a protruding rock. Coast and Geodetic Survey officials said the water off Point Montara was charted only recently, and soundings showed deep water where the West Ira is supposed to have struck.

Two new turbine steamers, being built by the Hamburg-American Line in a German shipyard, are to be added to the European-Pacific Coast fleet of combination passenger and freight ships of the line, E. A. Winkler, Pacific Coast manager announced here today. The first vessel, already named the Tacoma, will be launched on the 6th inst., while the second, the Vancouver, will leave the ways on March 10, Winkler said. Five vessels are operating in the company's service between the Pacific Coast and Europe at present.

SEATTLE, Feb. 3.—The first vessel of the Oceanic and Oriental Line, operated by the American Hawaiian Steamship Company, to come direct to Seattle from the Orient, the steamship Golden Horn, arrived in port today.

The carrier brought 1000 tons of peanut oil for local discharge. She will load for return at California ports.

After completing cargo at sound ports the Rearden-Smith Line motorship East Lynn left tonight for Glasgow. She will stop at Grays Harbor for additional loading before sailing from the coast.

PORTLAND, Feb. 3.—Collector of Customs E. M. Croisan announced today that in the future all steamers adding cargo in the Columbia and Willamette river districts will be cleared at the port of loading. In the past, Croisan said, vessels leaving this port to complete cargoes on the Lower Columbia have been privileged to clear here so long as the exact quantity of cargo to be loaded elsewhere was known.

Croisan advanced no reason for the change in regulations.

TACOMA, Feb. 3.—Mitsui and Company's liner Akagisan Maru arrived here today from Kobe with Oriental freight and is loading general cargo and lumber for the return voyage. Another Japanese vessel the K. K. K. liner Tyne Maru completed her loading today and departed for Dairen.

A trans-Atlantic carrier, the Donaldson liner Gracia was European arrival Monday. The vessel will remain in port several days taking on cargo for the United Kingdom.

National Loop Moguls Meet

NEW YORK, Feb. 3. (AP)—Baseball men came to New York today acting as harbingers of spring as they talked of schedules and other things. From the National, International and Eastern leagues officials, club owners and managers met to exchange gossip of the game and in between times transact some league business.

The International League, looking to the expiration of the national association agreement of the minor leagues September 6, 1931, invited two other Class AA leagues to consider problems peculiar to these circuits. Charles H. Knapp, president of the International, was authorized to invite committees from the American Association and Pacific Coast League to meet with a committee from his circuit in Chicago in June to exchange observations.

The National League meets tomorrow afternoon to approve the 1930 schedule and take up any other matters presented.

The International League announced a staff of eight umpires signed and a contract submitted to the ninth man to complete the staff. The umpires signed are William Finneran, Doll Derr, Ollie Chill, Fred Westervelt, George Parker, Barry McCormick, Charles Donnelly and Thomas Erwin. Jack Carroll has not returned his signed contract. McCormick goes to the International from the National League while Donnelly and Erwin come up from the Texas League.

A change in the distribution of receipts was made by the International League, providing that the visiting team be paid 15 cents per admission, instead of 12½ cents as in the past.

THIS is directed to you salesmen who are interested in building a permanent and profitable clientele, and making money right now.

Most of you have met with disappointment due to the fact that what you have been selling has not proven out in accordance with the original intentions and promises. For this reason you have lost your customers, you cannot sell them again and your time and energy has all been wasted.

No salesman can ever be successful financially unless he can get an income in future years on the efforts that he is putting forth now.

This company has a proven record over a period of years. Our customers are satisfied customers. Our salesmen are happy in their connection and making money as well as building for the future.

If you want a steady position in pleasant and profitable work, call for an interview Monday or Tuesday from 9:30 to 12 a.m. and from 2 to 4:30 p.m. To those who qualify and are selected by us, we will thoroughly train and pay them while in training.

A SALES REPRESENTATIVE
OF REAL ACHIEVEMENT

to care for its growing business, an established and personal service corporation, largest of its kind on the Coast—is about to add to its one and possibly three representatives for local.

And for Orange, Riverside and San Bernardino counties.

The term "representative" is used advisedly, for the men selected must be REPRESENTATIVES in every sense of the word — in character, caliber and appearance — who can get to the very best people and after getting to them talk their language.

The affiliation offered is not only a most dignified and congenial one, but an exceptionally lucrative one. The earnings of the right man should be quickly at the rate of more than $10,000 a year.

This is not to be classed with the general run of salesmen. It is an exceptional opportunity worthy of the investigation of the most ambitious type of man.

If you are of this class, able to follow instructions and finance yourself, phone for appointment. Ask for Rogers.

GAS CURB ACT HIT IN COURT

Counsel for Operators Flay Wastage Legislation

Santa Fe Springs Field's Injunction Argued

State Attorneys Assert Law Safeguards Future

California's new Gas and Oil Conservation Act, passed by the last Legislature to stop the wastage of natural gas in oil fields, was severely condemned when the hearing of the injunction suit brought by the State against operators in the Santa Fe Springs field was resumed yesterday before Superior Judge Hazlett.

The onslaught on the constitutionality of the new law is being made by Attorneys Walter Haas, Robert Murphy and Neil S. McCarthy, representing the smaller group of oil operators in the field who are opposing the State's fight to establish a gas-oil ratio in the field under the provisions of the act.

CONTINUE BATTLE

The three attorneys for the oil companies will continue their arguments today, probably finishing tonight. After they have completely dissected the new law, it then will be the work of Attorneys James S. Bennett and George R. Larwell, representing the State, to prove to the satisfaction of Judge Hazlett that the act is valid and constitutional and that an injunction should issue to stop the waste of natural gas.

They hold that the waste can be prevented by the establishment of a gas-oil ratio in the field, that is, permitting only a certain number of cubic feet of gas to escape with each barrel of oil produced.

ACT NOT CLEAR

The chief contention of the attorneys opposing the injunction on the grounds that the new law is unconstitutional, is that the phraseology of it is too vague; in fact, its wording too obscure for enforcement. They hold that the law does not specify what is a reasonable amount of waste. The waste, they aver, is not defined therefor making it practically impossible for an operator to tell, when producing his oil, whether he is violating the act or not.

"It would tax the ingenuity of experts to tell whether one was violating the law because of the complex factors related to oil production and because of the various viewpoints as to what constitutes waste," Attorney Murphy declared.

OFFICERS CONFUSED

"State officials themselves are confused as to what the gas-oil ratio should be because of the various conditions in different fields," the attorney continued. "No two individuals have the same idea about it. There is no guide in the law for State officers to follow in carrying out the law."

Both Attorney Haas and Attorney Murphy yesterday stressed their objections to that feature of the law which delegates certain powers to the gas and oil supervisor relative to fixing a gas-oil ratio in oil fields. They hold that such a law places entirely too much arbitrary power in the hands of one man.

On the other hand, the attorneys for the State hold that the law is valid and that oil operators in California fields should be enjoined from permitting the natural gas to escape in the air. They aver that millions of cubic feet of gas are being wasted unlawfully each year, gas that should be kept in the earth for the propulsion of oil to the surface for the generations of Californians to come.

PRESCRIPTION WHISKY'S OWNER MUST PAY FINE

An effort of William E. Thompson to cure a cold by drinking a half pint of prescription whisky all at once, instead of taking a tablespoonful every four hours as prescribed by a physician, will cost him a fine of $50.

This is the ruling of Superior Judges McLucas, Shaw and Bishop, the three judges presiding in the appellate department of the Superior Court, whose opinion upholds the ruling of the lower court wherein Thompson was found guilty of possession of liquor in violation of the Wright Act and was fined. Following conviction he appealed to the higher court.

The high court found that the trial court had properly found Thompson guilty of possession on the theory that he had purchased the whisky, not for medicinal but for beverage purposes.

Thompson was arrested by Patrolman Dean Wood at Sunset Boulevard and Alvarado street for being intoxicated. When taken into custody he had a half pint of whisky, half of the liquor in him and half in the bottle. When haled before Municipal Judge MacCoy on a charge of possession of liquor he admitted he had it. He showed he had obtained the liquor on a prescription made out by a Dr. Jackson. He said he had a heavy chest cold and thought by taking half of the bottle of whisky he would be cured quicker.

EXPLOSION'S TOLL MOUNTS

Two More Women Die of Injuries Suffered in Gas Blast That Wrecked South Gate Home

Succumbing to burns suffered in a gas explosion in South Gate early Sunday morning, Mrs. Amanda Warnicke, 9620 Bowman avenue, and Mrs. May Lannon, 8169 San Juan avenue, died yesterday at the Suburban Hospital, South Gate. The death toll of the tragedy is therefore brought to three persons.

Inquests on yesterday's deaths and that of Mrs. L. L. Dugan, 8677 Dearborn street, who died shortly after the explosion, are scheduled to be conducted today at 9:30 a.m. at the Pyle mortuary, South Gate.

John Lannon and L. L. Dugan, husbands of Mrs. Lannon and Mrs. Dugan, yesterday were reported to be recovering at the hospital. Lannon was removed to his home during the day.

The explosion occurred about 2 a.m. Sunday when one of the five persons entering the Warnicke home struck a match. The house was demolished and two of the five blown outside through the wreckage. South Gate police reported finding a broken gas cock in the house.

The five victims were returning to the house after having taken George F. Warnicke, husband of Mrs. Warnicke, to his place of employment at midnight, police reported.

FILM PEACE ASSURED IN CONFERENCE

Actors' Meeting Passes Resolution Refusing to Countenance Strike

Assurance of a continuation of the present peaceful relations between motion-picture producers and actors was the outcome of a meeting of more than 250 representative actors at the Roosevelt Hotel last night which indorsed the actions of a committee of actors engaged in negotiating a new standard contract and which unanimously passed a resolution containing the statement that:

"This gathering places itself individually and collectively on record as refusing to support or countenance a strike or any radical action by any group of actors that might be injurious to the motion-picture industry, so long as the letter and spirit of this contract are observed."

Significance was lent to the adoption of this resolution by the fact that a large number of those present last night were prominent in last summer's Equity strike. The committee which has been negotiating with the producers was sponsored by the actors' branch of the Academy of Motion Picture, Arts and Sciences, and all but one of its members are members of the academy, but eleven additional actors were added to the committee last night and of the new members only four belong to the academy.

Most of the discussion last night centered about the hours of work to be specified in the new contract and two alternative proposals were presented, one sponsored by the producers, which was for a fifty-four-hour cumulative week, an actor working less than that time in any one week to be subject to call for his unexpired time in any succeeding week.

This proposal did not meet with the approval of the gathering, and an alternative presented by Sam Hardy and said to be acceptable to the producers was unanimously approved. This is that no maximum number of hours be fixed, but that a twelve-hour rest period be guaranteed between calls.

The producers' and actors' committees will meet tomorrow night to take final action on all the terms of the new contract, which have been worked out, and which were read to the assemblage last night. It is understood that the new contract will be put into effect only for a six months' trial period and at the end of that time there will be further discussions as to whether it should be continued or amended.

It was announced last night also that the producers have agreed to put an eight-hour day into effect for all actors who are hired to work by the day.

Suspect Hurt in Crash as He Tries to Flee

Struck and injured by an automobile when he is asserted to have attempted to flee after breaking into the home of Rev. Angelo Hamilton, 318 South Ford Boulevard, Sunday night, Arlet Hillan, alias James Ramsey, 22 years of age, is being held in the prison ward of the General Hospital on a charge of burglary.

Hillan was struck on Ford Boulevard by an automobile driven by H. C. Smith, 452 Marguerite street, while being pursued by Mr. Hamilton and two boys who joined him in the chase, J. Besel, 4453 East Fourth street, and Sam Fourner, 4448 Grattian street. Hillan suffered a possible fractured leg and minor injuries.

Hillan is asserted to have torn off a screen and entered the minister's home while Mr. Hamilton was at a church next door. He was discovered under a bed on the second floor and during a struggle with the minister broke away and fled.

CITY BUREAU REPORTS HOMELESS MEN CASES

The total applicants referred for aid to the Municipal Service Bureau for Homeless Men during January was 1605, including 1250 new applicants, according to the monthly report of the Social Service Bureau yesterday. The recurrents totaled 355. The total for December was 1474. For January, 1929, the total was 528, an increase of 204 per cent, according to the bureau. The applicants were referred by thirty charitable organizations for the purpose of having the bureau pass on their qualifications for aid. The bureau, in turn, referred them to thirty-five charitable organizations for assistance, after approval. The Midnight Mission handled 852 and the county outdoor relief cared for 330 persons.

JEALOUSY OVER GIRL BLAMED FOR STABBING

Jealousy over attentions to a woman is believed by deputy sheriffs to have been the cause of a knife fight Sunday night between David Soto, 26 years of age, and Olive Pantoja, 19. As a result of the fight, which took place near the end of Maple avenue, both men were being held on charges of assault with a deadly weapon. Following emergency treatment, Soto was taken to the prison ward of the General Hospital, suffering from cuts and serious stab wounds in the abdomen, and Pantoja to the County Jail. Deputy Sheriffs Melendres and Morrell are investigating.

OIL AREA WILL BE VIEWED

Council Committee Will Go to Venice Thursday for Inspection of Proposed Drilling Sites

The City Planning Committee of the City Council will make an inspection trip Thursday afternoon over the territory in Venice covered by applications for permits to drill for oil, it was announced by the committee yesterday after conducting a hearing. The recommendations to the Council will follow shortly thereafter.

About 200 persons, practically all of whom own land in the oil territory, attended the session and urged that the permits be granted. An attorney for Lewis Stone, motion-picture actor, and Frances Marion, scenario writer, asked the committee to go slowly with the development.

Councilman Barthel, whose wife, the former Harriet Cleveland, has in an application under her maiden name, hovered over the shoulders of the committee, his colleagues, during the hearing.

The applications, numbering about a dozen, have been recommended by the City Planning Commission, which has about a score more in its files.

Councilman Randall, a member of the committee, said that this morning he will introduce in the Council a resolution declaring that a restriction should be placed in the permits whereby the applicants turn over to the city an amount of oil corresponding to the proportion of ground covered by city streets, estimated at something like a sixth of the whole.

RECALL ROW LOOMS OVER BELL VOTE

Brentwood Improvement Club in Plea to Porter to Veto Cement Permit Plan

Resolutions urging Mayor Porter to veto the measure permitting Alphonso Bell to erect a rock crusher in the Santa Monica Mountains residential area, were adopted unanimously last night at a mass meeting sponsored by the Brentwood Improvement Club at the University High School, West Los Angeles. The resolutions set forth that property owners in the western area of the city regard the industrialization of a strictly residential district as hurtful not only to the property in the immediate vicinity of such a plant, but for the entire city of Los Angeles.

The resolutions further requested the Mayor to urge the City Council to sustain a veto. Walter H. Prier introduced the resolutions at a meeting presided over by Judge E. T. Young, president of the organization.

Councilman Ernest Webster of the Third District, who voted to grant the Bell permit, was criticised by speakers who declared that petitions seeking his recall will be circulated within a few days.

Speakers suggested that the Mayor take an official poll of home-owners of the area on the subject of the rock-crushing plant, to show the overwhelming opposition to it.

Speakers warned that other boulevards in addition to Beverly Boulevard are threatened by the heavy cement trucks if the rock crusher is established there. The informants cited that residents of Beverly Hills had been assured that cement trucks would be diverted from Beverly Boulevard to Wilshire and other important boulevards. Mrs. Morrison stated that Beverly Boulevard was not constructed to bear heavy traffic of fifteen-ton cement trucks.

WHITSETT FORMALLY QUITS JOB

Mayor Gets Resignation of Commissioner but Hears no Word from Haynes

Mayor Porter yesterday received the formal resignation of W. P. Whitsett as a member of the Board of Water and Power Commissioners. The resignation is to take effect at the pleasure of the Mayor, which is expected to be at the time a successor is appointed. Mr. Whitsett retains his position as chairman of the board of the Metropolitan Water District of Southern California.

The Mayor yesterday had not received the resignation, he said, of Dr. John R. Haynes as a Los Angeles member of the water district board. Dr. Haynes plans to retain his position on the Board of Water and Power Commissioners. These resignations will fulfill the Mayor's wish to divorce the personnel of the water district and the commission. Mr. Whitsett, it is understood, has been agreeable to the Mayor's policy, while Dr. Haynes has been hesitant over surrendering either office.

Dick Grace, Air Stunter, Plans to Wed

Four more airplane crack-ups and Dick Grace, the ace of crash artists, will get married.

"That is, if the fourth one doesn't get me," Dick observed.

"But I've survived thirty-four, so what are a few more—or less."

The young lady who intends to wed a reckless husband, and not a wreckless one, is Miss Christine Francis, actress.

Although Grace has known her for eight years he did not propose until he saw her on the lot to witness his thirty-third intentional crash on December 31, 1929. He crashed again just to celebrate the engagement. They plan to be married within three months.

The other four smashes will be made by Grace following a national tour of radio broadcasting stations. He plans to give radio audiences accounts of a few of his many thrilling experiences in crashing airplanes to make motion-picture thrillers.

ASSESSMENTS CONFIRMED

The City Council yesterday confirmed the assessments for the lighting of Moreno avenue from Montana avenue to San Vicente Boulevard, the lighting of Vernon avenue from Arlington avenue to Angeles Mesa Drive, the improvement of Hillcrest Road from Camrose Drive to Frankling avenue, and the improvement of Richland avenue from Cromwell avenue to Los Feliz Boulevard.

Black swans are disappearing from the rivers of Western Australia so rapidly that there are fears that this interesting species may become extinct.

BOND SALES OFFER LEADS TO ONE BID

City Pension Commission Decides to Try Again to Sell School Securities

With only one bid received, and that consisting of an offer of exchange for certain school bonds, the Los Angeles Pension Commission yesterday rejected the offer and at a later date will readvertise to sell $1,571,000 of municipal and school bonds.

The exchange offer came from the Russell Sutherland Company of Los Angeles, which tendered $226,000 of Riverside County Water District No. 1 bonds, bearing 7 per cent interest, for a similar amount of school district bonds held by the pension board, and bearing 5 per cent interest.

The company was prepared to pay a premium of $1.40 in order that the board would not be selling the bonds at a loss.

The bonds sought by the company consist of $40,000 of Beverly Hills, $68,000 of Burbank city (school,) $31,000 of Burbank High, $54,000 of Downey Union High and $33,000 of Huntington Park High School district bonds.

The board set no date for readvertising the bonds but announced it would depend on the conditions of the bond market.

It seeks to dispose of its municipal and school bonds bearing 5 per cent interest and reinvest the money in Los Angeles street improvement bonds, bearing 7 per cent interest, in order to add to the fire and police pension fund.

STREET FUND SOUGHT

The Board of Public Works yesterday asked the City Council to appropriate $1957 so the board may go ahead with the plans for improving Glendale Boulevard in a 300-foot stretch at Effie street. The request was referred to the Public Works Committee.

BANDITS IGNORE PASSERSBY

Two hold-up men robbed a Gallen Kamp shoe store at 320½ South Broadway yesterday afternoon while throngs of persons were passing in plain view. Entering the place when Gaston Escobar and a clerk were waiting on two customers, the bandit pair aimed revolvers at the four. The robbers, who were well dressed men 40 years of age, took $150 and walked out, vanishing in the crowd.

Bribery Trial Arguments Will be Made Today

Testimony was closed in the trial of M. B. Sheffield, Roscoe C. Washington and Richmond Dunn, former Los Angeles police officers charged with bribery, when Superior Judge Emmet Wilson adjourned court last night.

Today William MacKay will open arguments to the jury. Tom White, defense attorney, is expected to follow him. E. J. Dennison, the other deputy District Attorney prosecuting the case, will make the closing prosecution argument.

The closing phase of the trial was given over to lengthy testimony by Sheffield who denied in detail the charges by Sebe Hendricks that he had accepted a bribe.

Baby Born to Film Writer

Friends of Lenore Coffey, scenarist, learned yesterday that the arrival of a baby son on Sunday has interrupted her writing. The announcement was made yesterday by her husband, William Cowen, the director, who said the newcomer was eight pounds and three ounces upon arrival and has a full head of dark hair. He was named Garry William Cowen because Cowen was a captain and adjutant of the Fort Garry Horse, Canadian Cavalry, during the World War.

Garry William was born at the home of his parents, 6740 Milner Road, with Dr. Norman Williams attending. The Cowens also have a daughter, Antonia, 3 years of age. Miss Coffey expects to resume her interrupted story in about four weeks.

Four Million Volt Death Ray Shown in Films

Demonstrations of a new death ray that kills at 200 miles are shown in motion pictures in this week's issue of the Times-Universal Newsreel at many important Southern California theaters. The 4,000,000-volt ray is said to be potent enough to destroy an army, and was demonstrated for the newsreel camera at San Francisco. At the same time, views of the meeting of the naval conference delegates at London, are shown.

Milton Sills to Give Film Talk

Milton Sills, motion-picture actor, is announced as the lecturer at the opening of the spring course in motion-picture appreciation at 3:15 p.m. tomorrow in Porter Hall, University of Southern California law school building. The class will use material so new that it will be presented in mimeographed sheets. This material was assembled by the Trojan university in conjunction with the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences, and is to be issued later in textbook form.

Speakers at later Wednesday afternoon lectures of this course include Dr. Karl T. Waugh and W. Ray MacDonald of the Trojan faculty, Dr. Hugo Reisenfeld, William C. De Mille, Sid Grauman, William Le Baron, Hobart Bosworth, Karl Struss and H. G. Knox.

rise Head and Shoulders above all his Famous Former Roles—

— in the tensest dramatic masterpiece of

VITAPHONE

Art and science keep step in seven-league strides of progress in "Son of the Gods".

Never has the superb dramatic skill of Richard Barthelmess reached such peaks of compelling power . . .

And Vitaphone marks its greatest technical advance to date in production and reproduction!

With the tenderness of "Tol'able David", the exotic beauty of "Broken Blossoms", the sweep and power of "The Patent Leather Kid", and the humanness of "Weary River", "Son of the Gods" is all Dick Barthelmess' best roles rolled into one.

Tense as the clash of the two strangely contrasting worlds it pictures, is the conflict of emotions in this unique romance.

Can true love find a way—across the line that severs East from West?—What happens when a daughter of wealth falls in love with a son of mysterious gods?—And what was the sinister secret that made a society beauty horsewhip her millionaire fiancé?

These startling questions and their equally startling answers made "Son of the Gods" the greatest of all Rex Beach's great best-sellers. Now, filmed by Vitaphone and First National on a pretentious scale, with magnificent scenes in Technicolor, it becomes unquestionably the greatest picture of Barthelmess' great career. See it . . . or be sorry!

"SON OF THE GODS"

Lavish society scenes on the Riviera . . . Weirdly wonderful Oriental spectacle in full natural COLOR . . . The smart set at play on the polo field and in gilded gambling halls . . . Such is the swiftly shifting background of one of the strangest stories Vitaphone has ever told.

And lovely Constance Bennett, the screen's new beauty prize, heads the perfect supporting cast of this First National production.
